Overview

I work as a freelance journalist and editor for print and online media, writing and editing books, magazines and business, travel, food, health and fitness content.

Experience

2015 to present      Contract writer for the South Carolina Department of Parks, Recreation & Tourism

I produce four travel/food features per month for the website, Discover South Carolina, and write the food content for the annual South Carolina Visitors Guide.

2017 to present      Editor-proofreader, Warren Publishing Company

I edit and proofread manuscripts for this hybrid publishing firm based in Charlotte, NC.

2016 to present      Contract journalist for Pulitzer-prize winning newspaper, Post & Courier, in Charleston, SC

I write about national crime, business and political issues affecting the state of South Carolina

2014 to 2015      Contract book reviewer for IndieReader

I read and reviewed books (fiction and non-fiction titles) for IndieReader. Each review was completed within a specified deadline and written following the style format of IndieReader.

2009 to 2013      Contractor for Demand Media Inc.

Senior editing duties included fact checking, rewriting and providing writing instruction to new writers. Writing duties included creating original content for a variety of websites on the topics of health, law, nutrition, education, fitness and travel. As content auditor, I reviewed and updated previously published content for six websites.

2000-2009      Media General Inc.

Florence, SC

Staff journalist and features editor

Supervised a team of staff writers, photographers and freelancers.

Developed and served as managing editor of a monthly regional women's magazine, "InnerViews," published by company, Media General, Inc. Circulation 35,000.

Executed and directed content, design and layout for community news, health, food, religion, lifestyles and arts & entertainment using QuarkXPress and Adobe InDesign CS3. I was responsible for overseeing the content of five bloggers; this included posting content, adding images and applying basic html codes.

Wrote features and book reviews for arts & entertainment, health, travel & food, religion and lifestyles sections.

Developed and edited a weekly arts and entertainment tabloid, "Eight Days a Week," which provided information about regional happenings.

2011 to 2013 Contractor for global marketing firm EnVeritas Inc.

Developed marketing content for the websites of magazines Food + Wine and Leisure + Travel

Other freelance work

“EatingWell Magazine” published my article on the re-emergence of the heirloom Bradford watermelon (July/August 2018)

I produced and edited content for the websites of the magazines “Food & Wine” and “Travel + Leisure” and wrote website content for the HandPicked chain of retail stores.
