

Traveling to Pemba Island, Tanzania and Get motorbike training.

- Broaden my understanding of the world and my social and cultural styles.
- Had the chance to interact with individuals from various backgrounds and develop my social and communication skills.
- The fact that I can see the gorgeous sunset from Pemba Island's beach is what matters most.
- At the age of 18, I want to experience freedom and the rush that comes from speed.

R e
a d i n g
s

Internships at a pet funeral, interment service and a bridal shop and be a Counselor's assistant

- To better comprehend and tend to the emotional needs of others, develop my empathy and sympathy.
- Assist people in overcoming emotional challenges, offer comfort and support, etc.
- Comprehending the significance of pets to humans and the emotional bond between people and animals, enables me to assist clients in resolving their emotional problems.
- Improve problem-solving skills, including how to deal with special situations and problems of clients, such as how to deal with family problems and psychological disorders.
- Be able to understand the emotional needs of clients and provide appropriate comfort and support.
- These experiences can help me to better handle clients' emotional problems and improve their emotional intelligence.
- Exposure to many types of real examples would help people better grasp the various mental health problems and diseases.
- Have the chance to connect with other therapists, doctors, and other related professions.