

THERE'S NO 'U' IN COLOMBIA

DON'T MESS WITH THEIR FLOWER POTS

According to Colombia folklore, the revolution against the Spanish all started with a flower pot. On July 20, 1810 a Spanish-born seller refused to lend a flower pot to a group of criollos (Colombians), who proceeded to smash the pot and run into the street screaming in protest. Thus, the 'Grito', or Cry of Liberty.

A TOURISTS DREAM

Colombia has some of the most spectacular tourist attractions in the world. Here's 3 worth a google search.

- 1 - Cano Cristales - is a colourful stretch of river featuring waterfalls and natural pools.
- 2 - Piedra de Penol - A 650ft tall rock (you can easily climb) with breathtaking views on top.
- 3 - Tayrona National Park - Home to some of the most beautiful beaches you'll ever see.

MANS BEST FRIEND

To say Colombians love dogs would be an understatement. If Bogota has 8 million human residents there must be at least double that number of doggy's walking, sitting or sleeping around the city. Whether it's military/police guard dogs, a puppy wearing a sombrero or one of the many (friendly) strays patrolling the sidewalks.
