Narrator:

(Welcome to my new video, today I'll discuss the richest people who have modest lifestyles)

Many people among us want to live a rich lifestyle and dream to buy luxurious things. We want to live in large elegant villas, drive expensive cars, and wear high-class branded clothes, we wish to visit beautiful places in the whole world even in our private aircraft.

All of these types of luxurious activities we want to do in our lives, but these things demand a hefty amount of money and a broad bank balance. Therefore we don't have a huge amount of money so it's just become our burning desire.

Yet are you know? There are a lot of people who have a heavy amount of money but they live a simple life like us. They are billionaires and even have a net worth of more than some underprivileged countries' GDP, but they didn't live in massive houses and didn't have a huge collection of cars. Despite it, they just live in a small simple beautiful house and use a single car.

Are you surprised to hear this? But this is a fact. Many richest people who are famous because of their wealth live a simple lifestyle.

Today I will tell you about some of the surprising people who are the richest personalities in the world but live modest life. You almost would have listened to their names already but you don't know how they live their lives.

So the no 1 is,

1: Warren Buffet

Warren Edward Buffet is an American businessman, investor, philanthropist, and the seventh richest person in the world. He started his career as an investment salesman in 1951 at Buffet Fall and Co. Then he joined Buffet partnership Ltd as a general partner and from 1970 until now he has been a chairman and CEO of Berkshire Hathway Inc. Presently he has also become a successful investor in the entire world. His net worth is told over 103 billion dollars in august 2022, which made him the seventh richest man in the world.

So what's your thought says? Which type of house he should have? Certainly, you will be thinking that he would have a large palace or a huge farmhouse in which he has almost any type of luxurious commodities that are existing in the world, and his porch is full of tons of expensive vehicles, but you will be disappointed to listen that he hasn't anything yet.

91 years Warren Buffet lives in a 50 years old small house which he bought in 1958 in his country, Nebraska, for just 31,500 dollars the equivalent of almost 285,000$ today. Another thing that shows his modest lifestyle, is his vehicles. He is known to buy cheap prices cars, according to his daughter sometimes he bought damaged cars that he used after fixing them.

Contrary to other billionaires Buffet has simple and inexpensive hobbies like playing bridge, He can play this game almost consistently for eight hours. Similarly, he has been using a simple Nokia Flip phone for a long time; He bought iPhone when his old one was perpetually dead.

2: Tim Cook

Apple CEO Tim Cook is one of the wealthiest people in the world. Cook has an annual salary of more than 900,000$, though it is lower than other largest companies CEOs like amazon and Facebook he has his shares in this company, he has approximately 5 million shares in the company, other than apple he has also many additional income sources, that are encompassed him in the list of the wealthiest personalities.

Compared to the other richest men Tim has a small simple house in Palo Alto, California, in just 2000 sq. feet of space. The house has four bedrooms, three bathrooms, and a little backyard. Cook bought this house for just 1.9 million dollars which have increased now by 3.3 million dollars.

Tim's modest lifestyle shows in his other activities when he purchases discounted clothes and has a simple daily routine like other normal modest persons.

Tim also spends his money on charity rather than purchasing expensive things, he spends his money in charity approximately 5 million dollars, according to The Guardian he has the intention to donate his all money to charity in the future.

3: Mark Zuckerberg

Now, the personality I am going to talk about, I assume everyone knows him or listened to his name. Yes, you correctly recognized the person, Mark Zuckerberg the founder of Facebook, who now has the rights to Instagram and WhatsApp too. Zuckerberg is one of the youngest and richest personalities in the world, his a net worth of approximately 116.7 billion dollars. He is the seventieth wealthiest man according to the list of richest persons in the world arranged by Forbes.

Despite all of his wealth he has a simple lifestyle, though he lives in a luxurious house that he bought for 7 million US dollars in Palo Alto California, with five bedrooms, a huge lawn, entertainment arbor, fireplace, barbecue area, saltwater pool and many other things that can be exist in a large villa, he has many other properties and homes which he purchased for the guest house purpose and leisure activities,

But in his everyday life and purchasing, he looks very modest and simple. He wears simple jeans and t-shirts, sneakers, and sandals rather than designer suits and expensive branded shoes.

Similarly, he drives inexpensive vehicles mostly. He has Acura TSX and a Honda Fit, which are just in under 30,000 dollars. Also, he purchased a Volkswagen Golf GTI car for just 30,000 dollars. He also has been noticed in refurbished vintage Ford Broncos which is not highly expensive vehicle.

4: Ingvar Kamprad

Another billionaire Ingvar Kamprad, founder of IKEA furniture company was one of the richest men in the world. Upon his death, he was declared the eighth wealthiest person in the entire world. Swedish business magnet Ingvar Kamprad changed a trend in furniture fashion style and designed a new variety of affordable furniture which made him a billionaire. His estimated net worth is 58.7 billion dollars.

His frugal lifestyle is shown by his driving activities, he drove a single vehicle 1993 Volvo 240 GL, almost for twenty years. He left it when he was convinced by someone that this car can be hazardous, a car price was just a rarely some thousand dollars.

He also wore a dress that was purchased at a cheap price. He said on television one day in his interview, 'if you look at me now, I don't think I'm wearing anything that wasn't bought at a flea market.'

Another really surprising thing that is related to him, is his cheap haircut activity. One day in Netherland in 2008 he paid the haircut price of just 27$, then he told a Swedish newspaper that the price was too high according to his usual haircut budget.

Like the other billionaire, Ingvar didn't have private jets, even though he didn't fly in first class and stayed in inexpensive or reasonable hotels, and took acceptable price meals.

5: Azim Premji

And the last is another billionaire who lives a frugal lifestyle Azim Premji belongs to India. He is really a modest man and famous for his down-to-earth lifestyle. He still flies in an economic class and kept up in simple inexpensive hotels, and drives in Ford Escort a low price car for many years. One of the extremely surprising about him is that he washes their own clothes when he travels abroad. Also, his wife never wore any kind of jewelry and ornaments even during the wedding ceremonies.

Azim Premji's net worth approximately is 21.8 billion. But he spends most of his wealth on charity rather than buying luxurious items. He developed the foundation named 'Azim Premji Foundation' which has cause to educate the children. He is the first Indian who has signed the agreement that he will donate most of his wealth to charity, almost 67% of the wealth he donated already. His own foundation, Azim Premji Foundation' made him Asia's enormous philanthropist and according to the 'Economic Times,' he has been included in the list of top five philanthropists all over the world. A lot of people in this world who became wealthiest then spent their money on luxury houses, expensive vehicles, and other costly items but unlike other men, he is the one who remained the lifestyle same as a middle-class person despite his massive amount of bank balance and properties.

Azim Premji strictly tightens his expense budget and he believes in saving more than expensive purchasing.
