KANBAR COLLEGE OF DESIGN, ENGINEERING AND COMMERCE

By bringing together design, engineering and business disciplines, Kanbar College combines the creative artistry of a designer, the problem-solving know-how of an engineer and the project management skills of a business professional. This results in uniquely qualified students who can provide dynamic solutions to real-world problems.

Our MS in User Experience and Interaction Design is a STEM-designated program that prepares professionals and recent college graduates to expand their careers in UX and IxD.

Recent graduates have found creative positions at companies such as:

- Comcast Interactive Media
- Disney ABC Television Group
- NBCUniversal SAP

COLLEGE OF ARCHITECTURE AND THE BUILT ENVIRONMENT

The College of Architecture and the Built Environment educates the next generation of design and construction professionals by utilizing the Jefferson Advantage—an innovative approach to learning called Nexus Learning. The College has nine STEM-designated graduate programs.

Employment of construction managers is projected to grow by 5% from 2022 to 2032.
