

Problem: The payout process featured very basic prompts and details, leaving some users confused about how they were redeeming funds, when they would receive next steps, and when a funds transfer would occur.

Solution: More informative copy, emails, and toast notifications.

A portion of these suggestions were implemented:

- Improved email bullet points.
- Specifying the payout platform.
- Relaying more information in toast notifications (though this one has since been edited to longer than ideal).