

WORRY POX

It's a real case, you see.

And it can happen to anybody.

Even you. Even me.

You'll start to spot purple
polka dots scattered across your skin. From your toes

to above your chin.

Extremely itchy, they'll make you twitchy,
you'll think you're being worn thin.

With every worry there is a dot.

Every fret, concern,
and anxious thought.
Comes with a purple spot.
With so deep of an
itch, it's impossible to stop. Then you'll see that you've gone and caught the common

case of worry pox.
