FOUNDER LEONARD CHAN

ABOUT

Waffeliers and beer aficionados alike rejoiced when Founder Leonard Chan brought The Iron Press to Orange County, serving mind blowing sweet and savory waffle sandwiches and specialty local and imported beers. The Iron Press delivers with their out of the box creations and playful menu. They provide a fun and interactive dining experience with music, art, food and libations. At Costa Mesa's SoCo location, guests can sit at the bar stools and watch the waffles made right in front of them! There is a strong sense of community with The Iron Press. From the recycled materials used in the decor of the SoCo locations, all the way to the art by local artists and the fresh ingredients on the plate.

BEER

Over 30 local beers on tap wait for the next pint glass to fill. Be sure to check out our Tap Hunter for a full list of beers available. Whether it's a lager, ale, stout, sour, you-name-it, The Iron Press has the perfect waffle to pair with your pint. Stay connected with The Iron Press via social media for up to date information on when the next tap takeover events will be. Who knows, you might try something new, like ending up in a conga line by the end of the night.

WAFFLES AND MORE

Waffles and beer. And some other incredible items that need not be out-shined by their amazing predecessors. Have you ever tried a Wookiee?!

A Bird in the Hand: Buttermilk fried chicken chunks, herbed mashed potatoes, spicy slaw in a waffle cone, with a side of jalapeño maple syrup.

Wacon Wurger: House-made burger, caramelized onions, lettuce, tomato and garlic aioli on an herb waffle.

Hot Mother Clucker: Buttermilk fried chicken, spicy slaw, buffalo sauce, jalapeños and dragon lips salsa on a belgian waffle.

The Chunk: Burger, fried chicken, bacon, egg, waffle fries, lettuce, tomatoes, onions, avocado, jalapeños and IPA cheese on brioche.

Wookiee: Chocolate chip or seasonal cookie and vanilla ice cream with chocolate drizzle.
