The ultimate Christmas gift guide for men who are impossible to buy for

By Kirsty Mason

Love it or hate it, Santa's elves are back to work and the more advent chocolates that get munched, the less time you have to source a gift for picky Uncle Brian. Fear not. We've pulled together the ultimate quirky Christmas gift list for men who are impossible to buy for.

Let's dive in.

1. Eye Mask

Is the man in your life addicted to his screen? With the rise of Zoom calls and WFH came the rise of screen-time. AKA: The enemy of the eyes. The Thera-Pearl Eye Mask terms

6. DNA Test Kit

Not the sort of Jeremy Kyle ‘are you my dad?’ type of test kit (although checking with family members before receiving unusual results is recommended). A DNA test gives you a snapshot of your family heritage. Discover your origins and connect with family members who share your DNA. It’s the ultimate gift for a man who has everything (except access to his family tree).

Price: £79

7. Male Sex Toy - The Handy

The man in your life might already have everything he needs... But is there an upper limit on sexual pleasure? Absolutely not.

Male sex toys are becoming increasingly popular and The Handy is the perfect toy for first-time users. It's an automatic masturbator that fits all shapes and sizes, and you can even purchase several different sleeves to change the sensation. It's ultimate pleasure for minimal effort.

There's nothing like a sex toy to spice things up in the bedroom but if you run into a problem, make sure you speak to a clinician and deal with sexual health issues such as erectile dysfunction or premature ejaculation head-on.
