

Science, research, and empirical facts are under attack.

It's time to speak up.

Join us for the Lansing

March for Science

Earth Day ♦ April 22, 2017

1 pm ♦ Capitol Building

The March for Science is an international movement led by people who value science and believe that the current political climate of science denial, defunding, gag orders and “alternative” facts is dangerous not only to science, but to the earth and all life on it. On April 22 – Earth Day – individuals around the globe will march to make our concerns known and begin a sustained effort to defend the sciences and our planet.

In addition to marching, you can support this important movement in the following ways:

Donate A march like this requires equipment and services, and your in-kind or cash donations are critical. Donate $$ online at: <https://www.gofundme.com/march-for-science-lansing>
For in-kind donations, email us at: scientistsmarchonlansing@gmail.com

Buy a Shirt Three official designs are available*:

<http://www.bonfire.com/march-for-science-lansing/>

<http://www.bonfire.com/march-for-science-lansing2/>

<https://www.bonfire.com/march-for-science-lansing-3/>

* These are the official tee shirts, others you might see are knock-offs & won't support the March for Science.

Volunteer Have your organization do a “teach in” or a children’s activity booth. Not only will you show the public how important science is, but you’ll engage and educate potential supporters. Contact scientistsmarchonlansing@gmail.com for more details and to get involved.

Spread the Word! Facebook, Twitter, Newsletters, Email Blasts, posting flyers - help us spread the word any way you can. Here's our information:

Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/MarchForScienceLansing/>

Twitter: @ScienceMarchLAN

Reddit: /r/MarchforScienceMI

Email: scientistsmarchonlansing@gmail.com