

non-profit organizations, Veterans can now receive UltraCell to help manage their symptoms.

Additionally, as a gesture of appreciation for your service, Zilis offers two avenues for Veterans to participate in the Patriot Program. The first option is to enroll as a Patriot Ambassador, which provides Veteran entrepreneurs with the ability to launch their own Zilis business. The Patriot Customer option is an alternate option for Veterans who are interested in UltraCell products for personal use. Both options offer special pricing and perks for Veterans and their families.

PAYING IT FORWARD

SERVING THOSE WHO SERVED US

WOUNDS ON THE INSIDE

For more than two centuries Americans have volunteered or were drafted to serve and protect the United States in the U.S. Military. These brave men and women, deployed into some of the world's worst warzones, committed to doing their jobs to protect American freedoms at home.

Many veterans have trouble readjusting to civilian life. After World War I, we called it shell shock; in World War II—battle fatigue. By the time veterans returned after Vietnam, we called it Vietnam combat reaction, and now, many veterans live with post-traumatic stress.

Research shows hemp-derived CBD can positively impact veterans by supporting their health in areas in which they are at risk. Zilis supports Veterans through our Patriot Program by partnering with our Ambassadors to ensure that Veterans most at risk receive UltraCell® at no cost to the recipient. Through a network of

“YOU HAVE THE POWER TO SAY,
'THIS ISN'T HOW MY STORY WILL END.'”
