Mike Hughes is a Vice President and Financial Consultant at Cornerstone Wealth Management. Born in Albuquerque, New Mexico, Mike acquired an Associates of Art Degree at Santa Fe Junior College. In 1959, Mike relocated to Florida where he attended the University of Florida. In pursuit of his future career path, he majored in management and finance. He became securities licensed in 1984, and has been building his practice in the local communities ever since. Mike's passion lies in helping others understand the importance of investing some time to plan the future they want for themselves and their family.

Whether it's financial and estate planning, retirement planning, or educational funding, Mike will determine a client's current financial situation and meticulously work with them to develop and reach their goals. Mike loves helping clients who are serious about their financial future and are serious about implementing and adhering to a personalized financial plan of action. He believes what makes his job most rewarding is seeing his clients' dreams turn into reality.

Experience and integrity really do matter in financial planning.
