FAQ

- What's the goal of the brand?
Our mission is to harness cannabis and its legalization to empower those most affected by its prohibition. We acknowledge our privilege in the legalized cannabis space as well as our responsibility to assist those who came before us, many of who remain incarcerated for doing what we can now do legally. Instead of a one-time donation, we established Justice Joints to facilitate an ongoing flow of donations to important causes in our industry.
- Why LPP and CfBL?
We've chosen to support causes most pressing within our industry, and Last Prisoner Project and Cannabis for Black Lives champions record expungement and re-entry programs for those convicted of nonviolent cannabis-related crimes. LPP and CfBL's initiatives give those affected by cannabis criminalization a second chance, and an opportunity to apply their knowledge/skills gainfully and legally.
- How are profits distributed?
We split 100% of our wholesale profits evenly between Last Prisoner Project and our grant fund, with .50 cents donated from every per-roll. For every four joints sold in a licensed retailer, $2.00 is donated, with $1 donated to our partners and $1 deposited into our grant fund. Since launch, we have donated over 20K to our partner organizations.
- Where does the flower come from? Indoor or outdoor?
Justice Joints pre-rolls are premium indoor cannabis from our CannDESCENT gardens.
