Our Mission

Our mission is to increase the welfare of cats in Singapore through our 4 pillars which are:

1. Responsible feeding of cats.
2. Rescue, fostering & rehoming of cats
3. TNR (trap-neuter-return) of adult street cats.
4. Medical care for injured and sick street cats.

Achievements

Fostering and Medicals

Despite the challenging circumstances in 2023, we were able to rehome over 250 cats and kittens. All of them were fostered in one of our 50+ foster homes, and received loving care to help raise, treat or socialise them, and be ready to become forever pets.

Project LUNI also provided treatment for 125 stray cats, including wound care, dental surgeries, flue, diarrhoea treatment and even cancer through palliative care (in fostering).

Feeding & TNR

For community cats living outside, we help 20 feeders to feed over 700 cats on a daily basis. Our feeding manager, Malina, ensures responsible feeding and coordinates of the distribution of over 1500kg of food every month to fill their hungry bellies.

One of our main goals is to improve the welfare of street cats by controlling the population. Our TRAP-NEUTER-RETURN program is one of our cornerstones in achieving this goal.

Success Stories

Every single cat we rescue is special, but we would like to highlight a few of our prominent cases:

- Levi: Abandoned at a HDB at 17 years old with severe heart disease. He lived out his remaining weeks in a loving foster home.

-Checkers: Rescued from a hoarding situation and rehomed into a wonderful family.

-Pesto & Penne: Trapped as part of a TNR exercise, they snagged themselves amazing homes!

-Clementine & Pearl: Through dedicated neonatal fosterers, we could even rescue the smallest babies and successfully raise them to be adopted.

Keen in adopting a feline friend?

Hey everyone! Before adopting a cat, please take a moment to read through the information on our page. It covers important details about what to expect and how to provide the best care for your new feline friend. Thanks for your attention and commitment!

Information for adopters

You are considering to adopt a cat! Thanks for considering adoption over buying! Cats are a long-term commitment and can live for up to 20 years. Do your research before adopting. We have listed some important points below, for more detailed information please read the "Information for Adopters" document!

Cat Safety

Your house needs to be cat-safe fence/mesh windows/balconies/doors prior to adoption!

Microchip your cat during sterilization and register the chip with AVS.

Preparation

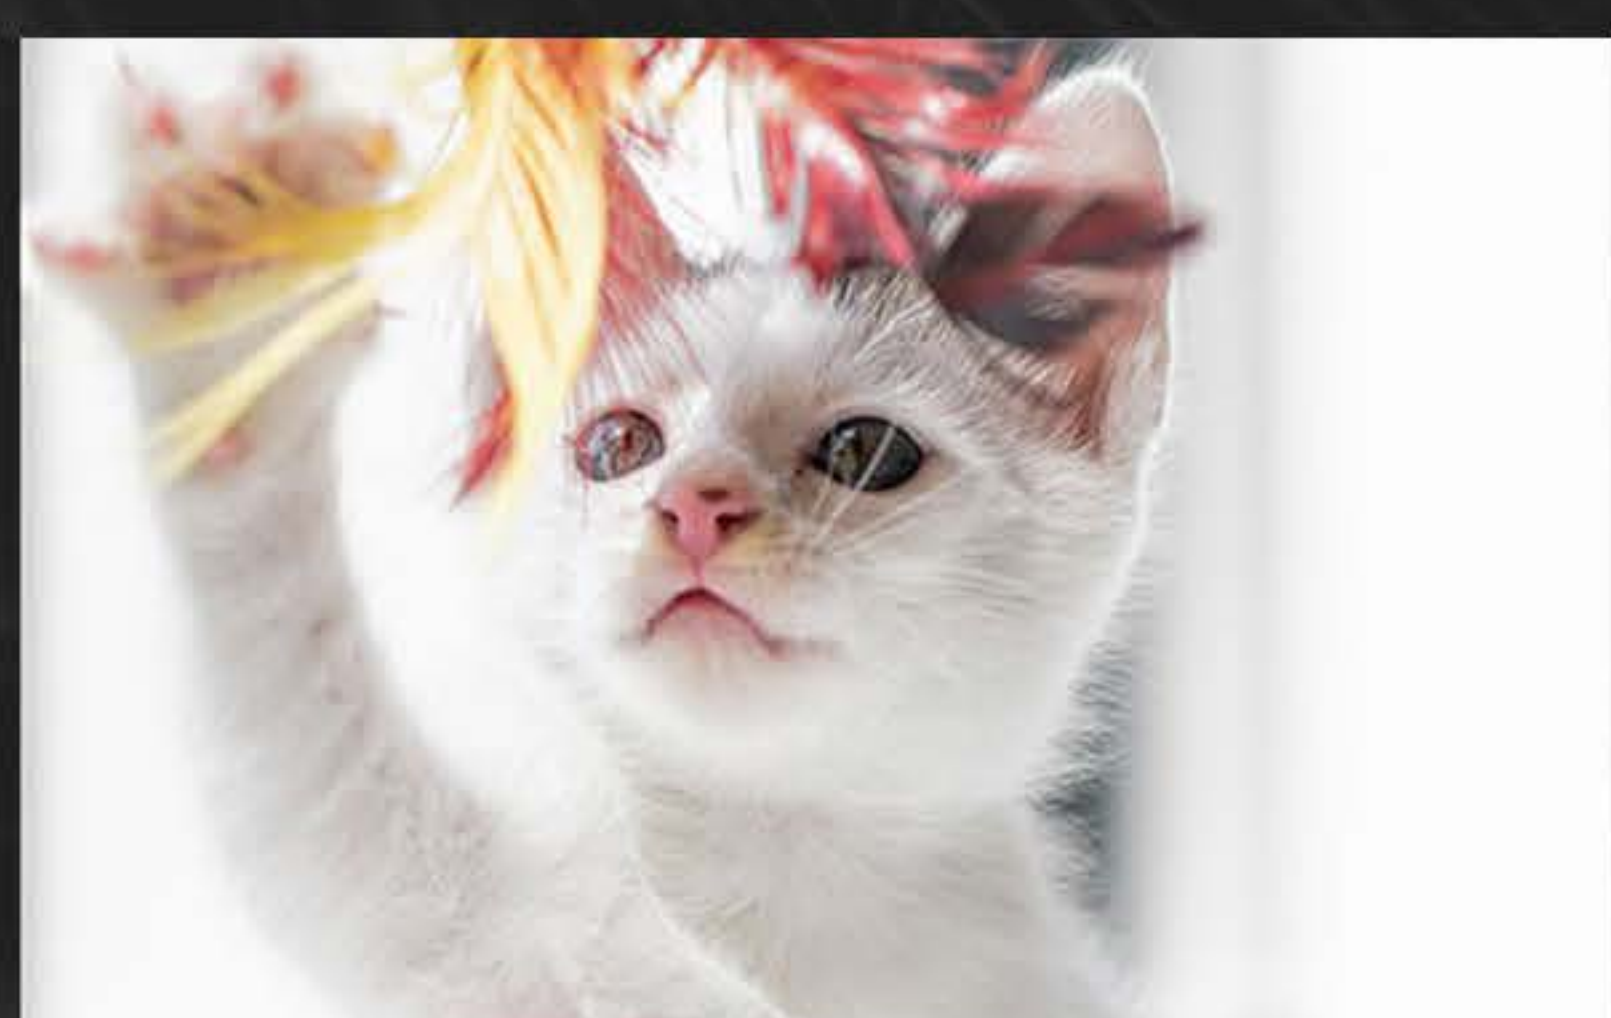

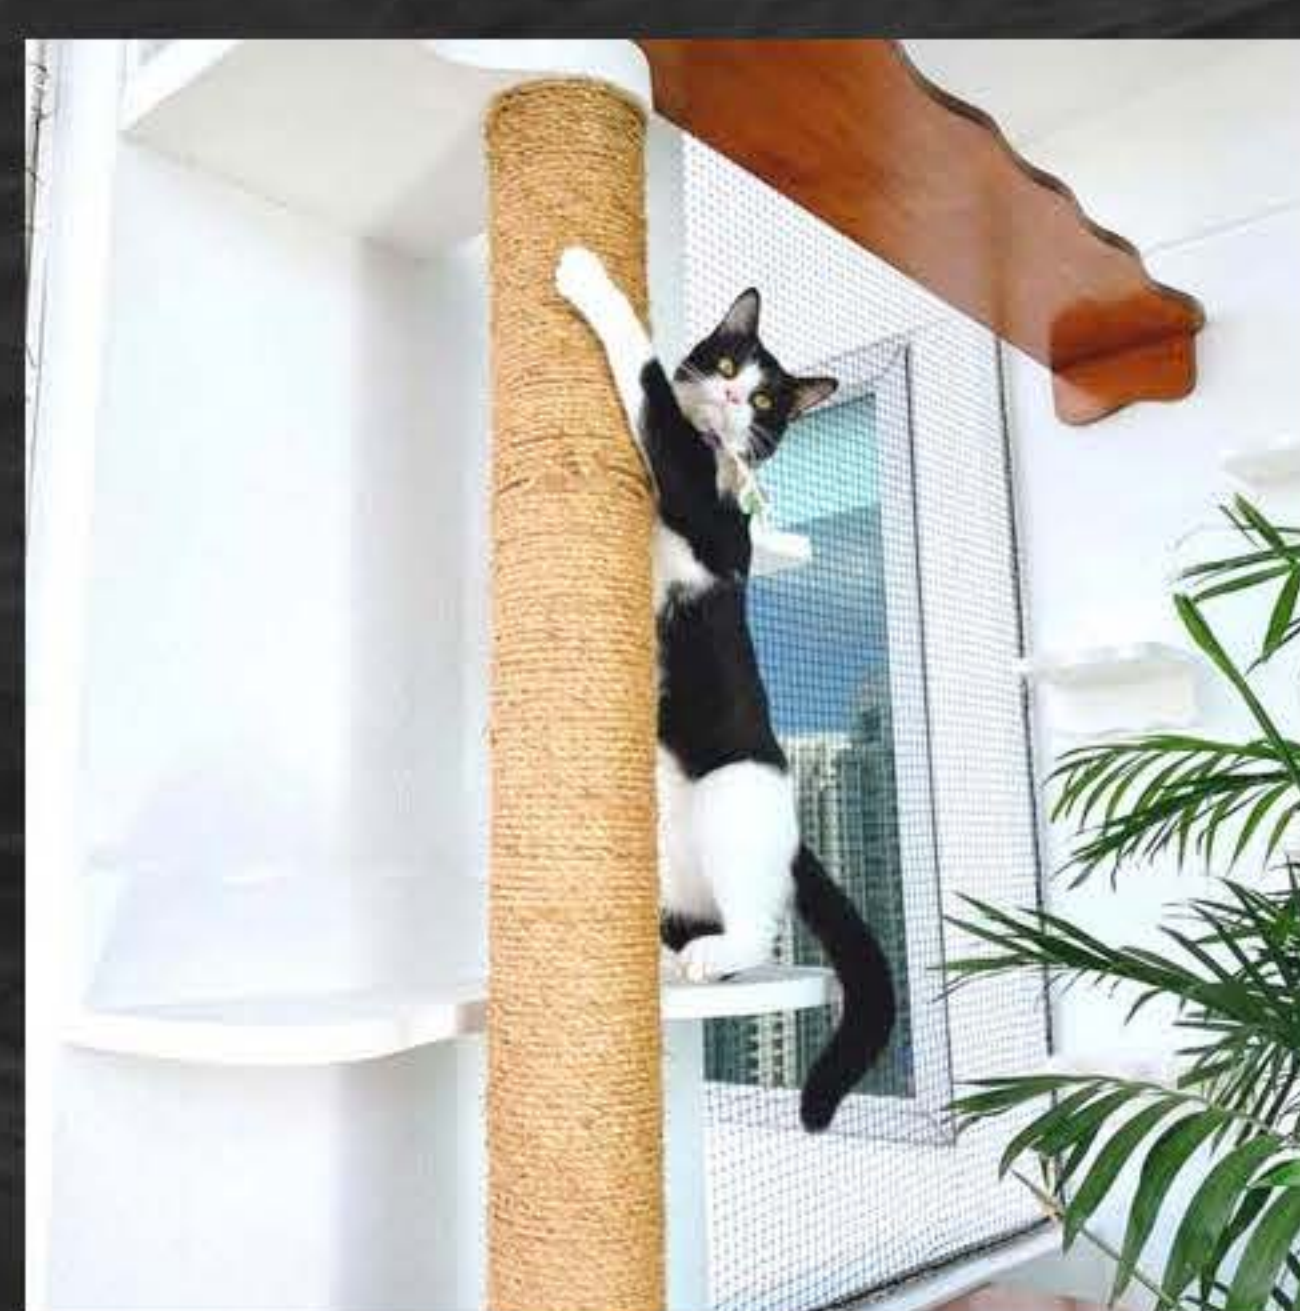

Prepare the basics before your cat's arrival: Food, bowls, litter boxes, litter, scratching tools and sleeping furniture are essential. We can help with recommendations. Prepare ONE room as base camp for your kitten(s)/cat.

Environment

Provide enough space, including vertical space like cat trees, shelves and high scratch posts.

Buy good quality toys and feeding bowls (ceramic or stainless steel).

Prepare enough open litter boxes: # of cats + 1 is the recommendation. Help kitty to adjust by getting the same food & litter as the fosterer used.

Other Cats and Children

If you already have another existing cat: be aware that it rarely works to just "throw them in" together. There are some steps to introduce cats to each other! Click HERE to find out more!

Two are better than one

All our kittens need to be adopted in pairs or into a household with an existing cat (or dog). If you already have a cat, we are happy to give you advice how to integrate the new arrival. Should you wish to adopt only a single cat (maybe due to your apartment size or cost, we will find you a great older kitten (6 months+) or adult cat that is used to living alone.

Food

Nutrition is one of the most important aspects of your cat's health. They are obligate carnivores, meaning that they rely on nutrients found only in prey animals. We recommend raw and freeze dried foods, supplemented with high quality wet food. Kibble should not be their main diet and never be freely available all day.

General treatment

Cats often have very different personalities.
– never force a cat to be held or petted

– never strike a cat or punish it (hitting/yelling) for 'bad' behaviour (scratching, meowing).

Cats need to scratch – and if plenty of scratch posts and boards around they should avoid your furniture. Nail clipping also helps to avoid bad accidental scratches.

Vet and health care

It is crucial to see a vet if your cat is sick as well as for continuing vaccinations, bringing them for their sterilization & microchipping by 5-6 months, yearly check-ups or emergency care etc. You will receive a health record from your kitten's/cat's fosterer, please go through any treatment they have received and what follow ups may be required.

Holidays and Moving

Cats are territorial animals and do not like change. When you travel, the ideal solution is getting a pet or house sitter who can take care of your cats in your home. Check out Paw$shake or Trustedhousesitters.

When adopting your cats, do consider any future move and associated costs!

Adoption fee/donation

On average, fostering a kitten costs 200 – 350 SGD for food, litter, toys, vet checks, vaccination, deworming, vet treatments, possibly sterilization etc, if you can spare more to help us we'd be forever grateful! This also helps us with taking care of over 700 streetcats and providing food, vet care and TNR (trap neuter return) to improve the situation for strays in Singapore!
