Stance/Hit Approach: Wider, upright, closed off stance with front foot facing in. Vertical bat and a slight hand pump. Small leg kick load, Level bat path with some loft at the end. Swing gets long at times and is more rotational than handsy. Fast hands and present bat speed.

Physical Description: Tall, angular build with muscle and long levers. Athletic looking kid - broad shoulders with a tapered torso, narrow waist, room to add strength as

ML Comparison:

Category	Present	Future	Comments
Hitting Ability *	30	40	Has a difficult time consistently making contact, but when he does it's quality contact. Strength and bat speed in rotational, upper body swing
Plate Discipline	35	40	Will take his walks occasionally but there is some S/M concern - K rate consistently in mid-high 20s and went up as he moved to AA. Will ne
Power Frequency *	30	45	Will most likely hit more doubles than home runs. Generates bat speed but will need to touch the ball more to translate to in-game power
Raw Power	55	60	Best bullets have backspin, sound coming off the bat is exciting, power to CF with 107.5 being one of his better EV. Definite thump and room
Running Speed *	50	50	4.2 down the line, runs with intent
Base Running	50	50	Will swipe a bag here and there. Good enough instincts and athleticism not to clog the bases.
Arm Strength *	60	60	Best throws are on-line and have carry, present arm strength to stick in RF. Hits cutoff with quick release. Arm plays
Arm Accuracy	50	50	Throws looked on target, good transfer. Stays on top of the ball
Fielding *	45	50	Actions in RF looked fluid, no errors in RF in almost 300 innings in 2025. Has body control
Range	45	50	Range looked average in my look - speed won't be a hinderance on range, has the range to be a functional RF
Baseball Instincts	45	50	Still young and learning but plays eagerly and is a gamer. Has instincts on the bases and in the field
Aggressiveness	50	50	Hustles out of the box, plays the game well

Summation: 6'3, 215 lb athletic future utility/fourth outfielder with a plus arm that will play in right field. More contact/power against RHP, could platoon. Lack of contact is what will prevent him from being an everyday big leaguer. Strikeout rate historically sits mid-high 20s, so there is swing-and-miss concern. IZ s/m went up on fb in AA. Strong avg raw with present strength and room to add more. Present bat speed and fast hands apparent - line drives jump off bat with backspin in BP. Run tool isn't a hinderance on his range, he gets to what he needs to get to. Makes the routine plays look routine in the field. Hustler and a gamer.
