Fall Flavors that are Just as Delicious as Pumpkin

We love a warm pumpkin spice latte on a crisp October day. But amid the pumpkin craze, other fall flavors get overlooked. Break free from the cookie-cutter offerings and wow your customers with these autumn flavors.

Pear

While apple is the classic fall fruit, pear holds its own with its sweet and subtle floral flavor. Pears are delicious in salads. Think pear and gorgonzola on a bed of greens topped with fresh herbs, walnuts, and champagne vinaigrette. The fruit is also beautiful in spiced cakes, galettes, tarts, and cocktails.

Maple

Maple is an autumn flavor that goes well with other seasonal tastes. Maple cinnamon rolls or bread pudding, anyone? How about maple bacon...on everything? There are so many possibilities for sweet syrupy maple.

Butternut Squash

Butternut squash may not seem exciting. But it can be. Go beyond butternut squash soup and add a burst of sweetness to customer favorites like mac and cheese, chili, cheesy quesadillas, and more. It's also delish in a salad.

Chai

Chai brings a spicy twist to classic sweets. With a mix of cardamom, cinnamon, ginger, cloves, and pepper, chai is comforting and perfect for fall. In addition to lattes, consider vanilla chai milkshakes, carrot cupcakes with chai buttercream, and chai spiced crumb cake.

Pecan

Pecans pair nicely with other autumn flavors like pumpkin, pear, and apple. Top pumpkin spice cakes and pies with candied pecans. Or satisfy your coffee-loving customers with chocolate espresso pecan biscotti. Sprinkle pecans on salads and place them on cheese plates. Pecan-crusted chicken and salmon are also impressive dishes.

Wishing You a Successful Fall

We hope some of these flavor suggestions are helpful to you and your business. Best wishes for a fantastic fall selling season.
