Camiel Neghli is a left footed right winger who likes to receive to feet, beat his man and create a yard for a cross. He's a good crosser and a tricky dribbler with enough flair to get out of tight spaces, and he has decent pace to carry it down the line or shift inside onto his left. The biggest positive in his profile is the defensive side of his game: he puts tackles in, makes interceptions and blocks, and he's a good dueller for a wide player so he doesn't get exposed when teams target his side. The step for him is turning more of his good wide work into consistent end product, especially adding more threat in and around the box.
