Delta 8 Gummies

Delta 8 THC gummies are delectable products infused with delta 8 tetrahydrocannabinol (delta-8 THC), a hemp cannabinoid derivative. As a minor cannabinoid, delta 8 THC shares psychoactive properties with its more well-known counterpart, delta 9 THC. These hemp-derived edibles are crafted to offer users a more inconspicuous and convenient way of enjoying delta 8 and its gentler psychoactive experience.

Delta 9 Syrups

Delta 9 syrups are liquid formulations infused with delta 9 THC, one of the most prominent psychoactive compounds found in cannabis. These hemp-derived delta 9 syrups are crafted to offer a versatile and easily consumable option for individuals seeking the heightened effects of delta 9. Users may consume the delta 9 syrup on its own or mix it with beverages for a customized taste and experience. Similar to other hemp-derived delta 9 THC products, these delta 9 syrups are designed to provide a psychoactive effect, and high dosages should be approached with caution, considering individual tolerance levels.

THC Vape Pen

Containing a specific amount of THC, delta 8 THC disposable vape pens are pre-filled vaping devices. These hemp-derived delta 8 pens consist of a battery, a heating element, and a pre-loaded THC oil or distillate cartridge. Users can inhale the vaporized THC through the mouthpiece, providing a convenient and simple way to consume delta 8. Delta 8 disposables are discarded after use, eliminating the need for maintenance or refilling of the pens. Delta 8 vape pens come in various strains and flavors, offering users a diverse range of options for their THC vaping experience. At Geek'd, you can even enjoy both indica and sativa strains through one disposable delta 8 cartridge, making your experience even easier!

About Their Ingredients

Geek'd Extracts offers a diverse range of products infused with hemp-derived cannabinoids, from delta 8 and delta 9 to THC-P. Understanding the distinctions between these compounds and their individual effects is crucial in guiding you toward the perfect choice for your preferences and needs!

Delta 8

Delta 8 THC, a cannabinoid found in the cannabis plant, closely resembles delta 9 THC, the well-known psychotropic compound. Despite its psychoactive nature, delta 8 THC tends to produce milder and subtler effects than delta 9 THC, offering users a smoother, clearer experience. Extracted from both hemp and marijuana plants, delta 8 THC is available in diverse forms such as edibles, vape cartridges, and syrups.

Delta 9

Delta 9-tetrahydrocannabinol, more commonly known as delta 9 THC, is the primary psychoactive compound found in cannabis. Delta 9 is responsible for the characteristic "high" or euphoric sensation associated with consuming cannabis. Delta 9 interacts with the body's endocannabinoid system, specifically binding to cannabinoid receptors in the brain and central nervous system, leading to various effects on mood, perception, and consciousness.

THCP

Not as well known as its cannabinoid counterparts, THCP, or tetrahydrocannabinol, shares a structural resemblance to tetrahydrocannabinol (THC), the renowned psychoactive compound in cannabis. THCP is said to exhibit heightened potency and a more intense psychoactive impact than THC itself.

How to Use These Products

Each hemp-based product, from gummies to vapes, provides a uniquely euphoric experience. Knowing how to use these products is essential—especially for beginners. If you're new to THC edibles, THC vapes, and THC syrups, consider this a little crash course. Here, we'll teach you best practices and how to get the most out of these potent THC products!

THC Edibles

Perhaps the most popular THC products on the market, THC edibles, like THC gummies, provide long-lasting, potent effects. These edibles are infused with psychoactive hemp-derived compounds like delta 8, delta 9, and THC-P. Unlike other hemp-derived products, these edibles absorb into your body through your digestive system, a path that takes around 30 minutes to two hours, depending on individual bioavailability factors. So, after taking a hemp-infused edible, it's best to patiently wait for effects. Don't take another serving of hemp-derived edible before feeling the full effects of the first dose. Once you do feel the effects from these hemp-derived edibles, expect to feel them for the next six to eight hours.

THC Syrups

Next, we have potent hemp-derived THC syrups. These viscous liquids contain psychoactive hemp extracts, perfect for feeling THC's iconic effects. You can add this hemp-derived syrup to your beverage of choice or drink it straight. But it's important to read the dosing instructions on the product's label. Because these hemp-derived syrups are sippable, you don't typically take the full serving at once. Rather, you spread the serving out over time, leading to an extended, longer-lasting THC-infused experience.

THC Vapes

Last, we have hemp-derived disposable vape pens. These vape pens contain potent cannabinoid-infused vape juice that introduces THC into your body through your lungs. This is a quick trip—much quicker than edibles or syrups. So, you'll feel the effects from hemp-derived vapes sooner than using a disposable vape pen, take a little puff.

Frequently Asked Questions

What's the difference between CBD and THC?

CBD and THC are the two most abundant cannabinoids native to hemp plants. They regulate essential physiological functions in the brain and interact with your body's endocannabinoid system—a network of receptors that regulate essential physiological functions. When cannabinoids interact with this system, they provide a host of effects and benefits. This is where CBD and THC are different: CBD is non-psychoactive, providing an array of wellness-boosting benefits for sleep, mood, energy, and more. THC, on the other hand, is what creates cannabis' iconic "high," the elevated, psychoactive experience.

Are delta THC products legal?

Hemp-derived delta THC products are legal in most of the United States (thank you, 2018 Farm Bill!) However, it's important to check with your local and state laws before purchasing, as they may have changed.

How do you use THC-vaped pens?

Vape pens arrive pre-charged and pre-filled with potent THC oil, making them super simple to enjoy! Just unwrap the package and inhale for an effortless puff of bliss.

How do you use THC syrups?

THC syrups are viscous, potent hemp-based liquids that provide all the popular effects of THC. You can add these syrups to drinks or enjoy the liquid as-is. Syrup absorbs into your body similarly to edibles, so don't expect to feel euphoric effects right away. It can take around 30 minutes to two hours to feel THC's effects, depending on different bioavailability factors. So, take your first dose and be patient.
