

1. Home Page

HELLO! We've been waiting for you. You know how you get that one idea stuck in your head but don't know how to present it. Frustrating, right? If you have an idea that needs a presentation as good as itself, then you're in for a treat!

Bullcolor Films is the solution to all your explainer video needs. Through our intense thinking sessions and a little bit of animation expertise, we can give your idea a script, a story and a hook. Blend that all in with the fun and quirky animations and there you have it! An explainer video that not only gets your idea across but also becomes something you'll play over and over again.

Whatever you need in a video, we can create that for you. And don't worry if you're having a problem explaining your idea. That's what we're here for. We'll understand your requirements and provide you with exactly what you're looking for. We think we've EXPLAINED pretty well what Bullcolor Films is all about, right?

2. About Us

Every idea cannot be explained in words. Well, then why not create an animated video out of it, right? Since our niche is animated explainer videos, let us explain who we are. We're a bunch of people with a knack for animations, who got together and poured their creativity into animated videos in 2017. That was how Bullcolor Films came into existence.

Our sole focus is you, your idea and your vision. Creativity knows no bounds and neither should your business. Creating animated masterpieces out of your ideas is what we do every day.

Through a detailed process of scripting, days of work and animations that couldn't be counted on your fingers, we deliver to you the piece you're looking for.

From FMCG to IT and Colgate to Samsung, we've worked them all and maybe we can work on your idea next! A solid idea can easily be turned into a visual treat and that's what our team of professionals aim for. So, leave everything to us and we'll make your vision tell your story the way you want.

3. Why Us

You give us the idea and we'll explain it to the world in a way that sticks. We might seem like animators and designers and yes, professionally we are. But the way we can tell your story, explain your ideas and look awesome while doing it, you'll be convinced we are much more than that.

The way you tell your story is the way you turn a prospect into a client. That is where we come in. No matter what your video need, how intricate your idea is or how complicated it is to explain. We'll brainstorm it and help you get your product across in a fun video that leaves a lasting impression.

A bunch of animation jargon won't do the trick for you and neither would our words on why you should choose us. So, don't take our word for why we are your best option. Head over to our portfolio and testimonials of our happy clients and watch our work speak for us. If that doesn't have you convinced, maybe we have some explaining to do (pun intended).