Echoes of a New Dawn (2019)

Black Gangrene Productions · 2019

“Echoes of a New Dawn” is the second demo from the enigmatical entity called Obsidian Dawn, a natural successor to last year’s debut release in its obscure brand of Black Metal engraved in the past forgotten. Sepulchral guitar riffs and maniacal vocals sustain an overall grisly and raw sound which carries the essence of true ancestral evilness drenched in blood and hatred.

Atmospheric and visceral in equally intense measures, “Echoes of a New Dawn” invokes the ancient mysteries with the piercing use of keyboards raising its aura to a further level of greatness.
