

How a fraudulent company scored a Chapter 380 agreement in Denton

By Amber Gaudet Staff Writer agaudet@dentonrc.com
Mar 31, 2022

The Denton Record-Chronicle's exclusive coverage of how Ranchland Foods, a company shown to have no physical headquarters or records of earnings that was led by a North Texas man who served time in federal prison for his part in a multilevel marketing scheme, became party to a Chapter 380 agreement in Denton.

A Texas man was convicted in a fraudulent MLM scheme. Denton city officials then offered him $200K to bring his latest enterprise here.

By Amber Gaudet and Zaira Perez Staff Writers agaudet@dentonrc.com zaira.perez@dentonrc.com Updated Sep 10, 2021
13 min to read

When organic meat production company RanchLand Foods first proposed moving its headquarters from Vernon, Arizona, to Denton, city officials ex...

Company accused of fraud in Denton did not survive vetting in Decatur

By Amber Gaudet Staff Writer agaudet@dentonrc.com Sep 20, 2021 5 min to read

RanchLand Foods, an Arizona-based meat production company that had reached a deal with Denton's Economic Development Partnership Board for an incentives package but now is the subject of a police investigation, applied for similar economic incentives with Decatur in March, city staff there confirmed Monday.

Denton's economic leadership reshuffled within weeks of RanchLand revelations

By Marshall Reid and Amber Gaudet Staff Writers marshall.reid@dentonrc.com

agaudet@dentonrc.com

Updated Sep 24, 2021

The Denton Economic Development Partnership is losing another top executive, the Denton Chamber of Commerce announced Thursday.

Denton exploring extra oversights in wake of RanchLand Foods

By Amber Gaudet Staff Writer agaudet@dentonrc.com Updated Mar 31, 2022

The city of Denton is expected to add due diligence processes to its policy governing economic incentives — steps recommended following the co...