

What Makes Me

My first sip of coffee in the morning. The smell of old wood. Pearly white stones in a sea of grey. Your warm smile, which makes everything else melt away. A difficult choice. When I'm cooking for you. A wandering mind. Mom's love. Forgotten castles. A warm day in Bergen. A beer with my dad. Midnight walks. Sunset over the sea. The way my grandma hugged me. Sushi. Smoke of a grill. Cuddles that make everything else lose its worth. The scent of a new book. Memories I wish will be relived once I'm old. Pasta with red wine. Dark jokes shared among friends. Barries dipped in chocolate. Fantastical fiction. A murder of crows. The rustle of leaves. A warm summer breeze. This makes me.
