Beni Mukendi is a lively, aggressive midfield runner who plays with a lot of energy and covers ground well. He's at his best when the game is open and he is pressing, getting into duels, winning second balls and then driving forward to link the next phase. He'll carry it through traffic and he's not scared of contact, but he can be a bit hectic at times, so the key next step for him is slowing his game down when he needs to, cleaning up his decision-making in possession, and making his final pass a bit more consistent. If you use him as an 8 in a high-intensity side, he gives you legs, bite and progression from midfield.
