

don't cross me

survival strats for when you're around railroad tracks

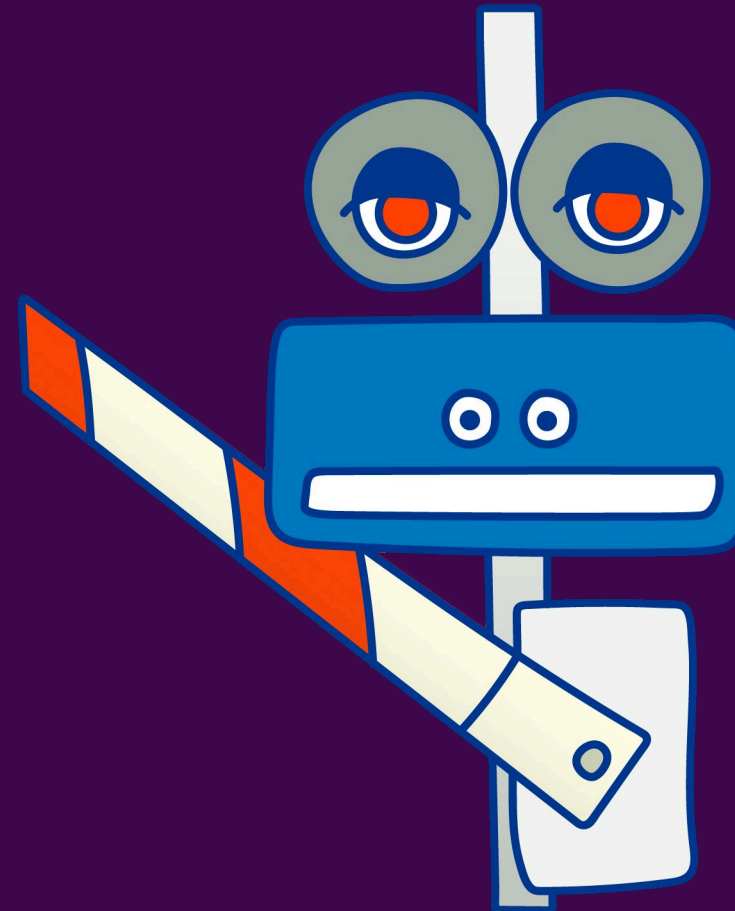

I'm Keo. I'm a train. And you don't want to mess with me. Let's level up your safety game. Because in real life, there are no respawns.

im everywhere

always be ready for me

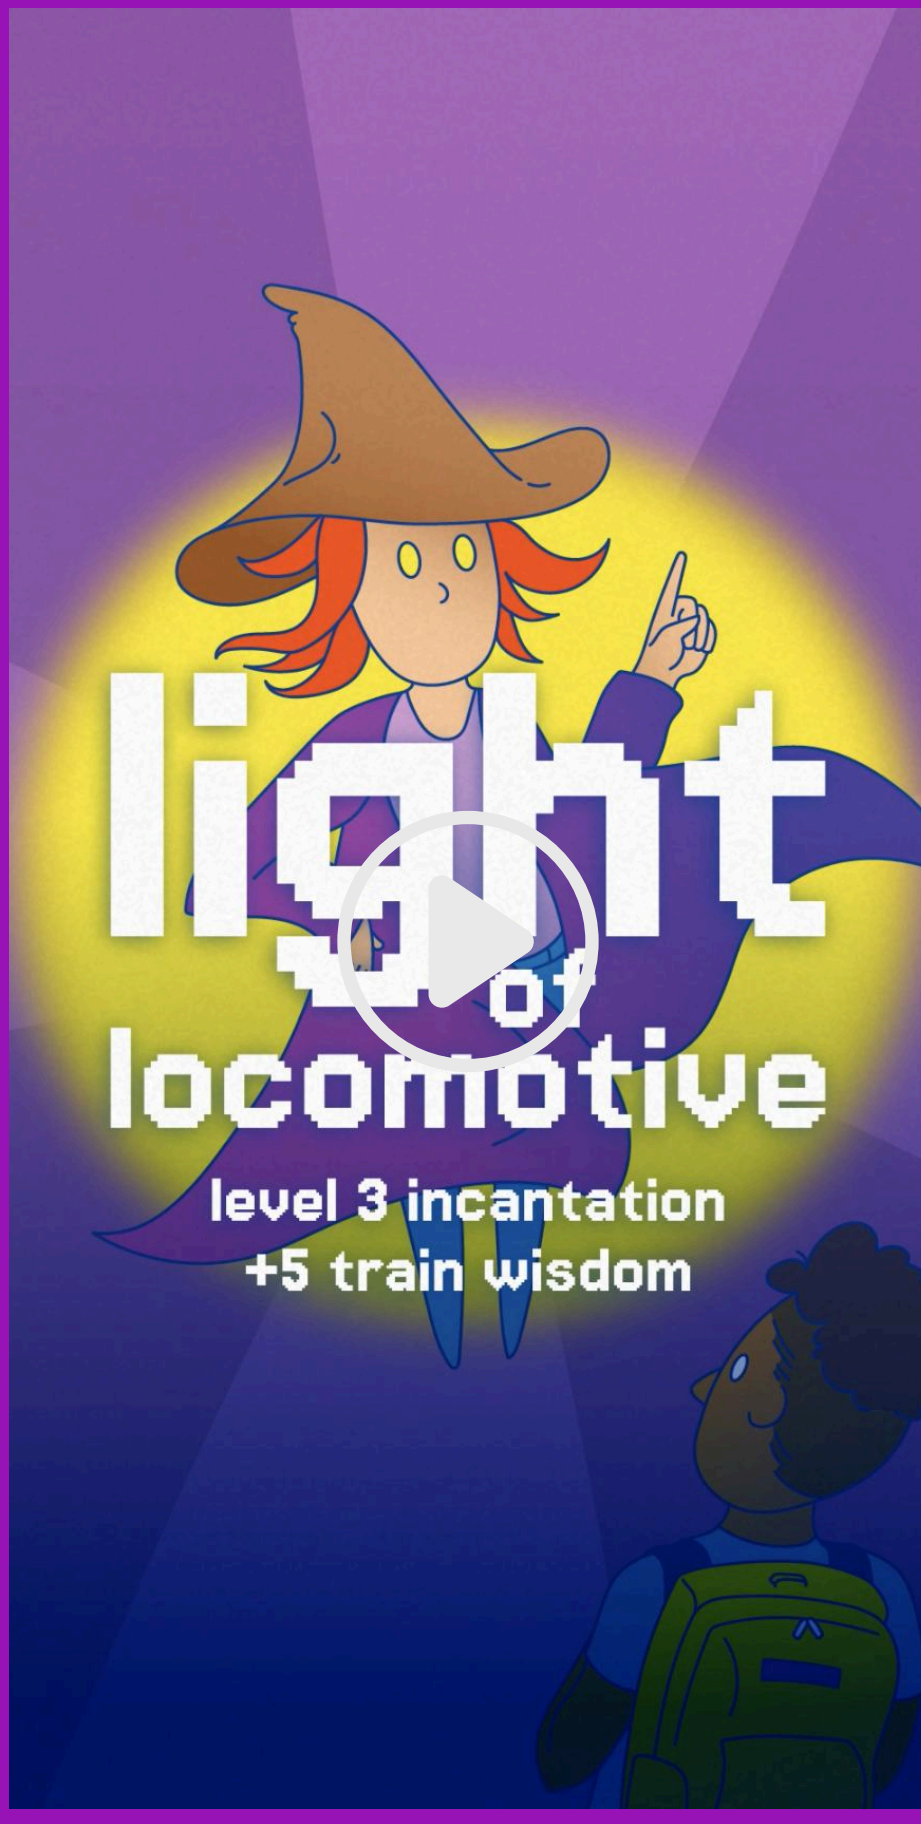

- Trains:
- Can run on any track from either direction
 - Can run any time of day or night
 - Are quiet and fast

+train wisdom

you best git gud, noobs

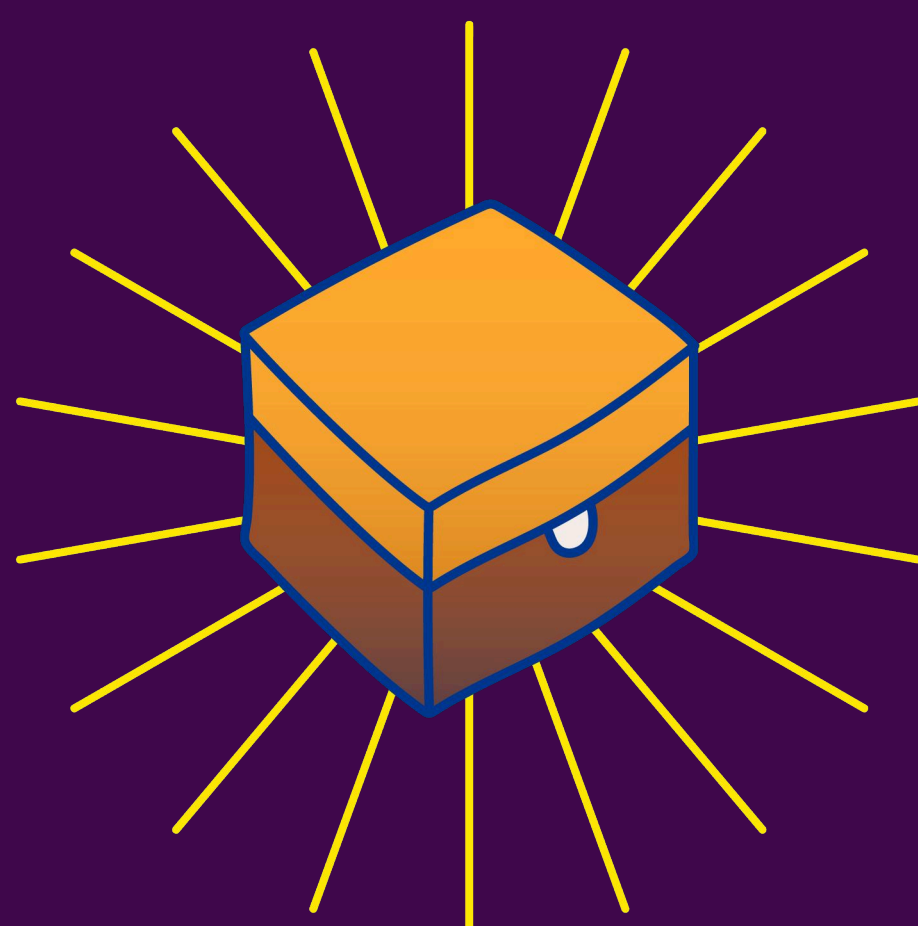

- Cast the Light of Locomotive spell:
- Look up from your phone
 - Remove your headphones
 - Look down the railroad tracks in both directions
 - Wait until any lights have stopped flashing and gates are raised to cross

i give no revives

your life is the most important loot

- Keo's advice:
- Stay 15 feet back from trains even if there are weeds or the track looks unused
 - Find a different hangout spot
 - Take a different shortcut or learn to teleport instead game with me
