

A special message for our frontline colleagues

You have all risen to an enormous and unique challenge lately. Because of your dedication, Canadians with disabilities continue to safely receive crucial services and necessary social contact, and we can't thank you enough.

Neither can your clients.

That's why we put together these videos – they're a way for the people you support to say thanks, and show you how much you matter.

Click here to watch the first video, here for the second, and here for the third.

The work you do has always been vital. COVID-19 is proving that to all of us, whether we live with a disability or not. We hope you know that you're appreciated by your clients and colleagues both. Thank you for everything you do, and enjoy the videos!