

KOTAHI COASTAL.

Door-to-door ocean delivery.
Now at your service, New Zealand.

AT KOTAHI, WE ARE ON A MISSION TO UNLOCK OPPORTUNITY FOR KIWI BUSINESS.

After 10 years of pioneering new ways of shipping to the world, we are now bringing the innovation home with a door-to-door ocean delivery service up and down the coast of Aotearoa.

WHETHER IT'S PORT TO PORT OR DOOR TO DOOR, KOTAHI CAN HELP YOU.

Kotahi means “standing together as one” and we are proud to partner with Aotearoa’s leading exporters and importers, moving their products around the world to the people who love them.

Founded by Fonterra and Silver Fern Farms in 2011, they recognised that New Zealand needed to create a sustainable, secure export supply chain to become a more competitive export nation.

Now we’ve brought that same bold thinking to open up New Zealand’s domestic freight transportation.

Thanks to the power of our new online platform that puts all nine ports and a network of land freight options at your service, you can now confidently move your products direct from your door to your customer’s door at the time and price that suits you – anywhere in New Zealand.

MORE SIMPLE. MORE STREAMLINED. MORE SUSTAINABLE.

With 15,000 km of coastline right on our doorstep, it just makes sense to move our domestic freight by harnessing the power of the ocean.

Moving goods by sea also reduces congestion on roads and greenhouse emissions, so whether you're shipping one container or 100, coastal is good for you and New Zealand.

BENEFITS OF COASTAL SHIPPING INCLUDE:

Cost effectiveness – balance product between the North and South Island; avoid high per pallet or m3 cost of road/rail

Capacity – make large stock transfers to meet planned customer demands

Agility – redirect stock to locations where direct shipping options are not attractive

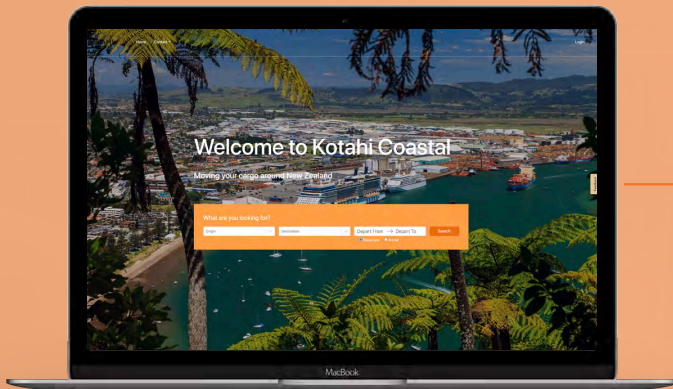

Sustainability – contribute to reducing carbon dioxide emissions

Transporting a single 20-foot container by rail from Auckland to Christchurch emits 70% more CO2 than coastal shipping; trucking emits 340% more CO2.

HUNDREDS OF DESTINATIONS. ONE PORTAL.
