

INT. HOME - KITCHEN - AFTERNOON

The kitchen is cozy. There is a table center stage, covered in flour with kitchen tools to the side.

The scene begins with a doorbell ringing.

BAKER opens the door and motions Olivia and PB to come in.

OLIVIA and PB enter the stage.

BAKER

What a lovely surprise! Please come in! I'm just getting ready to do some baking but what can I do for you guys today?

Baker motions the two to enter the stage. PB's cellphone rings.

PB

Ahh I've been waiting for this call. Could you please excuse me? Olivia here has a question she wants to ask you.

PB exits stage with the phone against his ear.

OLIVIA

Hi Genesis, I am on a mission to learn more about Christmas! Could you tell me who Jesus Christ is? I was told that Christmas is for him.

BAKER

Who Jesus is? Why, where do I start? (Baker pauses in thought)

Did you know that he created everything you see?

OLIVIA (with wide eyes)

Everything?

BAKER

Yes, he created all things. He created the world, the stars you see at night, and even created your pet fish!

OLIVIA (puzzled)

What?! But my teacher told me that science created everything..

BAKER

Well not quite... Everything points to a creator.. Here, it's kind of like this..

Beat starts... Bum bum bum

BAKER (singing)

Musical Number/Song 1 - Creation

Sung in a lighthearted, fun tone

In all that I bake I strive to create
Beautiful cookies and treats
To make the heart soar, you'll be asking for more!
Of my wonderful, beautiful bakes

Olivia stares at her confused. Baker smiles knowingly and gestures to the kitchen table where the ingredients are laid out.

Add flour and sugar to serve as the base
Butter and eggs bring it together
Chocolate chips serve as a sweet added taste
Baking soda and powder, plus salt and extract,
Provides texture and space
For these wonderful, beautiful bakes

Baker mixes the bowl for Olivia to see.

In every detail there is purpose
In the way, it holds the recipe
In spectacular ways
Each part of creation has meaning
To hold, and in this mystery
There is God to behold

God made the world before our today
He created both you and me
We're beautiful pieces, part of His creation!
In a wonderful, beautiful way

OLIVIA

So just like you used these different ingredients to make the cookie dough, God made all of creation? Wow!

Would I be able to try some of your cookies?

BAKER

Well that's the thing... I'm still trying to get the recipe right. Everything seems good..

Beat starts again. Bum bum bum

Musical Number/Song 2 - The Fall

Sung with worry and sorrow

But something happened along the way
It can cause the heart to dismay
Hurts to say it, but it's true
That the recipe didn't go through

Chaos and mess-ups flew in through the door
The crack in the floor, made me add in some more
Miscalculated the eggs and I added
One... Two... Three... Four
What else could go wrong? How could I possibly fix
My wonderful, beautiful bakes

Baker brings out a tray of broken cookies

Because
In every detail there is purpose
In the way, it holds the recipe
In spectacular ways
Each part of creation has meaning
To hold, and in this mystery
There is God to behold

In all that I bake I strive to create
Beautiful cookies and treats
But along the way I made my mistakes
I ruined
These wonderful, beautiful bakes

OLIVIA:

So creation is broken just like your cookies? So maybe no cookies today?

BAKER:

Maybe not today. But one day..

Baker picks up a Bible to show to Olivia.

Beat starts again. Bum bum bum.

Musical Number/Song 3 - Restoration

Sung in a hopeful, exciting tone

It's more than just baking, there's more to these sayings

These cookies I had to prepare!

Whilst I was creating there was no mistaking

I definitely needed grace

So Lord now I come, just as I am

With my broken, imperfect bakes

Because of Your love, I know I'm enough

Cos I'm wonderfully, beautifully made

In every detail there is purpose

In the way, God holds the recipe

In spectacular ways

All of creation is singing

Your praise, we're made for worship

We bless Your name!

OLIVIA:

That's amazing! So this Jesus will make everything right again.

BAKER:

Exactly. He has already come and one day will return to make all things new.

OLIVIA:

What do you mean he's already come?

BAKER:

Let me call PB, one of my friends is actually doing a play on Jesus' birth. It'll be great for you to see!

The scene ends with the baker calling PB and escorting Olivia out of the house. Olivia and PB will now move to the next scene.
