

A Life As Story Weekend is the first of its kind in the marketplace where a band of like-minded brothers come together to engage in authentic relationships, live adventurously through a redemptive perspective of life as story, and transform the way we do business life.

ABOUT STORY WEEKEND

This is an exclusive event that requires an application process and acceptance to attend. It is 2 ½ days unplugged from the matrix, joined in a fellowship of men all on the front lines of a larger, transcendent story.

The story weekend is targeted for men with world-changing desires who are in their twenties, thirties, forties and in rare exceptions, even their fifties. Men who are “kings and priests” in training.

In the company of wise, older men who have taken the ancient path, you will dive deep into your story and the stories of other men, and together we will encounter the Father like never before.

Building a true, genuine relationship with you is the most important thing we do. Therefore, our application and event process is anything but “normal” and like nothing you’ve ever experienced. Without the typical financial and legalistic restraints of such an event, you’ll receive maximum impact that enables you to go back to your business life family and community to walk in the fullness of your story.

STORY WEEKEND EVENTS

Signature Event

This event begins with a life as story sequence that reveals a redeemed perspective of your story.

Infusion Event

Due to the intimate nature of this event, you'll leave with safe, healthy relationships for life.

Frontier Event

This is an expedition event where we dive into your life as mission and define your roles and goals.

A Life As Story Weekend represents a new approach to the business life community that turns the tables “upside down.” With this event, you gain access to a truly unique, one-of-a-kind experience that can only occur outside the “normal” marketplace transactions and prepares you to take advantage of living life on mission.

You've likely seen those programs that employ the “spray and pray” method where they invest in many people during an event and hope that a handful are successful. Well, we don't just provide content and an “experience.” Sure, we pray for your success, but we also connect you to a net-that-works for your success and a band of brothers who will join you on the great adventure. You'll receive targeted, timely spiritual support coupled with strategic counsel and oversight.

While business projections include a failure rate, our relationships do not. We are therefore more selective and more intimately invested in you and ultimately your success as a disciple of Jesus.
