

a fine pair

HEARTS ON FIRE AND HAYLEY PAGE FORM A JEWELRY DESIGN DREAM TEAM. By Gianna Barone

Fun-loving fashionista brides-to-be, rejoice! A collaboration between wedding dress designer Hayley Paige and purveyor of perfectly cut diamonds Hearts on Fire is making its way to the Pinterest boards of soon-to-be betrothed across the country. From Boho princesses to modern minimalists, the imaginative ring collection transcends any particular style and instead helps brides express their personalities.

Paige, who regularly appears on TLC's Say Yes to the Dress, built a multi-million-dollar business with her fantasy-evoking wedding gowns and has set herself apart from other bridal ateliers with floral-inspired embroideries, lace appliques and princess silhouettes. Her sense of design versatility shines through this jewelry collab.

Take, for example, the Behati Say It Your Way oval engagement ring with a starburst-shaped halo surrounding a round center diamond. The unconventional silhouette gives the illusion of an oval setting and is perfect for a free-spirited bride. The ring's design was inspired by Paige's enormously-popular Behati dress: a ball gown composed of geometric-printed organza, tiered tulle and an intricately sexy Moroccan beaded back.

For the contemporary woman who loves lots of bling, the Bring the Drama Power Band is a stylish, sophisticated choice from the collection. The piece features three rows of diamonds on bands of rose gold, yellow gold and platinum that look modern and chic.

As with every Hearts on Fire diamond, each piece in the Hayley Paige collection features gems that are high-quality, transparent and knot-free—meaning they are at the top 1 percent of the world's diamond supply. Each ring has been designed to shine solo or to stack with other rings to create a look that is just as unique and glamorous as the woman who wears it. The collection is available at the Bachendorf's Galleria Dallas boutique.

From top: bridal designer Hayley Paige in her design studio; the Behati Silhouette Power Band in 18K rose gold; Behati Say It Your Way engagement ring in 18K yellow gold; and Bring the Drama band in rose gold, platinum and yellow gold.