

Seeing Blue

All-around eyeliner gets a girly upgrade in brilliant blues. Line your upper and lower lash lines with aqua cream eyeshadow (we like NYX Vivid Brights Crème Color in Endless Skies, $10, ulta.com), then blend your inner and outer corners with a Q-tip to soften, says celebrity makeup artist Zabrina Matiru, who created the looks on these pages. Add a bit of shimmery blue shadow on the lid, a peachy tone above your crease and a pop of gold in the inner corner to make your eyes really sparkle.

BY AMANDA MONTELL
PHOTOGRAPHED BY SEAN SCHEIDT

Top, Ganni. Dress, Rachel
Comey. Jacket, Rachel Sudbury.
Necklace, Hothams.

All eyes on

Malia Baker

There are some unwritten beauty rules society tells us never to break. To name a few: Don't go to sleep with your makeup on, don't forget to blend your foundation down your neck and never... I mean, never...cut your own bangs.

But rules are meant to be broken, especially if you're 15-year-old actress and activist Malia Baker, who spontaneously snipped a set of curly fringe all by her own dang self just a couple weeks before our interview.

"I just cut them on a whim!" she says with a casual laugh, and I can't help but gasp. Would it be too dramatic to call her...brave?

In The Clouds

Find yourself constantly daydreaming? Embrace that creativity! Sketch lines with a white primer, then grab an angled brush and wet it, advises Matiru. Swirl the brush in a white powder eyeshadow to create a paint-like texture. Pro tip: Matiru used pancake makeup (a water-activated powder) to create her clouds (try Mehron StarBlend Cake Makeup in White, $12, mehron.com).

Blouse, Miu Miu. Corset, Ganni.
Beret, Bronze Age. Necklace,
Melodie Borsevich.

Avant- Garde Optics

“Think outside the lines,” says Matiru. Apply the neon eyeshadow of your choice to your entire lid and under your lower lash line. Then, dip a makeup sponge (try the L.A. Colors 3 Makeup Blending Sponge Pack, $11, lacolors.com) in the same shade and sweep it out toward your temples (don’t be afraid to change up the angles to work for your face shape). So new! So unexpected!

Top, Lanvin. Coat, Fyöocher.
Earrings, Uncommon Matters.

Embel- lished Eyes

We see your faux freckles, and we raise you the cutest set of scattered gemstones. Your secret weapon? Lash glue. Using a Q-tip, add dots of glue across your cheeks and nose wherever you want the stones to sit. Carefully place the gems with your fingers (or use a silicone-tipped tool). Tie the whole look together by coordinating your flair with your fit.

STYLED BY Leila Bani.
HAIR BY Alicia Chowen.
MAKEUP BY Zabrina Matiru.
BEAUTY COPY BY Erin Sargent.

For where to buy, see page 84.

Dress, Marques Almeida.
Vintage jacket, Jean Paul Gaultier.
Earrings, Proenza Schouler.