

FRIENDS IN HIGH PLACES

THE ADVANTAGES OF FLYING BUSINESS ON FINNAIR

From the ground it is a distant object of beauty - perfect, sleek and silvery in a cool blue sky. Listen carefully and you can hear it high in the air as it speeds its passengers ahead to new destinations or back to familiar ones.

Inside Finnair's new A330-300s, the interior is equally sleek and peaceful, the service quietly gracious and attentive, the seats comfortable, the food delicious, the needs of the passengers first and foremost.

This is the way business travel should be.
And how it is on Finnair.

Welcome to a new era in business travel.

A HIGHER STANDARD OF COMFORT, CONVENIENCE, AND SPEED.

Today's travelers want and deserve more from their flights. And Finnair delivers, with exceptional convenience, numerous comforts, extraordinary service, and fast, on-time departures and arrivals.

OUR NEW FLEET OF A330-300S TAKES BUSINESS TRAVEL TO NEW LEVELS.

Nowhere is Finnair's simultaneous commitment to passengers and the environment more evident than in our newest acquisitions - a fleet of modern A330-330s for long-haul flights.

Though spacious and fast, these exceptional wide body planes are also highly eco-efficient - uniquely able to offer speed and comfort to travelers, while consuming less fuel.

To provide passengers with a serene, soothing environment, the A330-300s have been furnished in cool blues and grays, and, in business class, feature fully reclining seats with more legroom, an award winning wine list, and delicious menu choices. Music and movies are available through each passenger's personal entertainment system.

Working en route is easy with each seat on the A330-300 aircraft equipped with a telephone and a laptop power outlet. Passengers can send text messages and short e-mails to networks on the ground and call other passengers on the same flight using the satellite phone of the entertainment system in the seat.

A DEDICATION TO THE ENVIRONMENT.

Finnair is fully committed to taking every measure to reduce its carbon footprint. Since 1973 Finnair has had a Director of Sustainability, responsible for ensuring every department of the airline engages in environmentally sound practices.

By consistently employing a stopover strategy to Northern Europe, with connecting flights to each end destination, Finnair's planes can carry less fuel resulting in faster flight times, lighter loads, and fewer emissions.

Flying the less-traveled northern routes also enables Finnair planes to land quickly in Helsinki (compared to other airports where planes use more fuel and add to harmful emissions while circling in the air waiting for available runways.)

In addition, Finnair Catering always uses recyclable materials onboard for food service and passenger comforts, and has cabin crew sort trays, cups, and other disposables properly to diminish environmental impact.

NEW VIA SPA AND VIA LOUNGE FACILITIES.

Passengers stopping over or staying in Helsinki will experience something wonderfully unexpected - the opportunity to leave their jet lag at the airport.

Finnair’s new facilities, opening in late 2009 at the highly rated Helsinki-Vantaa terminal, include the 250 seat Via Lounge and the restful Via Spa. At the new Via Spa, travelers can enjoy rejuvenating and relaxing express or leisurely treatments, four separate saunas, foot treatments of various kinds and a mineral water pool for health baths. The spa, which offers an expansive runway view, is beautifully appointed with the amenities and décor one finds at a world-class facility, thereby making the airport a special destination all by itself.

The 250-seat Via Lounge features restaurant style food service, as well as a snack bar, and includes numerous computer workstations.

SHORTER, FASTER FLIGHTS TO ASIA
VIA FINNAIR'S HELSINKI GATEWAY.

Traveling to Asia via Helsinki is a more direct route than flying from many other points allowing Finnair passengers to experience shorter travel times.

And, thanks to our unique northern travel routes through non-congested airways, there is far less chance of delays for arrivals and departures to and from our Helsinki hub.

Flight schedules are planned to accommodate the needs of business travelers, and promise smooth connections and convenient departure times.

A MULTITUDE OF DESTINATION OPTIONS.

Ever since its inception over 85 years ago, Finnair has always had great global reach, traveling to distant locales in the northern skies. In recent years Finnair has widely expanded its destination roster to include even more of the locations important to corporate travelers.

Now Finnair flies to Asia, as well as to Eastern Europe, Northern Europe and North America.
