Three Game Final Weekend

It was a very difficult weekend to end the season on. Three games in three nights is not ideal, although it has to be done at some point in the season. I thought we weren't mentally prepared to compete in the Belfast game and we just needed to put that behind us.

The big positive was that on Saturday night we refocussed and came out like a team that wanted to win a hockey game and ultimately, we did. Plaving as short-handed as we did. we knew there would be repercussions from the weekend and that showed as fatigue on Sunday. I thought they gave a fantastic account of themselves in the Clan series at the end of the season. I always look forward to those, it's one of the most exciting and interesting series to play in and there's always some drama in it and both teams got a win. Every time there is a five minute major in a match, especially in a game as close as that one, there was potential to have a big impact on the game. Letting in two shorthanded goals is a result from pushing and fatigue, but what I liked was that the team didn't fold their tents, they kept going until the end of the hockey game.

6th Place Finish

We finished in a solid 6th place and now we look to our opponents in the playoff. We have to be pleased with that, once again progressing forward, I make no qualms about it, we were shooting for 4th and ended up in 6th but it's incredible to think over the course of a 60 game season, three teams were only separated by a point and the league table was extremely close. The margins of error were very fine.

Nottingham Panthers – Playoff Quarter Final Opponents

Once again, for seven years running, Fife Flyers have secured a playoff spot and to do that in one of the toughest leagues to date is a tremendous accomplishment. We have fared well against the Nottingham Panthers this year, the games have all been close and tight. It's a good match-up, we have a Saturday night home game and we will travel down to Nottingham on Sunday.

Aggregate Series

It's now about getting into the aggregate mentality. We got a little sneak peak of it against Glasgow last weekend and this weekend, we will have our guys prepared. For any one of our potential playoff candidates from last week, we would have felt good about going into the series.

Overall Thoughts

A bit of a mixed bag really. We had a dream start and by mid-October, we were in 1st place. I think our fortunes this season are really reflective of the key injuries in the lineup, this is by far the most injured I have seen a squad in the Elite League era. It's a credit to the guys who play through these things night in and night out. What they have accomplished short-handed is amazing. It's important to remember that we have been playing with four D-men for quite some time now and playing with two centre men for a while now. All these things take their toll, not only for the individuals who are logging the extra minutes, but the team as whole. They've held strong through a very tough year and saw their way through it.

End of Season Awards Night

Once again it's lovely to see the fans turnout. Ali McLaren did a fantastic job MCing as usual. Shane Owen getting Player of the Year is a just award, he has been fantastic in every single minute of every single game this year and I couldn't think of a better player to get it.

Injuries

Injuries are just kind of touch and go. Paul Crowder has skated with us this week, Evan Stoflet has not. Chase Schaber is obviously still in the same position as he has been in the last couple of weeks and Chris Wands as well. Not a lot of movement other than Crowder, but it's a positive step.

Final Word

On behalf of my coaching staff and our players, I would like to whole-heatedly thank our wonderful and incredibly loyal fan base for their support for the course of the entire season. The atmosphere lately in the building has been dynamic and makes it difficult for any team to come and play in Fife and easier for their team to play in front of them. We are going to need them loud and in numbers this weekend against the Nottingham Panthers.

Ryan DINGLE

Ryan Dingle will always be remembered fondly from his time in Fife. He combined work ethic and leadership with skill and points production. He was a 'team-first' player who played his heart out every shift. Ryan first joined the Flyers in 2015 and spent two seasons in Fife, playing a total of 90 league games, posting 103 points (50+53). He also played 18 Challenge Cup games, posting 16 points (5+11) and six post-season games, returning three goals. His work ethic and passion for the game was infectious. Players in the 'Dingle mould' don't come along often and it's a privilege to have had seen him wearing Blue, White and Gold.

Where did it all start for you with your love of hockey?

I was almost born into hockey. My father was born and raised in Minnesota. He played hockey there up until he went to University. He began coaching shortly after that. I don't remember learning to skate or even my first team, but as far back as I can remember, I loved the sport.

Was it always your ambition to be a hockey player?

Even though I have always loved the sport, I didn't give playing professionally much thought until I was a couple of years into University. I tried to live in the moment. Being a shorter guy, it was a little out of reach (pun intended). That's not saying I didn't pretend to be in the NHL when I was in youngster and off the ice.

By Calum McLean

Where did you play your junior hockey?

I played three junior seasons in the USHL, a year and a half for the Des Moines Buccaneers (where I graduated high school and played with Evan Stoflet) and a year and a half for the Tri-City Storm. I have great memories of my junior career where I was an assistant captain, captain and won the regular season title with the Storm. I lived with great families along the way and cherish my time with them.

You played in Denver during your college career and won the championship. What your memories from that?

Playing for the University of Denver and winning the National Championship title with them will go down as one of my career highlights. I came in as a freshman the year after DU won the National Championship. I remember feeling like I had missed out on a great opportunity. Next season, we won again. We won everything that was put in front of us that season; the mid-season Christmas tournament, the WCHA regular season title, the WCHA playoff title and National Championship were all ours. It was a great year!

Your professional career began in the AHL. What was that league like?

I found the AHL a difficult league to play in. I was coming from the University of Denver where it was a team first atmosphere. Once I turned pro, I felt like it was every-man for themselves. In the American league, there is a lot of turnover midseason, guys getting called up and guys getting sent down. Putting yourself in a place for individual success was the most important. I'm not saying that that is everyone's experience in the AHL, just how felt. I remember longing of that team atmosphere again.

In 2010-'11, you played under Flyers legend, Mark Morrison. What was it like to play for Mark?

I really enjoyed playing for Mo. He has a great hockey mind that pairs perfectly with his passion and desire to win. It's a recipe for success. He made it easy to follow his lead. I didn't know then about his career in the UK, but after I signed with the Flyers it was immediately brought to my attention. It is fun seeing his continued success in the hockey world.

You spent four seasons with Cortina in Italy. How was that experience for you?

My time in Italy was one to remember. My wife and I got engaged there, we made great friends there, enjoyed some of the best food in the world and got to experience Italy for four seasons. There is not too much to complain about there. I met a lot of great people, locals and imports, during my time there. I even played with current Flyers defenceman, Ricards Birzins for a season in Cortina.

How did the move to Fife come about?

I have great memories of my time in Italy, but it was time for a new experience. Former Flyer and Current Blaze Head Coach, Danny Stewart was a huge part of my transition to Fife. We have a mutual friend that he played with in college and I played with in Italy. Through that connection, we started having conversations about my change of scenery. Danny is a great recruiter (as you can see how my remaining time in the UK played out). I cherish our friendship to this day.

How did you enjoy your time at the Flyers?

I loved my time in Fife! My oldest son was born in Kirkcaldy, we made it to the playoff weekend in Nottingham, I was able to eat the best fish and chips EVER at Valente's and don't get me started on the single malt scotch! All jokes aside, I loved playing for Dutes, Hutch and the Flyers organisation. All of the pieces are in place for a great organisation to continue their success for a long time. Also, when I think of my goal song, it brings a smile to my face thinking of the Auld Barn rocking...

How does the hockey in the UK compare to other leagues you have played in?

Playing in the UK was a great experience! When Stewy started to recruit me to Fife, I had the impression that the Elite League was a goon league. He quickly convinced me otherwise. I was surprised once my first season there got underway. Having 13-14 imports (mostly North Americans) on each team quickly turns the style of play into the fast paced, hard hitting game we all love. In Italy, the number of imports altered all four seasons that I was there. The number of imports went from 9 to 7 to 6 to 4 per team each season. The biggest change was the dominate language in the locker room over those four years. There are great hockey players born in Italy and the UK, but when the majority of each team is from a different country, the style of play alters slightly. However, the atmosphere at games in the UK and Italy are unique. I had so much fun playing in front of the passionate fans throughout the world.

You made the playoffs all three season in the UK. What do you think about the short format?

Funny enough, I still talk about the first round aggregate score games. When I bring it up, people usually look at me like I am speaking a different language (maybe Scottish). I honestly like both playoff formats for different reasons. There is something special about playing best of seven series. The blood, sweat and tears that go into winning a championship in that format is incomparable to any other sport. However, in the Elite League, having to be on the top of your game for 60 minutes, four games straight is great too. You can't take a shift off, especially in the first round. I remember my first year in Fife, we were down by a goal to Braehead with two minutes left in the third period of the first leg. I was able to even up the score and then Kyle Haines took the lead. Those two minutes changed everything for us.

You made it all way to Nottingham with the Flyers during the 2015-'16 season. What was it like being in the Final Four weekend?

That weekend is AMAZING! Never will you see all of the teams in the league represented in one building. The fans chanting, cheering and booing as if their teams were playing in each game. I am so happy that I got to witness the Playoff weekend in Nottingham with my own eyes.

You retired from playing last summer after a year in Coventry. How does it feel being on the bench as a coach?

Life after playing is great! I am currently the Head Coach/GM of a junior hockey team in my hometown, Steamboat Springs, Colorado. I am also the Director of Player Development for the youth association. So, I work with boys and girls from 5-21 years old that play hockey in town. I am extremely fortunate to be involved in the growth of hockey in my hometown.

Final Message

Best of luck to the Flyers this weekend! It will be a great weekend of playoff hockey. Fans - cheer the boys on like I know you can! I hope to hear a little "Reach Up" by the Perfecto All Stars in the highlights!! It's a great opportunity to make it 'Scottingham' two years in a row!

Fife Flyers Awards

The event got underway at 7:45pm with host Ali McLaren welcoming players, fans and sponsors, before handing over to head coach Todd Dutiaume.

Dutiaume thanked fans for their support throughout the season, which saw the team qualify for the end of season playoffs and finish in 6th position final league standings.

Flyers will come up against the leagues number 3 seeded team the Nottingham Pamthers in the playoff quarter final, with the home tie taking place at Fife Ice Arena on Saturday 6th April, face-off 7:15pm.

As well as celebrating the player awards, Wednesday evening also allowed the organisation to thank fans, players, sponsors, staff and volunteers.

Russ MOYER

Russ Moyer will always be in the history books at the Fife Flyers as the captain who lifted the organisation's first EIHL silverware in the Gardiner Conference title. A quality offensive defenceman, Moyer's ability at both ends of the ice makes him one of the best we have seen during the Flyers EIHL era. Over two seasons, Russ played 100 league games, posting 64 points (11+53). He also made 16 Challenge Cup appearances and six playoff appearances, posting 11 assists in the CC.

Where did it all start for you with your love of hockey?

Being from Northern Ontario, we have long cold winters and my parents were both hockey fans and my dad a former player. They introduced my brother and I to the sport at an early age and we took a liking to it right away.

Ever since I was a little kid I wanted to be a professional hockey player. Obviously the goal as a child was to play in the NHL. By the time I was about 17, I knew that wasn't going to be a realistic goal. However, I always aspired to play at as high a level as possible.

By Calum McLean

What was it like playing four years at Acadia University?

It was a great experience, the province of Nova Scotia reminds me a lot of Scotland. The Annapolis Valley the area where I went to school reminds me a lot of Fife in particular. The people were great and I met a lot of great people thanks to going to school there.

You first made the move over to Europe in 2009 with two seasons in Denmark. What was this transition like?

We had a great organisation and was lucky to play in a very nice city. Unfortunately, we under-achieved my two years there. But it was a great learning experience. The hockey was fast and less physical than what I had been playing in North America the previous couple of seasons.

In Sweden you achieved promotion twice, one with IF Björklöven and the other with Karlskrona HK. What are your memories from those two successful seasons?

Both were amazing experiences, yet polarising. In Bjorkloven, right from the beginning of the season we were expected to get promoted. As a result, the pressure was very high. Bjorkloven was an older franchise with a long history of playing at Sweden's top level and the fans expected our group to get the organisation back there. When we won, it was great accomplishment and the feeling was more that of huge relief. It was a very rewarding experience.

In Karlskrona, we were a smaller organisation. I believe we had the lowest salary in the league and the league was stacked with great teams since the following year the SHL was expanding by two teams. At the beginning of the season, we expected to finish around 1.3th out of 14 teams. We were a group that had struggled to find contracts in the league and adopted the persona of being misfits and outcasts. We really gelled and rallied around this. We were a real team with no stars. We went on a good run and I believe that it was the most rewarding season of my career. We've hand some players who really turned their careers around that season, a few that have been SHL regulars and even a couple who have gone on to great seasons in the KHL.

Your first taste of EIHL hockey was with Sheffield Steelers where you won the league title. What was that experience like, especially with winning it in Fife? In Sheffield, we had a very strong team, however the amount of pressure and stress that comes with playing there was actually a little crazy. It is not easy going week to week wondering if they are planning on bringing in new players. When we won the league that season, it was more of a relief feeling as well, I was struggling with some pretty serious injuries the last month of the season and was relieved that it was over. I think as result, there was a big let-down and we were bounced in the first round by Coventry.

You make the move to Fife the following season. How did that come about?

Originally, I was told that I would be re-signing with Sheffield. I then received an email a short time later that we wouldn't be coming back. I then emailed every team in the league. Fife was the only team that showed interest. I was very lucky that they did since my wife and I couldn't have imagined finishing our career in a better place.

How did you enjoy your time at the Flyers?

We absolutely loved it. The Flyers family as well as the fans were fantastic and we made many friends away from hockey. Scotland is the most beautiful place in the world and my wife and I explored most of the country each Monday. We are so lucky to have lived in Kirkcaldy for those two seasons.

Last season was the most successful one for Fife in the EIHL and you captained the Flyers to their first piece silverware in EIHL as well as a final four place. What are your memories of last year and what the team achieved?

Winning silverware is why we play hockey. We were a hard working group that was coached well and had contributions by everyone on the roster. It was a rewarding experience and I am lucky to have finished my career in that way. The final four weekend in Nottingham is a unique weekend in hockey. It is a tonne of fun and one that I hope the first year Flyers get to experience.

You retired from playing at the end of last season. What do you do now?

The transition away from hockey has gone very smoothly and came at the right time for both my wife and I. I am not doing much with hockey and have only played a handful of times but my wife and I are both busy with work and enjoying the long, cold, snowy winter. I am working with local police Service in North Bay and my wife is a teacher. Life is great but I am sure at least once a week we always wish we were back in Scotland and/or getting ready for a home game at the FIA.

Final Message

I would like the wish them all the best for these playoffs and in the future. I will forever be grateful and thankful to have finished my career as a Flyer. I will forever be indebted to Dutes for signing me and making the final two seasons of my career some of the most memorable. We hope to get back to Fife as soon as possible!

U10 FIFE EAGLES

Eagles were on the road to Ayr to face-off against Bruins and Stars in a three-team tournament. They played both Ayr and Dundee twice winning ALL the games convincingly.

Due to a few call ups to the Redskins and a couple of call offs, the Eagles were severely under strength, but used the opportunity to bring up a trio of Kubz players... Jackson O'Neil, Murray Whyte and Ryan McGroarty... All played really well and bagged several goals in the process!

The Eagles team:

Logan Kenny (nm), Barri O'Hare, Blayne Thorbjornsen, Evan Ness, Finlay O'Neil, Kaeden Aird, Lewis Blyth, Cole Wallace, Rennie Taylor, Ryan Venters, Jackson O'Neil, Murray Whyte, Ryan McGroarty.

^{Kyle} HAINES

By Grant Barnes

With Playoff hockey secured once again for the Fife Flyers, there is always one name synonymous with one of the highlight moments in recent years at the Auld Barn.

In the 2015-'16 playoff quarter final, with the game tied 1-1 against bitter rivals the Braehead Clan, it looked likely the tie would be heading into overtime. That was until the puck found its way to Kyle Haines, who fired home with 13 seconds remaining. Fife Ice Arena erupted and a famous Flyers win was secured.

Despite disappointment in Nottingham, the series against the Clan is still talked about to this day, and brings back some fond memories for Haines. "It was one of those moments that I still think about from time to time and it gives me chills. It was such a big game and to score late like that in the period was amazing. I sort of blacked out after the goal and I faintly recall the Auld Barn going bananas. It was definitely a special night!"

Haines tended to have a knack of finding himself on the scoresheet against the Clan, however it could have been a very different story for Haines and both sides.

"To be honest, they were the first team I talked to in the UK and I thought we were close to getting a deal done and then things went south so part of me always wanted to show them what they missed out on."

Clan's loss was immediately the Flyers gain and Haines didn't have to wait long to get his own back.

"I remember my first game in the UK was in Glasgow and I had two goals and felt a great deal of satisfaction. Then as I learned more about the rivalry, I just wanted to beat them because I did not like those purple bricks!"

There was a great team spirit around the team at that time, and whilst the Flyers may not have been the favourites going into the Playoffs that year, that didn't matter for Haines.

"It was a great group of guys that all got along very well. We wanted to win and play hard for the guy beside us. It was a lot of fun and I'm very thankful for the friendships and experiences I had during my time in Fife!

"When I am old and wrinkled, I will look back on those days as some of the best I've had."

Haines played a pivotal role in those teams, he donned the captain's badge in the 2014-'15 season, then was made alternate captain badge in 2015-'16. There was obvious pressure with the letters on his shirt, but it was something Haines looked to thrive upon.

"Adding a letter to your jersey definitely adds a lot of pressure. It forces you to be at your best every night and to be doing the little things right on and off the ice. I wasn't the most vocal leader but always tried to lead by example."

Since their induction into the EIHL, the Flyers have only missed the cut for the Playoffs once, in their inaugural year. In the seven years since, they have made the final weekend in Nottingham three times. Whilst the Flyers may not go into the campaign as heavy favourites, the occasion was always a time Haines would look to thrive under.

"The atmosphere in Nottingham was incredible and it made you elevate your game to the next level! We were fighting for our lives and you left everything out there in hopes of making the final game and trying to win a Championship. Unfortunately, we never made it past the semis but we played some excellent hockey."

With the quality of the EIHL improving each year, the size of the task increases every year, but it's a game of fine margins as Haines knows well.

"Just go and enjoy the moment and don't put to much pressure on yourself. The pressure should be on the higher seeded team. They are usually tight checking games and you need to capitalise on your opportunities. Enjoy the experience."

Last year's tie against Manchester epitomises the spirit these Flyers teams have had, and it's an ethos that Haines himself worked under to see the Flyers consistently achieving at this high level. "I think Todd, Dan and Jeff did a great job of bringing in quality people. Obviously there are expectations in Fife but there wasn't a tremendous amount of pressure which allowed us to play a little more freely. They also let guys find their game instead of constantly bringing guys in and out like the bigger clubs." Even from Haines' early days in the league, there has been a raft of changes into the way the game is played, however the UK is a place Haines will always feel is beneficial for players.

"The number of imports increased each year which was very fortunate for the Brits. The league's reputation also increased over the years and the calibre of players was definitely improving."

"I think the UK is an attractive place to play for North Americans as there is no language barrier and you're still in a foreign country making money."

Haines has now since dipped his hand into coaching back in Canada, and was appointed the Head Coach of the Weyburn Red Wings. However, he always still one eye looking across the pond.

"I check the standings and I was really pleased to see them get off to such a hot start. Only a few guys I played with are still there but I am always rooting for the Flyers!"

Dan CEMEN

Dan Ceman arrived part way through Flyers' inaugural season in 2011-'12 and was made captain after a number of departures. Dan parted with Dundee Stars that season and decided to make the short move down to Kirkcaldy after talking with Todd Dutiaume. Dan posted 16 points that season (6+10) in 25 games.

Dan's experience was self-evident as he was a Calder Cup and Kelly Cup winner in his early career in the AHL and ECHL respectively. He also had a long career playing all over the UK, playing in Sheffield, Bracknell, Nottingham, Dundee and Fife, plus various years in Europe, mostly in Denmark and a year in France.

These days, Dan has been coaching in Denmark and is now at HC Banska Bystrica in Slovakia where he enjoys having a big staff to help and the team is currently sitting first in the Slovakian league.

Early Career

I came out of college and played a couple of years in the US and ended up going to Sheffield with Don McKee who was coaching at the University of Waterloo was trying to recruit Canadian university kids for his first job in Europe. I went to Sheffield with Donny and it that started 15/16 years of playing in Europe with years in Denmark and France.

Winning the Calder Cup & Kelly Cup

That was a pretty amazing start to my career. I got to play in the AHL right out of college, it was a great experience and then I went down to Virginia and played for the Hampton Roads Admirals where I played for a legendary coach in John Brophy who was old-school and all about playing tough and mean. I learned a lot from him and we went on to win the Kelly Cup championship my first year pro. I was lucky enough to get back to the AHL and be part of that Calder Cup team the next year.

Then it was years and years before I won a championship. You definitely cherish the trophies that you win because the next one might not be coming too soon.

Staying in the UK, Playing For: Steelers, Bracknell Bees, Nottingham Panthers, Dundee Stars and Flyers

A lot of guys stay in the league because it's a fun league to play in, it's more North American style hockey than some leagues in Europe. It's an easy transition and once you get some success in the league, you find other teams who were interested in you.

Winning the Danish Championship

Denmark was a really great experience as well. I had a run of six years playing and another few years coaching. The win came in 2008-'09 and it had been a while since I had won any trophies. That year, we thought we had a good chance and we had a good run the year before. We had a really strong team and I was lucky enough to be the captain. We steam rolled everybody that year and it was a great year and to win the championship two years in a row.

Back to the UK & Signing for Dundee Stars

It was coming towards the end of my playing career, I only had a year or two left to play and I put my name out there to be a player/coach and Dundee was starting their franchise up again in the top league. I contacted them and it worked out. It was tonne of work to do to get the team off the ground and running at a professional level. I learned a lot playing and coaching in Dundee and I had to figure it out as we went along.

💆 @kingdomfm 🚹 /kingdomfm www.kingdomfm.co.uk

Proud To Support

Signing for Flyers

The second year in Dundee, we weren't doing that well and we decided to part ways. I knew Mark Dutiaume, I played with him for a few years and I got to know Todd as well, met him a few times and got to know him a little bit. We got in touch with each other and coming to Flyers was an easy transition for my wife and me, moving 40 minutes down the road and play for a guy I really respected in Dutes. That was a tough year for Dutes, but we had a great group of guys and we kept everything going and I was really happy I had the opportunity to play in Fife.

Named Captain

It was a show of respect. I was an older guy and they liked the way I played. Stewy [Danny Stewart] was the player/assistant so I was just coming in as a player and it was a good fit. We weren't able to have any success that year, but we met a lot of good people. It was clear Dutes had a good vision of what he wanted the team to look like and moving forward as well. He's a strong leader and is the right man in charge, for sure.

Playoff Advice

I keep my eye on UK hockey and I know that Fife a great first half, then struggled a bit. Fife usually goes into the playoffs as a bit of an underdog, but anything can happen in the UK, you have to be at your best every game, but you can beat anybody on any day. The underdog mentality can be more fun, just need to take the chances and they could beat anyone.

Coaching Career

I realised I wanted to get into coaching more and playing was getting harder and harder on the body. I love coaching. It's as close as you can get to playing, especially in hockey it's the best job you can possibly have, and coaching is as close as you can be to that. If you have a good coaching staff as well. I am lucky enough here in Slovakia that I have two assistant coaches, a goalie coach, a video coach, a mental coach and a manager. That brings some of the camaraderie back. Sometimes coaching with a smaller staff can be a lonely job at times, but it has been a great ride so far.

Final Message

We appreciate everything from that particular season. How the fans supported the team that year was amazing, especially since it was a tough season. Fife fans are some of the best I have ever come across. They'll support their team going forward through all the ups and downs. Kirkcaldy is always a tough old rink to play in and I loved it. Hopefully some day we get to come back and say 'Hi'!

My dearest hockey friends, the league is over with Belfast Giants winning the trophy whilst sitting in their pyjamas and slippers on Sunday whilst Coventry Blaze stunned Cardiff Devils with a 3-1 win at the Skydome, leaving Devils and Giants equal on points with Giants winning thanks to the tie breaker rules.

In a moment, we can forget all that. First, it is necessary to reflect positively on Flyers' sixth place position in the league where the guys had to drag a bruised and depleted squad across the line and did so in a manner where we can do nothing but heap praise on their efforts.

Third spot was a mere four points out our grasp and such was the competitiveness of the last few months. Manchester Storm occupied ninth place, out of the playoffs, and was a scant seven points behind Flyers. Few people were sad to see Blaze beat Storm to put the league out of their reach, most of those few were Storm fans.

In the last weekend of regulation, Flyers were unceremoniously dumped by Giants 7-0 in Belfast they regrouped and pulled off a tremendous win in Braehead Arena against the Clan, stunning the Renfrewshire team with a late winner courtesy of Evan Bloodoff, his second of the night.

That brought us to Sunday, and despite being short benched, our battered and bruised heroes laced up to battle for the final points of the season. It was almost a dead rubber game, playing only for position in the league and the variables being that Flyers could have met Flames, Clan or Panthers in the playoff quarter finals this weekend with no real fear about any of those match-ups.

Panthers it is and we look forward to hosting Nottingham tonight. Panthers will be without Jaynen Rissling who will serve game two of his extremely lenient two-game suspension as a repeat (3peat?) check to the head offender for his actions against Bari last time Panthers were here and should also be without Alex Guptill who, if the rules are correctly applied, should be suspended for one match for being a dafty and instigating a fight in the dying seconds of their last regular season game against Flames last weekend.

Panthers are likely to be without Steve Lee who needed surgery after taking a sore one from the Bull last time they visited though I suspect the warrior in him could tempt him to lace up complete with full visor at some point if the pain and medical advice allows.

I strongly suspect we will see the physical side of Panthers as they attempt to add to Flyers aches though the thing they have going for them, their size, is the same thing that'll count against them on the bigger ice...I wish I hadn't already used my "UHT milk turns faster than" quip this season as I'd have loved to have rolled that out right now. Not thinking about any 'Guy' in particular cough Lepine cough.

Expect also to see Munson take the start in nets after his strong performances or I will eat my specially created doughnut hat with chocolate topping.

Where Flyers will still be short-benched tomorrow night, Panthers will be back up to strength and gunning for some post season success as they focus on the finals weekend in their own barn. It will be a hard-fought two-game aggregate series and no quarter will be asked or given. This is the playoffs and any form book that may have been printed will have been ripped up and hung in the toilet for repurposing.

Sadly, the time of the season has come where I sign off, pack up my quill and parchment and head into the sunset. Thank you for buying and reading this fine publication, I hope you have enjoyed the efforts of the many contributors over the course of the season. I would like to take the opportunity to thank the owners and Editor for allowing me the very real honour of being able to continue to write for our team again and wish all fans, players, staff and owners a very healthy and enjoyable off season as we count down the days until we meet in the Auld Barn to do it all again.

The players deserve every ounce of credit, appreciation and thanks we can muster as our Flyers team arrived at the end of the season determined, driven and committed to the team and cause. As fans we could not ask for any more than has been given.

For one final time, all that's left for us to do is bring the noise, get right behind the guys and blaw the roof aff the Auld Barn. Come on You Flyers!

Darrian.

Justin DACOSTA

Justin DaCosta captained the Flyers in their 75th anniversary year in the 2013-'14 season and lead the team to their first ever playoff finals weekend in Nottingham. He came in to the team with a long playing history in Europe and North America, but this was the first time he had worn the 'C'. Justin posted 34 points (7+27) from the blue line that season, playing 53 games in all competitions.

Justin's early career saw him play four years in the OHL for the Barrie Colts, Owen Sound Attack and his hometown team, the Mississauga IceDogs. He said:

"I was fortunate to end my last two years playing at home in Mississauga. It was nice to play at home in front of friends and family."

He then spent three years the USports league with the University of New Brunswick. In his final year at university he was called up to the Colorado Eagles in the CHL to bolster their playoff run. His next two years pro were with Stockton Thunder in the ECHL and Allen Americans in the CHL.

Justin spent several years with clubs in Europe before coming to Flyers. He had stints in France, Hungary and Finland, plus another stint in the ECHL with the Elmira Jackals. Speaking about his time touring Europe, he said:

"I loved every bit of it. Getting to experience different cities, different cultures not to mention all the sight-seeing that we're able to do. I loved playing in each country I played in as they all offered something a little different. It was an awesome experience."

Speaking about how he came to sign for the Flyers and his most vivid memories of that year, Justin said:

"I spoke to Danny Stewart and we had a good conversation and next thing you know I was in Kirkcaldy.

"It's such a storied franchise and the people of Fife are so passionate about their hockey. I was proud to Captain that team. It was an honour. It also helped that we had some good people in that dressing room who were good leaders.

"I loved living in Fife. The memories I made there with my wife were awesome. We both loved living on the water and enjoyed walking along High Street and visiting various coffee shops."

In what was a mixed bag that year with a dismal run into the New Year, then an intense run toward the end of the season which saw the team qualify for the playoffs with just one point to spare. They then went on to play conference champions, Dundee Stars in the quarter final and went through with an emphatic 8-4 aggregate win to make the showcase weekend in Nottingham for the first time. "That was something else," he said about the massive run, "The confidence our team had every night was unbelievable. We just kept winning and winning and had some unbelievable comebacks during that run. Everything was clicking and we were running on all cylinders."

The team faced Belfast Giants in the semi-final and were downed 1-0, it remains, arguably, the team's best performance at the finals weekend. Recalling that unforgettable experience, Justin said:

"Playing in the final four is always special in that environment. It's such a fun weekend and although we were disappointed with the result, it was a cool experience."

The following year, Justin managed to win the playoff trophy with Coventry Blaze after signing part way through the season after a stint in Poland. Justin recalled how it felt to get his hands on that trophy after the heartache of the year before.

"It was such a great feeling. We were obviously the underdogs against Sheffield and to come out on top in such a big game was special. Something I'll remember forever."

Since leaving the UK in 2015, Justin returned to Canada to play briefly for Brampton Beast before leaving professional hockey to return to his home region to take up a new job. Justin still keeps himself involved in hockey by playing in the ACH with the Stoney Creek Generals and also coaching kids in his spare time. He says he is having fun playing in the retired pro league and is playing with some familiar names from recent years.

"Playing in Stoney Creek has been awesome. It's a tonne of fun and playing with a bunch of guys I've either played with or against during my playing career. Guys like the Hotham brothers, who played in Cardiff. It's my third year playing here and it's been a lot of fun so far."

Aside from the EIHL playoffs, Justin has won the Hungarian championship and Stoney Creek has topped the league for the three years Justin has been with them. He says the road to each trophy has adversity and each is a unique experience.

"Every team is different and every journey to a championship has its own story with times of adversity that make each championship unique. They were all an amazing experience."

Finally, Justin gave his thoughts on Flyers reaching their 80th anniversary and offered his well wishes to the current team starting what is hopefully a deep run in the playoffs.

"The fan base in Kirkcaldy is so strong and passionate that I can't wait till I hear about their 100th anniversary. It's a great place to play.

"Have fun and enjoy the experience, enjoy the journey and best of luck!"
