

PEAK PERFORMANCE

ANGELA GUNN

This may be the Lowcountry, but Savannah's already reaching new heights with the Savannah Climbing CoOp, the city's first indoor bouldering facility. With a focus on climbing and community, nothing is more important to the CoOp than reinvesting in its members. The more climbers use the CoOp, the better the climbing experience becomes. Monthly and annual passes are available for purchase and the CoOp also offers shoe rentals. Ladies' Night on Wednesdays and the Late Sesh on Fridays also offer great weekly deals that will fit anyone's schedule.
