Technical & Tactical

Offensive:

- Comfortable using both feet and calm under pressure
- Ball retention is good as every pass was made with thought and would not risk losing possession with unnecessary passes.
- Made 1st time passes, progressive passes through the lines and out wide looking to open up the opposition
- End product provided good low crosses from wide positions and 1 volley that was off target from inside the box
- Played as a CDM, maintaining position well, occasionally joining attacks

Defensively:

- Drops into his own box to cover open spaces and add extra protection.
- Scans over his shoulder regularly keeping markers within distance at all times
- Gets close to markers, making well timed tackles also applying pressure
- Gets good distance on headed clearances

Physical

- Is aggressive when going into tackles and trigger pressing
- Has good stamina, endurance and work rate covering a lot of ground
- Athletic and strong in holding players off also showing good acceleration by driving into open space
- Shows quick reaction to get to loose balls/anticipate danger well
- Is not quick so falls behind the play when on defensive duties when higher up the pitch, his short distance speed is good

Mental

- Is passionate (This could be a bad thing as he got booked for showing signs of frustration, resulting in picking up his 7th booking of the season)
- Hardworking and his level of commitment is good throughout all stages of the game
- Is brave in going into ground duels and competing in 50/50 balls

Conclusion

A very good technical performance both on and off the ball, with a strong performance in other areas of his game aswell. Markhiev has the qualities to play at a high level, I think a few more years of developing at this level getting regular 1st team football will benefit him. My doubts over him are he wears his heart on his sleeve so he will have to learn to control his emotions if he is to fulfil his potential.
