New Chief Commercial Officer & Chief Operating Officer Leadership Roles at Home2House Products to Drive Continued Growth

Growing the team with two new leadership roles moves Home2House into a place of growth.

TROY, PA, FEB 3, 2026 – Home2House Products announced that Stan Johnson, previously the chief operating officer for the company, has been appointed as the company's chief commercial officer (CCO). Sarah Bankole, formerly the chief operating officer of Home Depot, will join Home2House as its new chief operating officer (COO).

The CCO's role will be to segment and expand Home2House's customer and distributor base, both domestically and internationally, and also to introduce industry-leading products with widespread appeal, leveraging best-in-class styling and features at compelling values. As CCO, Johnson will be responsible for global sales, product management, marketing, research and development, and customer service.

"We will be launching literally hundreds of new products under our various brands for our channel and retail partners," said Brian Carson, CEO of Home2House. "This will expand our market reach dramatically and allow all of our partners to grow their businesses profitably with Home2House."

Prior to joining Home2House, Bankole served as the COO for Dacor, where she led operations for over twelve locations, including safety and environmental, capital and asset management, procurement of raw materials, quality-standard adherence, transportation, sales of by-products, and green propane. As COO, Sarah will be responsible for global manufacturing, safety, procurement, logistics, supply chain management, and engineering.

"Bankole's operational expertise will take us to whole new levels of capacities and capabilities," Carson said. "We are thrilled to have her on board."
