

Outdoor Kitchen Contractors in Willow Grove, PA

The at-home entertainment trend started indoors with home entertainment centers and movie night rooms. In the last five years, it expanded to the outdoor space. What was once a hangout in patios and decks has become a kitchen, dining, and entertainment venue. When outdoor kitchens were introduced in Willow Grove, they shook up the bland and basic outdoor space, adding a fun, inviting, and laid-back atmosphere that brings people together.

Outdoor Kitchen Features We Offer in Willow Grove, PA

The outdoor kitchen is one enhancement we add to spice up decks, patios, and backyard spaces. What started with a barbecue grill flourished into a workstation and grew into a fully functional kitchen. Bringing the kitchen element outdoors has advantages such as decreased indoor cleanup, increased resale value, and more freedom to experiment with recipes.

All outdoor kitchens have a cooking range or barbecue grill, seating, and a countertop/worktop as the base, but it can be as extensive as you want. Consider adding the following.

- a sink
- a fire pit or outdoor fireplace
- an outdoor refrigerator
- an ice maker
- a trash bin
- a pantry
- storage space
- a wine cooler or kegerator
- a pizza oven or outdoor wall oven
- an exhaust fan or range hood for ventilation
- a pergola or roof

The outdoor kitchen features we offer in Willow Grove, PA go beyond the functional versions. We focus on decorative touches to make prep, cleanup, and storage access easier. We furnish several countertop and cabinetry materials in assorted colors, metallics, textures, sizes, and styles to match or complement your home design. We offer handles in various sizes, colors, and finishes for a firm grip that opens and closes at your pace. Our design team will discuss more features not listed here (a television, landscaping, etc.) to make sure everything is to your liking.

Our Outdoor Kitchen Installation Process

We do not build an outdoor kitchen until we find a suitable spot. A contractor will survey the home's exterior from front to back to find space. We discuss your options, and you choose the best route.

If we find space, but the area needs work, we will prepare it for deck construction in Glenside, PA. This will provide a solid, sturdy spot for your outdoor kitchen. Since the deck will take time to construct, it will give you extra time to perfect your outdoor kitchen design.

If you already have a lovely deck, patio, or backyard space, the contractor will inspect it thoroughly to confirm its durability and safety. A deck builder in Willow Grove, PA will then repair all cracks, dents, chips, and holes before concentrating on the outdoor kitchen.

Our outdoor kitchen installation process starts with assembling a team, requesting Willow Grove permits, ordering the appliances and materials, and reviewing the blueprint you created with the designer. We unpack and install the base at the designated area. Next, we unpack and assemble the pre-cut frames for the doors, drawers, countertops, and appliances. The frames also attach to the base so it doesn't move. Then, we install any drawers or storage space. We unpack and attach the countertop pieces afterward. The final step is installing the appliances and adding the finishing material in the spots between them.

The outdoor kitchen contractors in Willow Grove, PA will contact plumbers and electricians in our network to add water pipes, gas lines, and lighting to the space. Roofers may be necessary to build a deck roof, awning, or pergola above the area. We will inspect and test the kitchen for issues and fix them. We also dispose of the packaging and other trash from the property. Furthermore, we will explain how to clean and maintain the kitchen and protect it from the elements.

There is no spot too small, large, or awkward to fit an outdoor kitchen, and no kitchen design too complex for us to navigate with precision. We'll insert outdoor kitchens on second-story decks, roof decks, and sunrooms/solariums. We have the resources and knowledge to construct a magnificent outdoor kitchen your family will love.
