OUR CULTIVATION

The VOLCANNX cultivation team collectively has over 30 years of experience in cannabis, giving them a thorough understanding of the history of this industry and the lineage of each strain we produce.

Our tissue culture process ensures our flower expresses the traits that make each cultivar unique while accentuating premium characteristics.

The high terpene content of our flower offers bright flavors, more intense highs, and creates a synergistic effect between the mind and body.

We use the most advanced cultivation techniques and equipment available, such as Luxx Lighting, HGV nutrients, and Growlink quality control, to maximize trichome production and preservation — producing flower with tight buds, deep hues, and sparkling crystals.
