God gave me the gift to play basketball for one reason and that was to GROW and GIVE BACK and help the next generations. I want them to be inspired, confident and brave in whatever they want to do. ”

- Chauncey Billups

NBA star Chauncey Billups changed Colorado basketball forever.

Now he and coach Lonnie Porter are doing the same for disadvantaged Denver youth at their Porter-Billups Leadership Academy at Regis University. Every summer, from grades 4 through 12, hundreds of youth learn to become leaders. Graduates earn scholarships to attend Regis.
