RE : RECOMMENDATION LETTER.

The above named person was an attachee of computer systems engineering at Kenia college.

Over the course of their attachment, I have had the privilege of observing Mercy in both academic and professional settings, and I can confidently attest to their exceptional skills, dedication, and potential.

During their time at Kenia College, she consistently demonstrated a strong understanding of computer systems engineering principles. They excelled in coursework, particularly in subjects such as software development, network security, and systems architecture. Their academic performance was consistently impressive, often achieving top marks in their classes.

Beyond academic excellence, she exhibited remarkable problem-solving abilities and a keen analytical mind. They approached complex technical challenges with a methodical and innovative mindset, often finding creative solutions that were both efficient and effective.

In a professional context, she completed an attachment program with our institution, where they further honed their skills and gained valuable hands-on experience. During this time, they worked on several critical project. Their contributions were instrumental in achieving project goals, and they consistently demonstrated a strong work ethic, attention to detail, and the ability to work both independently and as part of a team.

Yours faithful,

Dr.Osman .W.Belali

Education Secretary.
