

LIGHT SHOW

WHETHER IT'S A STARRY NIGHT OR AN EARLY SUMMER MORNING, OKLAHOMA'S
SKIES ARE ALWAYS A SIGHT TO BEHOLD.

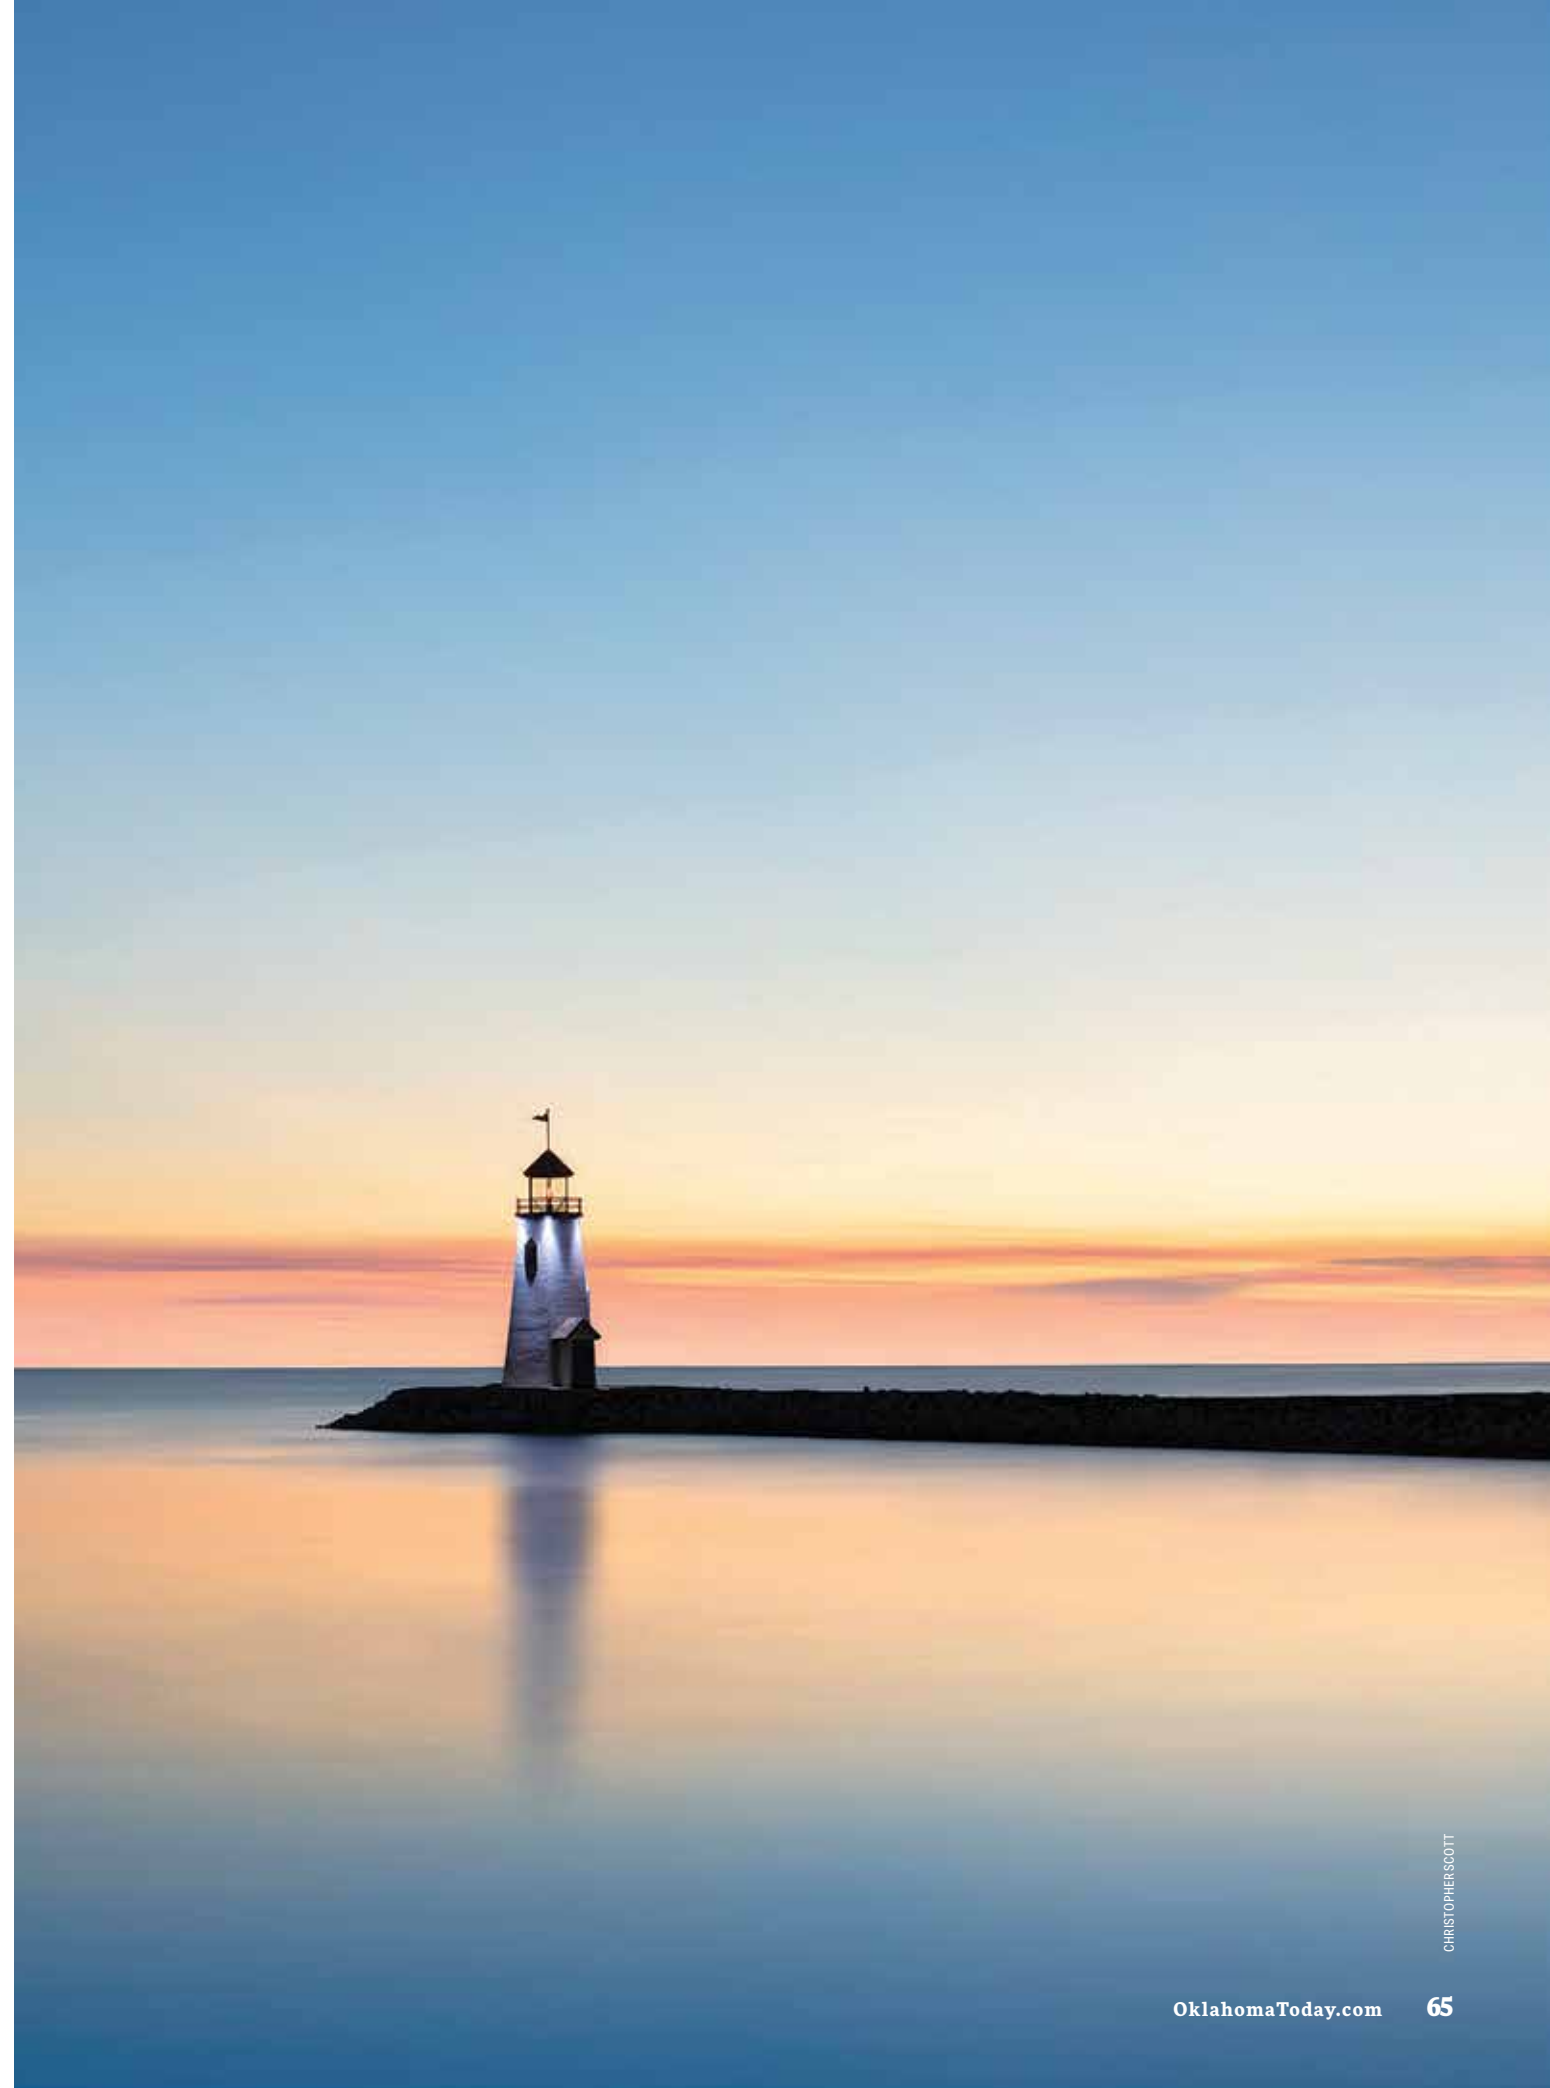

CURATED BY MEGAN ROSSMAN

DAVID HARDY

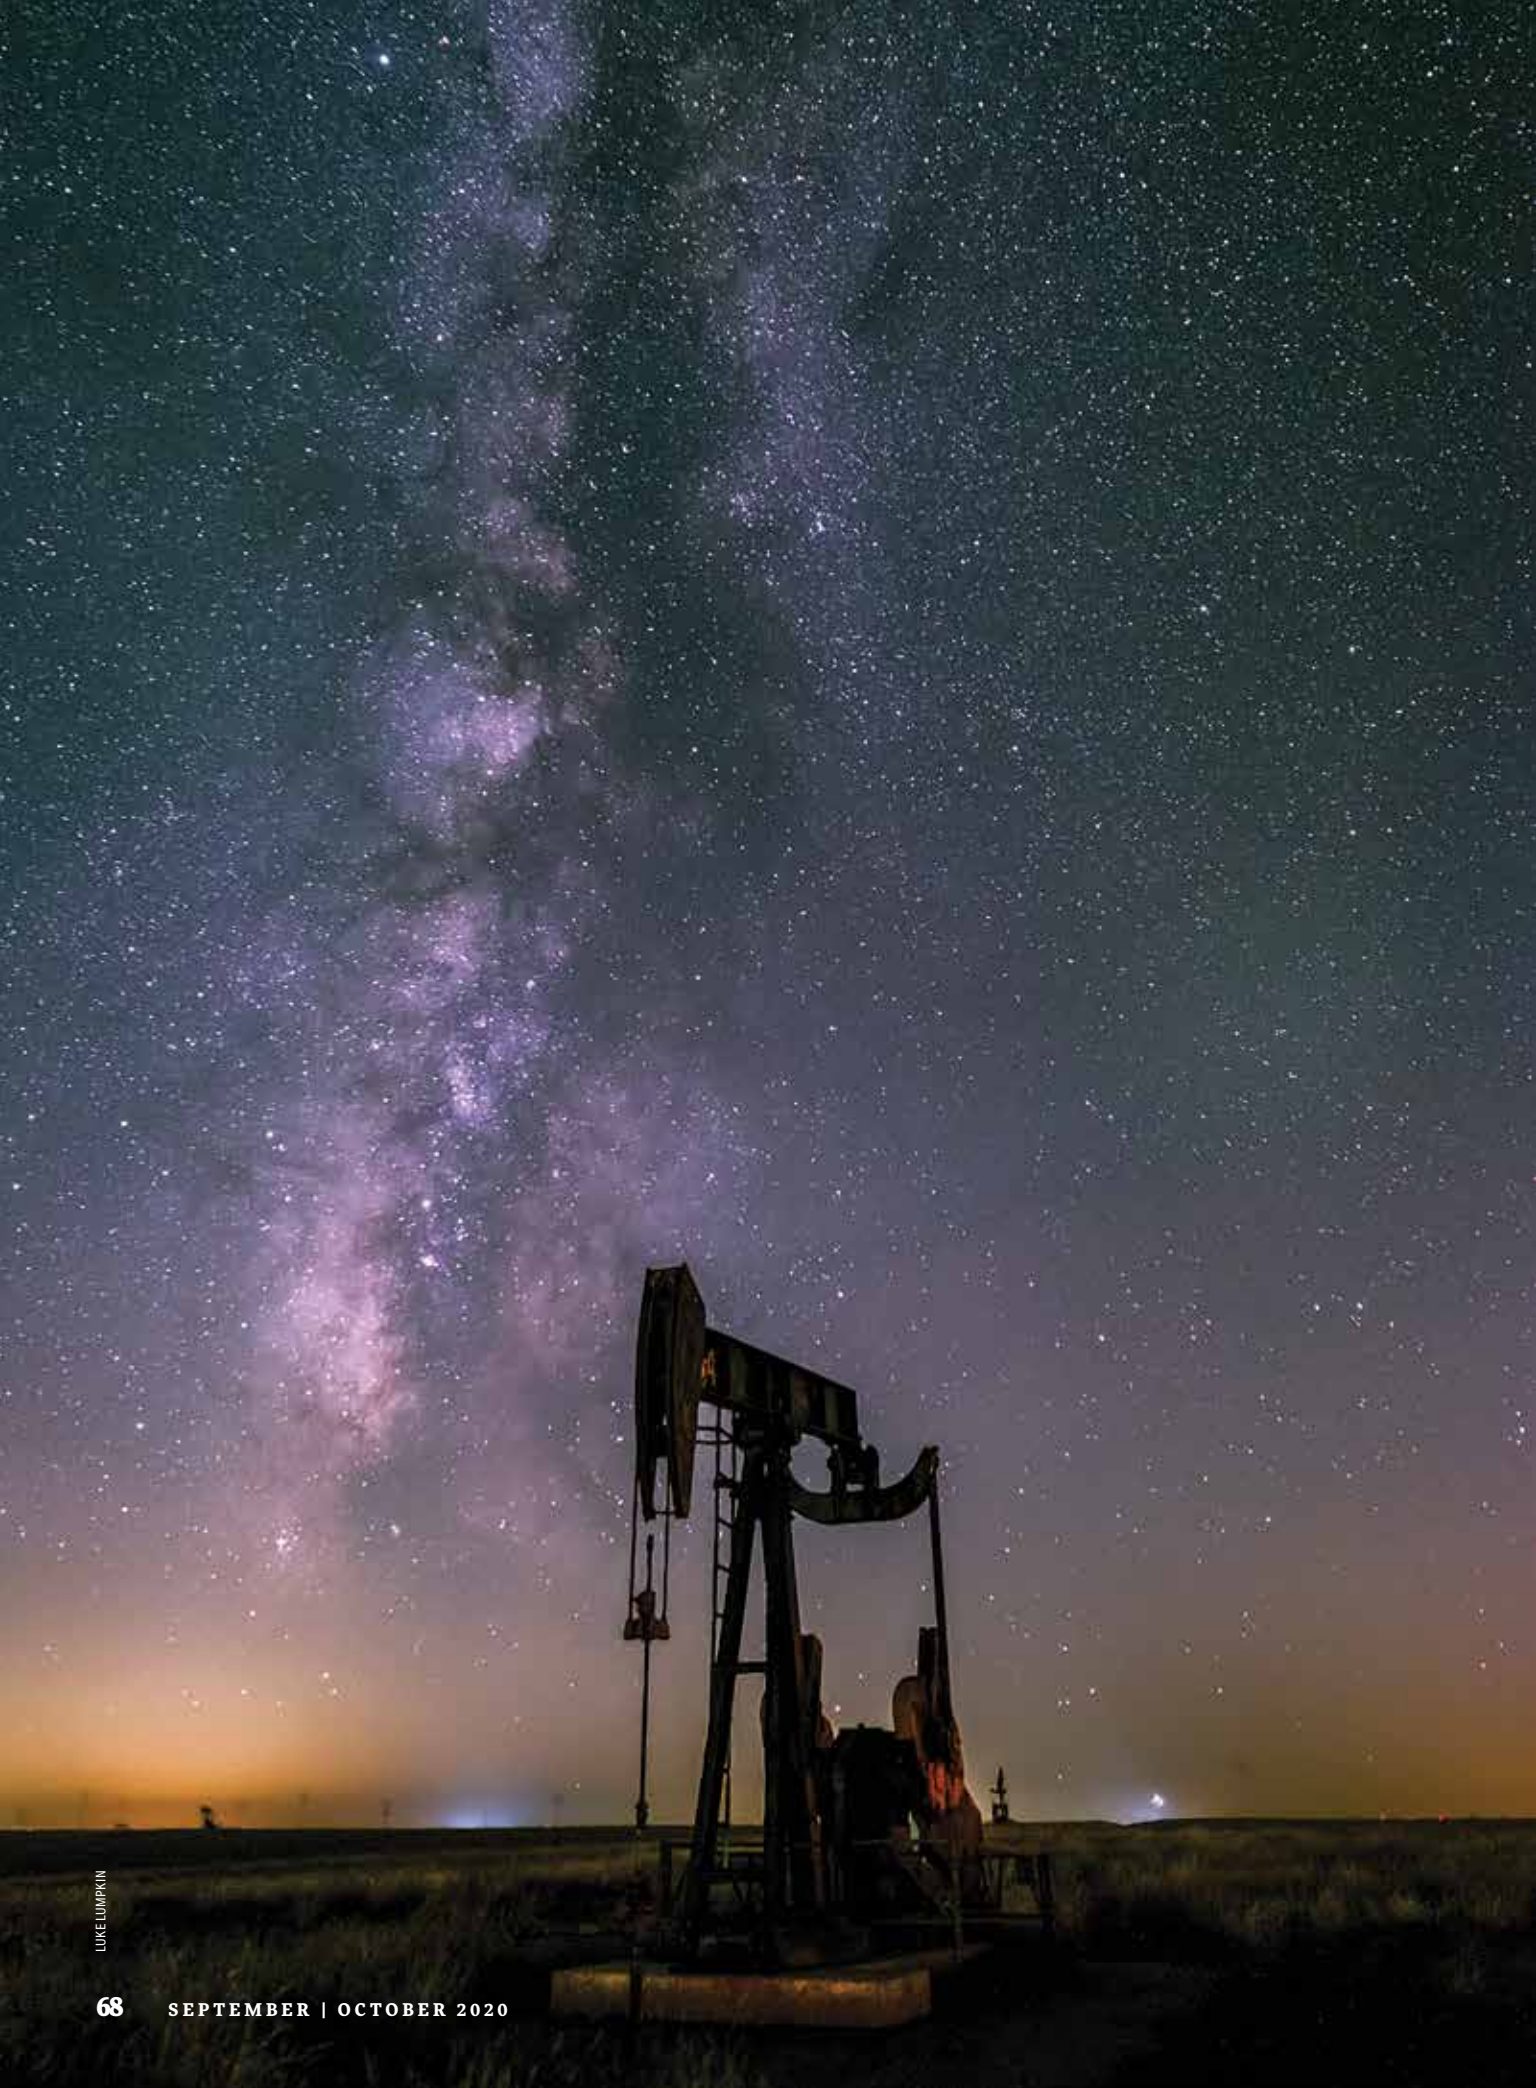

> Goats enjoy a vivid sunset near Weatherford.

> The Lake Hefner Lighthouse on a placid Oklahoma City morning

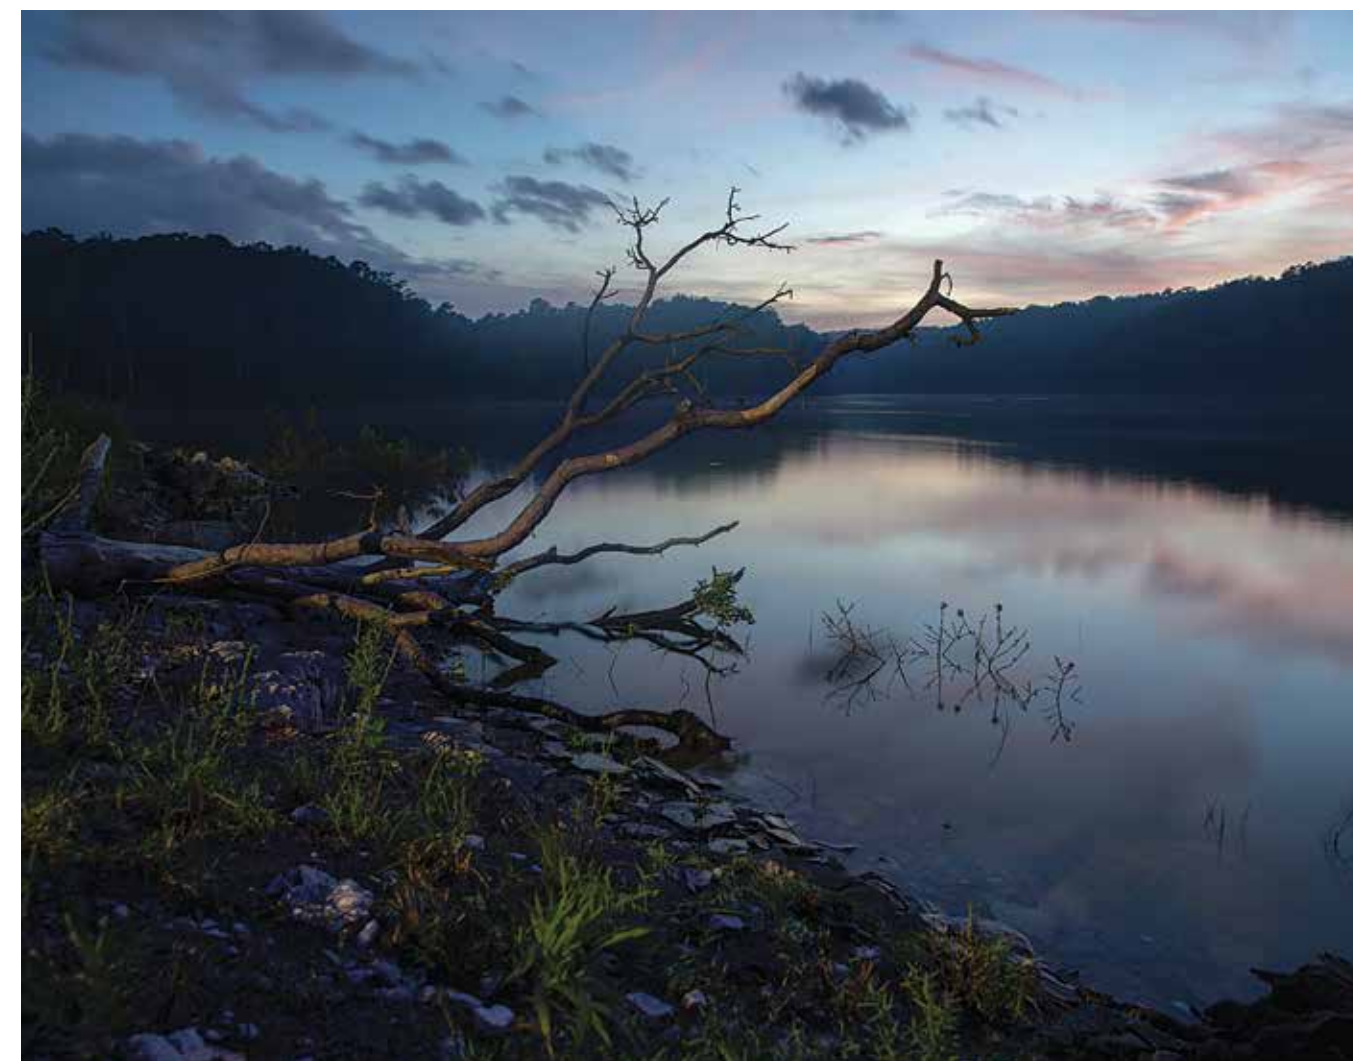

CHRISTOPHER SCOTT

LUKE LUMPKIN

KRISTIAN RIE

> Evening sets in at Broken Bow Lake in McCurtain County.

> A pump jack in Osage County east of Burbank

TAYLOR CARAWAY

› Taylor Caraway photographed this old homestead just outside Great Salt Plains State Park near Jet.

› Tom Arnold, director of the Kirkpatrick Planetarium at Science Museum Oklahoma, photographed the Rosette Nebula—Oklahoma's official Deep Sky Object—from his home in Blanchard. This image is a composite of fifteen six-minute exposures taken over an hour and a half.

TOM ARNOLD

