

I have been observing the grass outside
 Every clipping, weed, & flower
 Each leaf, bug, and insect
 From the lawn on my side
 But I heard my neighbor watering their side
 So I tip-toed to see across
 The white picket fence
 And from my side, their side
 Looked awfully appealing
 Back & forth I scrutinized
 Each side
 To me, it looks like the other side
 Is greener than this side
 So now I feel green inside.