

Top 5 Michelin Star Restaurants in Zermatt

Zermatt sits at the foot of the famous Matterhorn. The Matterhorn village, known as the Matterhorn ski paradise, offers a lot: beautiful mountain scenery, winter sports, hiking trails, gourmet cuisine, fantastic apres-ski, and live music.

The car-free village of Zermatt is regarded as one of the world's best ski resorts. It's one of the most magical places to be in winter. While you will find the village most charming during winter, there's still much to do in other seasons, like touring the legendary Matterhorn village.

Zermatt Michelin Star Restaurants

The Michelin Star remains among the most coveted awards by Chefs and restaurants alike. Being the center of some of the best Swiss gastronomist restaurants, it's no surprise that some of these restaurants have received Michelin stars. They have been recognized for their high-quality ingredients and unique taste.

These restaurants include After Seven at the Backstage Hotel, Alpine Gourmet Prato Borni at the Grand Hotel Zermatterhof, Ristorante Capri at the Mont Cervin Palace, The Omnia, and Brasserie Uno.

1. After Seven

After Seven is your spot if you're looking for a great place to eat before commencing your apres ski evening activities. The restaurant opens at the Backstage Hotel Vernissage after seven. The hotel provides all the comforts needed after an activity-filled day. It also offers a heated pool and complimentary breakfast.

After Seven is one of the best restaurants in the Backstage Hotel. The mastermind behind the assortment of mouth-watering recipes is the two-Michelin-starred chef, Florian Neibauer. The restaurant offers meals made from ingredients fresh from the market.

Your food journey at After Seven begins with a surprise menu with 4, 5, or 7 courses. Complimentary wine will accompany the meal, enhancing the dining experience.

While at it, you can also visit Cinema Vernissage to see blockbuster movies. Or if you are in search of something historical, you can see documentary films by Zermatt's August Julien, "Menschen am Matterhorn," and "Whymper's Weg aufs Matterhorn." End your day in the Vernissage bar, where you can hang out and dance till dawn.

2. Alpine Gourmet Prato Borni

You can't afford to miss a taste of Zermatt's native dishes while on your tour. And Alpine Gourmet Prato Borni is where you can find great meals made from seasonal Valais ingredients and other cuisines.

The restaurant is at The Grand Hotel Zermatterhof, which lies at the heart of Zermatt. The hotel offers luxury services for customers from all over the world.

Alpine Gourmet Prato Borni offers some of the richest cuisines in the Canton of Valais. From local menus to dishes inspired by highlights from international cuisine, you can expect a variety of rich meals. Some of their unique menu items include rabbit Tatar, turbot, foie gras, bass, and zinger gnocchi.

During your stay in The Grand Hotel Zermatterhof, you can visit the How Do You Do? Bar Lounge Cafe in the afternoon for snacks and drinks. You can also drop by the Stars Bar when the stars come out to enjoy live piano music while drinking.

3. Ristorante Capri

Here's a place exclusively for winter tourists: Ristorante Capri opens during winter at the Mont Cervin Palace. The hotel promises to welcome you with a warm smile to heat the winter. The rooms offer sensational views of the Mischabel mountain chain, the Edelweiss, and the infamous Matterhorn.

At the 1 Michelin star Ristorante Capri, the Head Chef, Giuseppe Parisi, brings his summer experience to the winter. The restaurant offers a taste of the Mediterranean as you view the Alps from the 4th floor of Le Petit Cervin. It is the perfect luxurious blend of delicious food and breathtaking sights.

After skiing, sit and enjoy tasty meals like Ravioli Capresi, L'Orto, Agnello, and Merluzzo Nero. Round off your dinner with a visit to the Capri bar for exquisite drinks.

4. Aroleid Restaurant

Aroleid Restaurant proudly stands as the only restaurant in Zermatt to have won the Michelin Bib Gourmand award for restaurants that offer the best value for money. So, you can expect to relish some of the best seasonal and international dishes at affordable prices, like malakoff, corn & sansho, and walliser teller. Coupled with a carefully selected wine or coffee, your evening will be nothing short of exceptional.

Aroleid Kollektiv offers a family-style dinner experience, so though you might be a tourist, it still feels like home. On the ground floor, guests get to speak with the chefs and learn from them. You don't just get food, you get to feel like a part of the process. They also offer a kids' menu, so there's something for everyone.

5. Brasserie Uno

What better way to round off a day of skiing and touring the Matterhorn village than in a cozy restaurant? Brasserie Uno is a small dining restaurant with outstanding cuisine. You can enjoy a calm evening while eating local and international dishes made from the finest ingredients at Brasserie Uno.

Expect a delicious surprise with their 6-course menu, which brings the freshest flavors from seasonal, high-quality ingredients to life. Whatever you need, talented chefs can create a dish that will please your taste buds. They offer vegan and vegetarian dishes, as well as delicious Swiss meat and fish dishes.