A visit to Columbia County offers a scenic trip through the rolling sand hills of interior Florida. Cattle ranches, scattered pines, manicured horse farms and homesteads that stand as the foundation of generations of family commitments to the land. Our county is beautiful in its own, easy-breathing way. There is plenty of open space and fresh air to clear the mind. There are unobstructed views, green grass, forests and pastures all waiting to be observed.

We pride ourselves in that our quality of life is based on the natural wonders present in rural Florida. We're eager to showcase it to our visitors and our prospective new residents, and we hope you will love it as much as we do and help us smartly preserve these natural treasures.

Lake City is the central hub of Columbia County, our home base, and a growing center of regional commerce. Our retail base has exploded during the past few years with the construction of new shopping centers and the addition of many retail hubs and new restaurants.

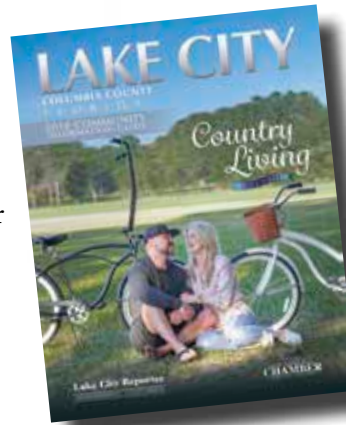

There's always room for more business here, too. Our growth has been measured and smart and we're expanding at a manageable pace, so if you're considering expanding or relocating your business, we're ready for you and we're eager to greet you with a firm handshake and a welcoming smile. Ours is a community that values hard work and common sense values that lead to economic success.

Once again we're very excited to have the Lake City/Columbia County Chamber of Commerce join us as a partner in this 2018 Guide to Lake City and Columbia County. Inclusive information about the Chamber and the benefits offered to business members are included at the back of the magazine. Also, the complete Chamber membership listing is included. The Lake City Reporter and the Chamber of Commerce share the same outlook on our local business community and that is to lift each other up through strong partnerships. Working together, we all become stronger.

Enjoy this magazine and enjoy Lake City and Columbia County, an area we think is the finest in Florida.

EXPLORE LIFE IN Natural Florida

Columbia County is a destination for freshwater springs, state parks and more!

Columbia County is the Freshwater Recreation Capital of America, with dozens of waterways throughout and surrounding the area. Whether you're looking to kayak down the Suwannee River, snorkel and scuba dive through underground caverns, take a stroll through the woods or simply spend the day enjoying the great outdoors, Columbia County has it all.

Here in Columbia County, you can enjoy the peaceful, picturesque, natural landscapes all year around. From summer days splashing in the springs to winter hikes through the state parks, there is adventure every day of the year here in our neck of the woods.

Ichetucknee Springs, O'Leno State Park, Stephen Foster State Park and Olustee State Park are just a few of the many natural wonders of Columbia County.

Ichetucknee Springs

Columbia County is surrounded by some of the most beautiful freshwater springs in the world. Ichetucknee Springs is by far the most popular freshwater destination in the area. The springs and the Ichetucknee River are one of the area's most pristine and popular attractions. As one of the most unique springs in Florida, it draws more than 200,000 people annually to its shores.

During summer months, visitors journey down the river in tubes, rafts, canoes and kayaks for a scenic view of the area. Tubing is the river's largest attraction, and during the warmer parts of the year you can always expect to find hundreds of colorful tubes floating down the river with excited visitors.

If you don't have your own innertube to float down the river, there's no need to worry. The park offers tube rentals, and there are several tube-rental businesses strategically located outside the park that make it easy to choose your favorite form of flotation.

While guests can tube from the mid-point of the river all year, the full six-mile trip can only be enjoyed between Memorial Day and Labor Day so the shallow north section of the river has time to regrow and recover from the heavy traffic of the summer.

One of the best features about the Ichetucknee Springs State Park is it offers a tram service to take visitors back up to the beginning of the springs after enjoying their float down the river. However, there is no tram service in the off-season. The tram costs $5 plus tax per person.

Scuba diving is allowed at the Blue Hole Spring, located at the Head Spring of the park, from October through March, but divers must be cave or cavern certified. Divers cannot stay past 5 p.m.

Visitors to the park can also picnic, snorkel, canoe, swim, hike and enjoy wildlife. The park has picnic areas equipped with tables and grills throughout the park. A full-service concession offers food, refreshments and outdoor products during the summer months.

The park is a year-round tourist attraction. When the weather cools off, visitors can view the area's wildlife. White-tailed deer, wild turkeys, turtles, tortoises, snakes, great blue herons and Bachman sparrows are just some of the wildlife to be observed.

Visiting explorers can follow natural trails that wind through the park's forested ecosystems. An on-site environmental educational center showcases interactive props, information boards and educational displays on the water's journey.

The park permits canoes and kayaks on the river all year around, which is a perfect way to see the seasons change in Columbia County. There are also picnic areas equipped with tables and grills throughout the park.

Stephen Foster State Park

If you're looking to explore a park filled with history, look no further than Stephen Foster Folk Culture Center State Park. Named for the composer who made the Suwannee River a household name with his song "Old Folks at Home," this state park is located on the banks of the place Stephen Foster called home.

Stephen Foster State Park is one unlike any other. Although it has scenic natural aspects, including lush forests with nature trails and of course the Suwannee River, what makes this state park shine is its culture center and its preservation of the area's history.

The on-site museum features exhibits about Foster's most famous songs and his music can be heard emanating from the park's 97-bell carillon throughout the day. The tower that houses the carillon stands more than 200-feet tall, and is one of the largest musical instruments and houses the largest set of tubular bells in the world. Bell concerts may be heard daily at 10 a.m., noon, 2 p.m. and 4 p.m.

The Stephen Foster museum was built in 1950 and features eight dioramas depicting the composer's songs. Also on display are historic pianos and the desk where Stephen Foster penned the final touches to Florida's state song.

Another popular attraction at Stephen Foster State Park is Craft Square, where demonstrations in blacksmithing, stained-glass making and quilting are offered throughout the day.

Instructors teach craft workshops on the weekends for trades such as pottery, leather working and tie-dying. Pre-made crafts are available in the gift shop.

In addition to all of the historical and creative activities offered at the park, there are also plenty of outdoor activities to take part in. Stephen Foster's Hammock Loop Trail is an eight-mile mountain biking and hiking trail. Along the scenic trail, visitors can see Catfish Hole, the Suwannee River Overlook, Beaver Crossing and other unique areas during this exclusive adventure throughout the upper Suwannee River Valley's diverse topography.

Hikers will see some of the most breathtaking features in nature including high river bluffs and limestone outcroppings, elevations throughout the floodplain swamp forest and many other scenic natural communities.

Carter Camp Trail is also on the property, and is used for hiking, bicycling and horseback riding. Along the four-mile trail visitors travel through piney flatwoods and along a river flood plain hammock.

Situated on more than 80 acres in White Springs, the Stephen Foster Folk Center also hosts the Annual Folk Festival.

In May, the Annual Folk Festival is one of the park's biggest draws. The festival hosts numerous vendors selling crafts and goods. The weekend is also filled with live folk music.

In the winter, the park has its annual Festival of Lights. For the month of December, Stephen Foster State Park is transformed into a winter wonderland as it's bathed in over five million lights. In addition to strolling the grounds or driving through the light displays, the event also includes craft activities, a bonfire, marshmallow roasting and an appearance from Santa Clause.

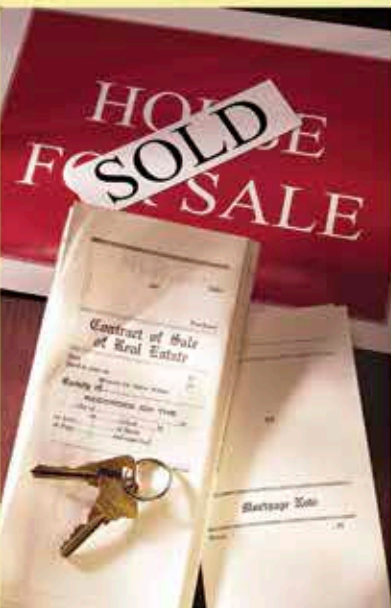

The park also has picnic areas, two playgrounds, fishing areas, and allows pets.

If you want to spend the night along the Suwannee River Wilderness Trail, riverside cabins are available for visitors with reservations. Each cabin comes equipped with a kitchenette, outdoor grill, fireplace and sleeping accommodations for up to six.

🕒 The park is open from 8 a.m. to sunset. The tower and museum are open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

O'Leno State Park

O'Leno State Park is one of Florida's oldest state parks, and prides itself on educating visitors on the history of the park. Located along the banks of the Santa Fe River, the park offers visitors the chance to explore one of most scenic areas of north-central Florida. The park, in addition to its show-stopping suspension bridge, features sinkholes, hardwood hammocks, river swamps and sandhills.

Developed by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the 1930s, a suspension bridge built by the Corps still spans the river and standing on the bridge over the banks of the Santa Fe is a great way to get a complete view of this perfectly preserved piece of Florida.

O'Leno State Parks is one of the best in the area for hiking and walking. There are several trails available at the park, ranging in length. The three most popular hiking trails are the River Trail, the Limestone Trail and Parener's Branch.

The River Trail is a 1.44-mile long hiking trail that takes you along the Santa Fe River to the "River Sink," where the river twists through foliage before is disappears underground and reemerges over three miles away in the River Rise State Preserve. Turtles are often seen basking in the sun, and an alligator or two may even make an appearance.

Limstone Trail is a .61 mile hiking trail that passes through a hardwood hammock, past a limestone outcrop and then past a pine forest. Parener's Branch is the park's longest trail. At 3.69 miles, this multi-use trail loops near several natural sinks that provide a window to the Santa Fe River's underground travels. An additional 35 miles of multi-use trails can be found at River Rise Preserve State Park, and can be used for hiking, biking and equestrian.

The state park also offers several opportunities to view interpretive exhibits. It offers exhibits at the Nature Center, where visitors can pop by and visit some of the park's resident critters, including the gopher tortoise habitat. There is also the Civilian Conservation Corps Museum and Bellamy Road Interpretive Panels, where visitors learn about the first federally-funded road running from St. Augustine to Tallahassee while walking the trail on Old Bellamy Road.

Group gatherings can also be hosted at the large picnic areas, which include grills, pavilions and a playground. Swimming, kayaking, camping and canoeing are also available.

🕒 The park is open from 8 a.m. to sunset throughout the year.

Olustee Battlefield Historic State Park

As the commemorative site of the only major Civil War battle fought on Florida soil, the Olustee Battlefield Historic State Park offers an experience that you can't get anywhere else: the chance to see the paths soldiers walked during the war.

This state park is one of the most revered in the area. Every year in February the Battle of Olustee is remembered with a three-day festival and battle re-enactment.

On February 20, 1864, over 150 years ago, Union and confederate troops clashed at the Battle of Olustee. In 1912 Olustee Battlefield Historic State Park became the state's first historic site.

The best time of year to visit the Olustee Battlefield is during the re-enactment of the Battle of Olustee. The park is filled with Civil War Re-enactors, living historians and period artisans. It's like traveling back in time and experiencing the Civil War-era firsthand.

However, there are still plenty of things to do at the state park during the rest of the year. The park has an Interpretive Center, which contains exhibits with artifacts and interpretive panels that tell the story of the campaign that led up to the Battle of Olustee.

There is also a one-mile nature trail where visitors can follow the battle lines of the Battle of Olustee.

Picnic tables are located in a shaded grove of tall pine trees, and are perfect for having an outdoor meal. Pets are also allowed at the park.

There is no entrance fee required to enter the park. However, there is a special event fee to attend the Battle of Olustee Reenactment in February.

📍 The park is open daily from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

ENJOY THE NATURAL WONDERS OF THE County Parks

With playgrounds, picnic spots and access to fresh waterways, our county parks provide the perfect place to enjoy natural life in Columbia County.

Alligator Lake Recreation Area

The Alligator Lake Recreation Area is Columbia County's most popular park, providing an assortment of outdoor activities and plenty of opportunities for fun.

South of downtown Lake City and restored from agricultural land to wetlands, this county park includes 12-miles of hiking/biking trails, a shaded, handicapped-accessible playground, six covered picnic pavilions, a sand volleyball court and a horseshoe pit. There are also fishing areas, nature observation areas, canoe trails and canoe-launch areas.

Hiking is Alligator Lake's primary recreational focus. Some hiking trails start just behind the restrooms and playground, and offer short walks through the forest along the east side of the park. The longest loop, Montgomery Trail, offers more of a trek, starting down at the canoe launch and circling the impoundments along the Alligator Lake.

The lake, tucked away off Old Country Club Road, totals nearly 800 acres and is located in Columbia County, while the park is 130 acres. Nearly two-thirds of the lake's surface area is within the city limits.

Columbia County's Alligator Lake opened in April 2002. A small boat launch on the north marsh and boardwalks provide anglers a local fishing spot. However, Alligator Lake is a Fish Management Area, so a license is required to fish in the north and south lake basins and the north and south marshes.

During the waterfowl hunting season, no fishing access will be permitted in the north and south marshes on Tuesdays and Thursdays until noon. The area is established as a small game hunting area, which means ducks only.

Several sinkholes are located in the north and south basins of the lake. These provide a direct connection to the aquifer. Alligator Lake is the headwaters for Ichetucknee Springs. One of the sinkholes frequently causes the northern lake basin to drain during periods of drought.

The park also has the Ponderosa Pavilion, which is available by reservation only for special events.

Alligator Lake Recreation Area is located at 420 SW Alligator Glen in Lake City. The park is open Tuesday through Sunday from 8 a.m. to sundown.

Contact the county at 386-719-7545 for more information.

Falling Creek Falls

Falling Creek Falls was the site of the first settlement in this area of the county, and a short, accessible boardwalk trail offers easy access to a breathtaking view of one of Columbia County's hidden treasures.

Surrounded by pine plantations and scenic flatwoods stands a cascading 10-foot waterfall. Florida has very few existing waterfalls, one of which is right here in Columbia County.

The park sits in the northern portion of the county near the intersection of U.S. Highway 441 and Interstate 10 on County Road 131, with a small creek dividing the northern and southern section of the park. The area is made up of 75 acres, 13 of which are maintained for the Falling Creek Falls Park. Opened in 2001, Falling Creek Falls features a recreation site with picnic tables, a playground, a boardwalk to the falls and a historic wooden church.

At normal water levels, the creek roars over the 10-foot waterfall then flows under Falling Creek Road. It pools over limestone boulders at the bottom of a deep ravine before disappearing underground. The location was the site of the first settlement in the area.

For bird watchers, Falling Creek Falls Park is a part of the Great Florida Birding Trail. Visitors can also enjoy hiking, picnicking and wildlife viewing.

The park features a 0.6 mile loop trail that takes visitors on a walk in the woods past rapids in the creek.

The park is managed through a partnership with Columbia County and Suwannee River Water Management District. The property was purchased from the Parker and Hogan Families to protect and preserve the falls. For park information, contact the county at 386-719-7545. The park is open all week long from 8 a.m. until sundown.

PARK HOURS:

- Alligator Lake Recreation Area is open Tuesday through Sunday from 8 a.m. to sundown.
- Falling Creek Falls is open all week long from 8 a.m. until sundown.
- Rum Island is open all year around for visitors to enjoy. Contact the county at 386-719-7545 for more information.

Rum Island Park

Rum Island Spring Park is the only park in the area that provides free access to a swimmable spring. Visit this beautiful, freshwater spring in Fort White and you can also access the Santa Fe River.

The park at Rum Island is free to anyone who wishes to come and swim, fish, snorkel, boat or picnic. It also offers free access to the Santa Fe River through a public boat ramp and swimming spot. The park is open all year around for visitors to enjoy.

The park provides a picnic area and is maintained by Columbia County. About eight known springs make up the Rum Island Park system, fed by one of the several dozen freshwater springs that feed the Santa Fe River. The springs include Rum Island Spring and Little Rum Island Spring Run.

The spring of Rum Island consists of a 200-foot-diameter pool north-west of Rum Island.

Rum Island Spring Park is located at 1447 SW Rum Island Terr. in Fort White. Contact the county at 386-719-7545 for more information.

After three seasons he was traded to the Eagles.

In 2015, Jernigan played in 15 games for the Ravens, and recorded 37 tackles and four sacks. Jernigan had a standout 2016 season, and during the Ravens’ game against the Jaguars in Jacksonville on Sept. 25, Jernigan decided to give back to the city he grew up in. He bought 90 tickets for Lake City children and chaperones, so that they could have the opportunity to attend an NFL game, many of them for the first time.

George Allen “Pat” Summerall

One of the nation’s most famous sportscasters, Pat Summerall began his career as a four-sport athlete at Columbia High School.

Summerall played football at the University of Arkansas from 1949 to 1951.

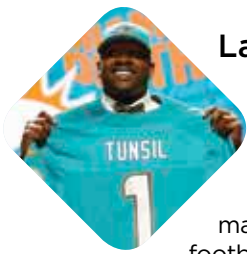

He was then drafted by the Detroit Lions as a fourth-round pick in the 1952 NFL Draft, and eventually saw the best playing time in his career as a kicker for the New York Giants from 1958 to 1961.

After retiring from football, Summerall joined CBS as a commentator. Summerall was named the National Sportscaster of the Year by the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association in 1977, and was inducted into their Hall of Fame in 1994. That year, he also received the Pete Rozelle Radio-Television Award from the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

The “Pat Summerall Award” has been presented since 2006 during Super Bowl weekend at the NFL’s headquarters hotel. Overall, he announced 13 Super Bowls, 26 Masters Tournaments and 21 U.S. Opens on network television. Summerall died at the age of 82 on April 16, 2013 in Dallas.

Laremy Tunsil

Although he's only in his second season in the NFL, offensive tackle Laremy Tunsil has been making his mark as a professional football player after starting nearly every game of the 2016 season for the Miami Dolphins.

The 23-year-old Columbia High School graduate as a two-time All-State offensive lineman for the Tigers and helped lead his team to the Class 6A state quarterfinals. The five-star recruit was listed as the highest-ranked offensive tackle prospect in his class, and he signed with Ole Miss in 2013. He earned SEC All-Freshman honors his first year, and was All-SEC his sophomore year.

Tunsil decided to forgo his final year at Ole Miss and entered the 2016 NFL Draft, where he was selected as the 13th overall pick by the Miami Dolphins. He started in 14 of 16 games for the Dolphins last season.

Lake City and Columbia County offer growing opportunities for careers and an attractive quality of life.

Todd and Tammy Denmark

• Medical Professionals •

Todd and Tammy Denmark were both born and raised in Lake City. The two met while they were in high school, but didn't get together until after they graduated. Now, 24 years later the couple has built a life together in the same place they've both always called home.

Todd and Tammy got married at Parkview Baptist Church in Lake City when they were 21 and 19, respectively. Since then they have worked and raised a family all while continuing to love and explore their hometown.

"We got married young and we've made it work," Tammy said.

"We made people sick," Todd added with a laugh.

Family is very important to Todd, 47, and Tammy, 44. They built their current home right after they got married on a 40-acre property that they share with Todd's parents and brother.

"We have a lot of support from our family," Tammy said.

They were able to transform the land into a home where they raised their two children: Zoey, 20, and Jackson, 14. Zoey and her husband Alex's one-year-old son, Collin, now has a playroom to enjoy at his grandparent's home.

"When we moved on the property it was nothing more than a field," Todd said.

Appropriately named the Denmark Cottage, Tammy shares photos of their home and stories of her and Todd's marriage, along with lifestyle tips, on her blog "Denmark Cottage."

"It's my creative outlet," Tammy said. "I have to be creative."

Tammy gets to enjoy her creative outlet after working her day job as a medical lab technician at Lake City Medical Center. She graduated from Lake City Community College in 1996 before going to work at Shands Lake Shore Regional Medical Center for 18 years. She made the move over to Lake City Medical Center last July.

"I wanted to be behind the scenes," Tammy said about her decision to pursue a career as a lab technician.

Todd is the marketing director for Baya Pharmacy. Since he started with the company 21 years ago as a delivery technician, he has worked his way up the ladder with the company before being named marketing director.

Todd also has a creative outlet that he enjoys.

He owns a side business, A1A Beach Cruisers, where he builds custom beach cruiser bicycles.

"I started building bikes and riding them at the beach and people would stop me and ask where I got them and it just grew from there," Todd said.

Todd and Tammy frequently take their bikes out for a spin.

They enjoy riding through Lake City and seeing all the unique and beautiful sites it has to offer.

"We like to bike around the lake and around town," Todd said. "We like old houses and that's why we like riding around downtown. It gives you the opportunity to see things from a different perspective than if you're driving through in a car."

In addition to biking, Tammy and Todd also enjoy canoeing and kayaking, which is why they like being so close to the rivers. They also like to go to the beach a lot, so Lake City's proximity to the ocean is another plus. Tammy loves the natural beauty of Lake City.

"It's just a very pretty community," Tammy said. "We're not so big that it's overwhelming but it's big enough," Tammy said.

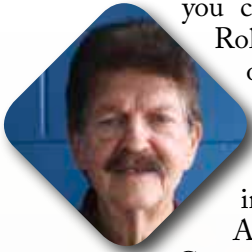

Todd and Tammy plan on calling Lake City home for the rest of their lives. With a natural landscape and friends and family they love, they aren't going anywhere.

"People are just friendly," Tammy said. "We have a very friendly community. Everyone is always willing to help each other out."

Al Rollison

• Tire Store Owner •

When you walk into Lake City Tire, you can almost always find owner Al Rollison sitting behind the counter or checking on a car being worked on in the shop. At his business in downtown Lake City, Al is always ready and willing to help anyone in need of a tire or tune-up.

After graduating from high school in Cross City, Al moved to Jacksonville to attend Jones Business College. He soon realized that office work didn't suit him, and he got a job with Goodyear corporate, where he worked for 20 years before he got the opportunity to go into business for himself. He bought and owned tire stores in Tallahassee and took over Lake City Tire in 1983.

"I've been in the tire business ever since," Al said.

Nearly 25 years ago, Al and his family decided to move to Lake City to be closer to his parents, who lived in Horseshoe Beach. They sold their Tallahassee tire shops and moved to Columbia County. He along with his wife and company vice president Betty Rollison have been serving the people of Lake City ever since.

"One reason we've been so successful is I have a lot of integrity in my business," Al said. "We're honest with people."

Along with being honest, Al, 79, always makes sure to give his customers a fair price and even help out customers who are in a tough spot. Once, a couple was traveling through Lake City when they needed a tire, but didn't have enough money to pay for one. So Al gave them a tire for free. A few weeks later, that couple returned to Lake City Tire with the money to pay Al back along with a homemade cake to thank him for what he'd done. It's that type of quality service that has allowed Al's business to stay open for so long.

"In order to stay in business this long you have to be doing something right," Al said.

Al says that word of mouth and repeat business from loyal customers has a large part to do with being a successful business, especially in a small community. That's one reason why he enjoys owning a business in downtown Lake City. The pace is slower than along the U.S. Highway 90 corridor, and he is better able to get to know his customers.

"Being downtown in a small business you can be more personable with customers," Al said. "I know about 75 percent of my customers by name."

Caryn Cooper

• Pizza Restaurant Manager •

Chances are if you live in Lake City you've ordered pizza from Pizza Boy. A Lake City staple, this family-owned pizzeria is serving up homemade Italian food with love. Caryn Cooper, whose parents Bob and Ette Cooper opened Pizza Boy in 2000, can often be seen managing everything in the restaurant from running a register to helping make pizzas.

"I do a little bit of everything," Caryn said. "Whatever needs to be done I'll do it."

Caryn and her family moved to Lake City from South Florida in 1994, and when they got here they realized something very surprising about their new home.

"When we got here there was no pizza," Caryn said.

Then six years later Pizza Boy was born. From hand-tossed pizzas to Italian favorites like strombolis and calzones along with pasta dishes and their signature garlic knots, Pizza Boy has been dishing up some of the best Italian food in the area for 17 years.

Their biggest thing (literally) is their 24-inch pizza. Their XXXLG pizzas are as big in flavor as they are in size. Besides being known for dishing out giant, delicious pizzas, Pizza Boy is also known as being a family owned and operated business.

"We're family," Caryn said. "Even though we're not all blood family, we're still family. You can't get that in a big town."

Pizza Boy is truly a family affair. While Caryn's parents own the restaurant, her brother Marcus also works there, along with her sister-in-law and her son.

"It's fun working with family," Caryn said.

Since opening the restaurant, the Cooper family has gained many loyal customers, which makes the experience even sweeter for them.

"You get to know the customers," Caryn said. "You know their faces and their stories and it brings you closer to the community."

Caryn never gets tired of serving customers at Pizza Boy, and she also never gets tired of pizza itself.

"Even when I go out of town I get it to see what everyone else is doing," Caryn said. "My kids are the only kids in the world that say, 'Really mom, pizza again?'"

"We're family. Even though we're not all blood family, we're still family. You can't get that in a big town."

Michelle Hassebroek

• Home Health Director •

Michelle Hassebroek was born and raised in Lake City. A graduate of Columbia High School, Michelle went on to earn a Master's of Science Degree in Nursing, and now serves the people of Lake City as the branch director for SunCrest Omni Home Care.

"I love my job because it centers around helping others in our community," Michelle said. "Every day, we serve seniors and allow them to age in place and enjoy the best quality of life possible, while helping them to reach their personal goals. This is extremely fulfilling to me."

The 33-year-old working mother has been a nurse for seven years and has spent four years as a nurse administrator. In her free time, she enjoys spending time with her 11-year-old daughter, Haleigh.

Michelle is happy she gets to work in the community she loves so much.

"I love our community because we are all very close," Michelle said. "Everywhere you go, you know people and everybody works toward making Lake City great. This community comes together whenever there's a need and that is really a special thing."

Trey Hosford

• Columbia High Principal •

Born and raised in Lake City, Trey Hosford, like many residents, attended Columbia High School. Now, 21 years after graduating, Trey is leading the Tigers as the principal of CHS.

“I never imaged I’d be sitting here as principal,” Trey said.

Trey spent his entire life in Lake City before graduating from CHS in 1996 and leaving to attend Warner Southern, now Warner University. After studying communications and physical education, Trey moved back to Lake City and started teaching special education at his alma mater in Fall 2000. After 18 years in the Columbia County School District, Trey worked his way up the leadership ladder while earning a Master’s Degree in educational leadership from American College of Education. He went from teaching to having administrative rolls and was made principal of CHS in 2016.

“I feel like I’m home now,” Trey said. “I feel like I’m where I’m supposed to be.”

Working with children and education runs in the family. Trey’s mother owned Kountry Kids Daycare for 25 years, and their family has seen hundreds of children grow up in Lake City.

“There’s so many families and friends that I feel like my family has been apart of and now they’re here,” Trey said.

With over 10,300 students and approximately 13,050 employees, Trey believes that the Columbia County School District is the perfect size.

“I love the size of our district,” Trey said. “We’re not as small as some places but we have a lot of resources. We’re the perfect size where we can really work together. You don’t feel like you’re out on an island by yourself.”

Trey knew that Lake City was the place for him to settle down, and he’s happy he found his way back home to CHS.

“I had the opportunity to move away and do some other things while I was at college but I knew I wanted to come back,” Trey said. “I can’t imagine my kids not being in our school district.”

Trey’s wife, Bridget, also works at CHS as a guidance resource teacher. His three daughters, Destin, 8, Sydney, 6, and Harper, 5, are all currently in the Columbia County school system and will eventually walk the halls of CHS as students themselves.

“This is a wonderful place to raise a family,” Trey said. “I can’t imagine being anywhere else than Lake City.”

Lee Pinchouck

• Foundation for FGC Director •

Lee Pinchouck didn't grow up in a small town, but rather married into one.

"I'm what I like to call a 'Lake City-in-law,'" Lee said. "I married into Lake City."

Lee is originally from Chicago, and in the early 2000's while living and working in another big city, Atlanta, he met his now wife Lauren, who was born and raised in Lake City. Together they moved to Lake City 10 years ago to be closer to Lauren's family as they made plans for the future.

"We asked ourselves, 'Once we start a family, where do we want to be?'" Lee said.

In January 2017 Lee, 40, became the Executive Director for the Foundation for Florida Gateway College. Lee has a background in non-profit management and processing and is a finance graduate of the University of Missouri. He has worked for the nonprofit American Junior Golf Association and local franchise restaurant group Momex Foods before taking on his new roll as executive director at the foundation.

The Foundation for Florida Gateway College is a nonprofit organization that provides funding for the college that it doesn't otherwise get from state funding and tuition and fees, and raises money to fund scholarships and programs.

Lee's primary responsibilities consist of fundraising, bringing in donors, setting up scholarship endowments and managing the assets of the foundation. However, his favorite part of the job is getting to interact with people in the community.

"I like meeting people and building relationships with people who are passionate about FGC and our students," Lee said.

Working in a small community makes it easier for people to get involved, something Lee believes is one of the main perks of living in this area.

"Getting involved in the community is a lot easier in a small town," Lee said. "I think it's more difficult giving back to a bigger community than a smaller one."

"Getting involved in the community is a lot easier in a small town. I think it's more difficult giving back to a bigger community than a smaller one."

They say you always want what you've never had. Lee had never lived in a small town before moving to Lake City, and has since come to enjoy everything it has to offer.

"Because I'm from a big city I like the small-town aspect," Lee said. "I like the friendliness. I like running into people at the grocery store."

After spending years of his life in metropolitan areas, Lee is happy he and his family, including his wife, Lauren, and his three-and-a-half-year-old twins, Luke and Kate, get to live life in Lake City.

"We're excited to raise [our kids] in this community surrounded by friends and family," Lee said.

We are proud to be Lake City's only locally-owned and family-run financial services business.

Three generations serving you now and for years to come.

IN COLUMBIA COUNTY

If you're looking for somewhere to go fishing, Columbia County is a perfect catch. Surrounded by 1,313 acres of fishing locations, it's no surprise that Columbia County is often called the "freshwater recreation capital of America." Here, you will find dozens of lakes, rivers and ponds for you and your family to enjoy.

Most public water access points are less than 20 minutes away from Lake City's downtown area. So whether you're looking to reel in a big catch or spend the day relaxing with a fishing pole in your hand, the opportunities are endless here in Columbia County.

Alligator Lake, Lake DeSoto, Lake Jeffrey and the Santa Fe river are just some of the county's most well-known waterways.

Lake Montgomery

Alligator Lake

Alligator Lake

The Halpatter Park (Alligator Lake North) boat ramp is on Clements Street behind the FDOT office on U.S. Highway 441 south.

The Alligator Lake south boat ramp is off Marion Avenue on the street next to the Columbia High School soccer fields. There are fishing piers on both ends of the lake, which has no boating horsepower restrictions. The lake is 989 acres.

Lake Montgomery

The 36-acre lake is located off Baya Avenue across from the Columbia Aquatic Complex. Although it is close to a major road, the scenic lake is secluded enough that it is still perfect for fishing off of its large wooden dock. Boats with gas motors can be used at idle speeds.

Lake DeSoto

Located in downtown Lake City behind the Columbia County Courthouse, most of Lake DeSoto is fishable from the banks. Circle Drive winds around the lake. No motorboats are allowed. The lake is 26 acres.

Lake Jeffery

Lake Jeffery was created by the merging of two lakes through a short canal. It is located west of Lake City off of Lake Jeffery Road. Public access to the lake is limited to one public boat ramp in the Woodborough subdivision. There is a boat launch fee. The lake is 216 acres.

Watertown Lake

Watertown Lake sits off of State Road 10, at the end of Northeast Williams Street. The lake offers public fishing from a pier or from the banks.

Santa Fe & Suwannee River

The Suwannee River rises in the Okefenokee Swamp forming the border between Hamilton and Columbia counties as it enters Florida. It then turns west near White Springs and bends south near Ellisville.

The Suwannee and Santa Fe rivers join just below Branford in Suwannee County. The Santa Fe River and Ichetucknee River are tributaries of the Suwannee River, which continues to the Gulf of Mexico near the town of Suwannee. The river is 266 miles long.

There are approximately 100 boat ramps to the rivers in nine counties.

Columbia County

Columbia County was founded approximately 185 years ago and is one of the oldest counties in Florida.

The county can trace its beginnings back to the early 1800s. In 1817, Don Jose de La Maza Arrendondo obtained a grant of 20,000 acres in northern Florida that included the land that would become Columbia County.

Part of the Arrendondo Grant also consisted of an abandoned Indian settlement called Alligator that was established by a tribe of Seminole Indians on the banks of Lake DeSoto in the early 1800s. It derived its name from the nickname of tribal chief Halpatter Tustenuggee.

Columbia County, founded Feb. 4, 1832, originally consisted of all or parts of present-day Suwannee, Bradford, and Union counties. Roberts, a small settlement around the home of John W. Roberts, was named the first county seat. Alligator became the official capital of the county in 1836.

The county is 801 square miles and is nestled between two major interstates, making it a frequent destination for travelers and residents reaching all parts of Florida. Columbia County continues to grow into a thriving commerce center while maintaining the character that was established when it was first settled. It offers the perfect mix of embracing opportunities to grow while maintaining the traditions and values that have always existed in Columbia County.

Lake City

Lake City was incorporated into Columbia County in 1859. Once known as Alligator Town, Lake City was the site of a Seminole village ruled by the powerful Chief Halpatter Tustenuggee.

In the early 1820s, the first white settlers arrived in what would become Lake City. Among them were John D. and James Osteen, who constructed a house about two miles east of Alligator Lake around 1824.

Prior to the Civil War, the name of the city was changed to Lake City.

Due to its prime location between two major interstates, Lake City earned the nickname “The Gateway City,” as it’s known for being the gateway to Florida.

Lake City is home to the Blanche Hotel, which was built in the heart of downtown Lake City in 1902. The lobby of the building contains the oldest elevator in Florida. Notable occupants of the Blanche Hotel included Al Capone and Johnny Cash.

Currently, the city has plans to renovate the Blanche Hotel, and is working with private developers to determine the best course of action for renovation and future uses of the building.

Fort White

Fort White, named for a nearby Seminole Indian war fort, was incorporated in 1884 under Mayor Thomas H. Reddick. It is Columbia County’s only other municipality.

The town’s population grew to about 2,000 people in 1900 when the town’s economy was based on timber, cotton and phosphate. A rail line that ran through the town attracted additional businesses and people to the area.

Fort White’s population steadily declined throughout the years because of the decreased dependence on the railroad and a waning agricultural business, both due to advancing technology.

Museum

The best place to go to find out more information on the history of Lake City and Columbia County is the historical museum, located close to the heart of downtown Lake City.

The Lake City-Columbia County Historical Museum offers a glimpse into what life in Lake City used to be like in the late 1800s and early 1900s.

The museum showcases war memorabilia along with other historical artifacts from those eras.

It is located at 157 SE Hernando Ave. in an Italianate style home. Though not ornate, the home presents characteristics that are both utilitarian and attractive.

Although the County Courthouse burnt down, destroying many important records that would reveal exact dates, other records indicate that the single story, rear portion of the building existed before the Civil War and that the front, two-story section was built around 1880 after Mr. and Mrs. John Vinzant Jr. purchased the property.

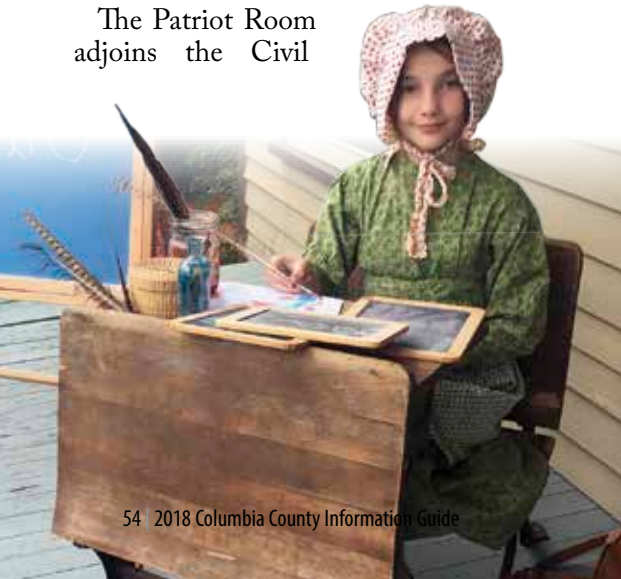

The building retains the characteristics of a Victorian residence both inside and out. Renovations have been made with effort to preserve the unique qualities of the vintage structure.

The floor plan of the home is a "four square" — the four main rooms downstairs are duplicated upstairs.

The Blue-Grey Room is maintained in appreciation of the tireless efforts of the Blue-Grey Army to keep the Museum in operation since its acquisition in the early 1980s.

The Civil War Room houses all types of artifacts from the war between the states. It includes pictures, diaries, war memorabilia, logs, firearms, swords and books.

The Patriot Room adjoins the Civil War collections. Opened in 2009, the Patriot Room honors all military personnel from every conflict or war where the American way has been defended. The room contains a collection of items, pictures and documents from almost all major wars.

The rear portion of the building is the kitchen, which contains miscellaneous items from various eras such as a wood-burning stove. It's believed the kitchen was added in the late 1800s or early 1900s.

Of the four rooms upstairs that were once bedrooms, only one is still decorated as a bedroom. That room is maintained and furnished in Eastlake, a common style for the era.

Another one of the rooms is the Native American Room, which presents a colorful glimpse into the life, tools and clothing of various Florida and North American tribes. A model of a Creek Village, with Ceremonial Square and other buildings, is a prominent feature.

The third room is the Children's Room. The goal is for it to be a hands-on exhibit of kids' activities from the past century and beyond. Additionally, a scenic timeline of Florida history will be in the room.

The last room is used as the storage room to house surplus inventory and collections that are not displayed.

The museum also hosts children's camps and events throughout the year.

The museum is open to the public Thursdays and Saturdays from 10 a.m.-1 p.m. Guided tours are also available by appointment. For more information call 386-755-9096.

RELIVE HISTORY AT THE Battle of Olustee

Re-enactment on February 17, 2018

The only major Civil War battle fought on Florida soil took place right here in North-Central Florida. The Battle of Olustee was fought over 150 years ago, yet people still gather in Columbia County every year to remember the battle and re-enact it, providing a living-history lesson on the Civil War to everyone who attends.

On Feb. 20, 1864, Union and Confederate troops collided in what would become known to be the Battle of Olustee.

Every year, local re-enactors, descendants of Battle of Olustee soldiers and living historians pay homage to the 2,807 troops from both sides that lay on the battlefield either dead or wounded following five hours of gunfire, cannon shots and strategic troop movements.

The battle, which marked a Confederate victory, signaled the end of Union efforts to restore Florida to the Union. A total of 1,861 Union troops were injured or killed in the battle with 203 killed, 1,152 wounded and 506 missing. The Union troops lost five cannons, 1,600 rifles, 400 sets of accouterments and 130,000 rounds of ammunition.

Confederate losses were 93 killed, 847 wounded and six missing, totaling 946 troops.

In 1976, a group of Columbia County residents began honoring the troops by staging a battle reenactment.

2018 will mark the 42nd anniversary of the Olustee Battle Re-enactment.

The first two re-enactments took place at the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville. Since then, the re-enactment has taken place at the Florida Department of Environmental Protection's Olustee Battlefield Historic State Park in Baker County.

The Olustee Battle Festival was added two years after the original Olustee Battle Re-enactment in the Gator Bowl. The Blue-Grey Army, the festival organizer, hosts the battle festival annually in downtown Lake City. The Olustee Battle Festival is Columbia County's largest festival.

The 2018 re-enactment activities will take place Feb. 16 - 18 at the historic battlefield with a 3:30 p.m. battle demonstration on Saturday, Feb. 17 and the Olustee Battle Re-enactment slated to begin 1:30 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 18.

🕒 This year's event marks the 154th Anniversary of the Battle of Olustee.

2018 OLUSTEE RE-ENACTMENT:

The 2018 re-enactment activities will take place Feb. 16 - 18 at the historic battlefield with a 3:30 p.m. battle demonstration on Saturday, Feb. 17 and the Olustee Battle Re-enactment slated to begin 1:30 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 18. This year's event marks the 154th Anniversary of the Battle of Olustee.

Downtown North Marion Avenue

From the local businesses, to the walk/bike path around Lake DeSoto, Lake City's downtown has a lot to offer year round.

Columbia County

Over the last year, Columbia County has only continued to grow into its role as a thriving commerce center for travelers and residents from all over Florida. The county has also played host to many hurricane evacuees over the last year, and its positioning between two major interstates continues to make it a hub of North Florida.

According to estimates from the U.S. Census Bureau, Columbia County's 2016 population was around 69,299 people.

Those people are contained in a 789-mile area, which extends about 20 miles east to west at its widest. North to south, the county extends more than 50 miles from the Florida-Georgia line to the Santa Fe River.

In county government, there are three divisions: administrative, safety and operations/public works.

The Columbia County Board of County Commissioners is a five-member board that represents five county districts. Its members are elected to staggered four-year terms and are part time. BOCC meets on the first and third Thursdays of each month at 5:30 p.m. at the Columbia County School Board Administrative Complex Auditorium, 372 W Duval St.

Columbia County is governed under a charter, which was designed to give local voters more power and serve as a mini-constitution for the county. The Columbia County Charter was approved in the 2002 general election and went into effect in January 2003. The county has been governed in accordance with the charter since then.

The county manager, Ben Scott, oversees day-to-day operations.

Lake City

According to estimates from the U.S. Census Bureau, Lake City's 2016 population was around 12,285 people.

The city is governed by a five-member city council. Four members represent different Lake City districts, and the fifth member serves as the mayor and an at-large councilor. They are elected by the entire city. Stephen Witt is the current mayor of Lake City. He was elected in May 2005.

Council members and the mayor are elected to four-year terms. They vote on all kinds of legislative matters relating to the city.

The city council meets at 6 p.m. on the first and third Mondays of each month in Council Chambers on the second floor of City Hall, 205 N Marion Ave.

Fort White is about 20 miles southwest of Lake City. The town of 576 people — by 2016 U.S. Census Bureau estimates — is governed by a five-member council of its own. The Fort White Town Council is staffed with an at-large mayor and four council members. They are voted to staggered four-year terms. The mayor of Fort White, Demetric Jackson, is actively involved in the Fort White community and serves as the head coach of the Fort White High School football team.

The town council meets at 7:30 p.m. on the second Monday of each month at Town Hall, 118 SW Wilson Springs Road, Fort White.

Columbia County Courthouse

Courts and the judicial system

Columbia County is part of the Third Judicial Circuit of Florida, which is composed of Columbia, Dixie, Hamilton, Lafayette, Madison, Suwannee and Taylor counties. The Chief Judge is Wes Douglas.

Four of the seven circuit judges that preside over circuit court cases and proceedings are based in Lake City, though some of their assignments include other counties.

The judges oversee several court divisions, including civil court cases involving contracts, real estate, foreclosures, personal injury, business transactions, family law and other civil litigation matters.

Circuit judges also handle cases in other divisions, including felony, juvenile (delinquency and dependency), family (divorces, adoptions, paternity, custody, domestic violence injunctions), probate and guardianship.

Tom Coleman is the county judge for Columbia County. He oversees other matters, including misdemeanor criminal cases, traffic offenses and civil cases with less than $15,000 in contention.

The Third Judicial Circuit is still continuing its transition to an electronic paperless system that began in March 2016, where documents can be filed and transmitted digitally. Currently, small claims, county civil, circuit civil and probate courts are completely paperless. Officials have said the move will save time and money and improve efficiency for the court system.

FLORIDA GATEWAY COLLEGE

With the expansion of its academic programs and the reintroduction of athletics, Florida Gateway College is continuing to grow while providing quality postsecondary education to its students.

Formerly known as Lake City Community College, the school was known for its athletic programs before they were disbanded close to 10 years ago. Since then, the college became Florida Gateway College, and the new leadership decided to bring college sports back to Lake City with the reintroduction of its mens golf team and womens volleyball team, both of which began competing in Fall 2017.

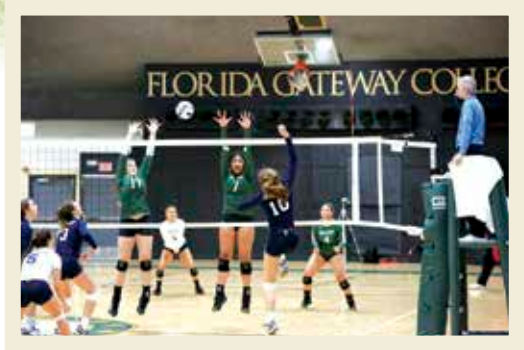

In 2018-2019, FGC will add mens basketball and womens cross country to its athletic department as the college continues to make its presence known in the National Junior College Athletic Association.

The reintroduction of athletics has strengthened the bond between the college and the community, with many local residents attending the womens volleyball games and the mens golf team practicing at the local country club. In addition, many of the athletes are natives of Columbia County and the surrounding area.

FGC is not only increasing its strength in athletics but also in academics. The college offers a variety of academic programs to meet the needs of its students, including 17 A.S. degrees, college credit certifications and workforce credentials.

With nine academic programs, including business, education, environmental sciences and water resources, liberal arts and science, trade and industrial, computer science and graphics, health sciences, horticulture and landscape and public service training and criminal justice, FGC has something for everyone as each offers several specific areas of focus.

In addition to offering two-year degrees, FGC launched its inaugural four-year degree program, a Bachelor of Science in Nursing, in 2012. It was followed by the introduction of two additional four-year degree programs: a Bachelor of Science in Early Childhood Education in Fall 2014 and Bachelor of Applied Science in Water Resources Management in Spring 2015.

In addition to A.S. degrees, FGC also offers trade and industrial certifications, including Commercial Heating and Air Conditioning, Cosmetology, Facial Specialty, Nail Specialty, Welding Technology and Advanced Welding Technology.

The college also has a Public Safety Training Center, a 50-acre training complex located just outside Lake City in Olustee that houses its Law Enforcement Academy, Corrections Academy, Emergency Medical Services Academy and Fire Academy. In June 2017, the FGC Fire Academy opened its brand new multi-story live fire training structure at the public safety training center. The new facility features a three-story, five-compartment design with burn chambers on the first and second floors, interior and exterior staircases and multiple entrances and access points, creating the crucial versatility needed to train students for the unpredictable work of fighting fires in real-world conditions.

The installation is part of an ongoing expansion effort at the Olustee Center. Future plans include the creation of a driving pad for EMT and law enforcement maneuver training and relocation of the firing range from the FGC main campus to the Olustee site.

Each year the college maintains the search for excellence by offering new programs which meet the needs of its students and community. For more information on Florida Gateway College, visit www.fgc.edu.

Business is Booming

Without sacrificing its rural roots and small-town charm, Columbia County is in the midst of a transformation.

Industrial expansions and commercial growth have in recent years brought new jobs to the community and raised the area's standard of living.

Situated near the interchange between Interstate 75 and I-10, Lake City is only hours away from major cities including Tallahassee, Gainesville, Orlando and Jacksonville — making it truly the Gateway to Florida and a prime location for manufacturing and distribution centers.

The steady growth of job opportunities in the county is fueling a surge in new shopping centers and restaurants, giving the local workforce new ways to spend their paychecks and enjoy their free time.

Retail and dining expansions

A retail boom is underway in Lake City, and it's most visible along the U.S. Highway 90 corridor, where several major chains have set up shop within the past two years.

At the newly built Gleason Place shopping center, Dick's Sporting Goods, Hobby Lobby, Ross and Five Below, along with several other stores, all opened their doors in Lake City within the past year. Additional businesses are still being added to the plaza, including smaller shops and restaurants.

Gateway Crossing, near Interstate 75 on West U.S. 90, is now home to a Denny's as well as a Circle-K gas station, with more business expect to join. It will soon host a 115-room Tru by Hilton hotel, catering to a growing tourism industry fueled by sports tournaments and attractions such as Ichetucknee Springs State Park.

Elsewhere in Lake City's commercial core, Aldi, Planet Fitness, Tropical Smoothie, Five Guys Burgers and Fries and Dunkin' Donuts are just some of the many restaurants and businesses that have opened their doors, with more to come in 2018.

However, this growth is not just contained to U.S. 90. On Main Boulevard, new restaurants are making their way towards the west end of Lake City, including Waffle House and Taco Bell.

Lake City's historic downtown area is also experiencing a boom in business, with new ones popping up consistently over the past year and others planning openings in 2018.

In Lake City's historic downtown, Halpatter Brewing

Company was started in 2013 by brothers-in-law Chris Candler and Jeremy Gable. In 2015 fellow home brewer Jonny Frazier joined the team. The owners are pictured above at their brewery on Hernando Avenue in downtown Lake City.

Company is a local brewery known for naming its beers after events and people in Lake City's history. Marion Street Bistro and Brewhouse, a local restaurant and bar, also plans to open an in-house brewery, Watertown Brewing Company, and aims to become a social hub for the community. Other retail business and offices have opened in the area as well as it strives to be revitalized.

Retail Strategies, a consulting firm hired by the city and county, estimates the big-box stores and restaurant chains that have opened in Lake City over the last several years are generating hundreds of thousands of dollars of sales tax revenue yearly for local government.

Industrial expansion

Industrial operations continue to be a driving force for Columbia County's economy, according to Economic Development Director Glenn Hunter.

Area high school graduates can find a career path with plenty of upward mobility at the Target distribution center on U.S. 441 or major aircraft maintenance firm HAECO's site at Lake City Gateway Airport, with more to come, it is hoped.

HAECO is a company that specializes in aircraft repair and maintenance. Last year the company updated its facility, creating numerous jobs for local residents. The $1.335 million project included refurbishing one of the hanger floors to accompany aircraft repair, adding eight new valves in the fire suppression system in one of the hangers, adding a control booth in another hanger, re-roofing and adding a classroom.

LAKE CITY VA MEDICAL CENTER

The Lake City Veterans Affairs Medical Center (VAMC) saw its first patient in 1920 (at the time it was called US Public Health Service Hospital No. 63). Since then, its growth over the years has led to approximately 40,000 enrolled Veterans with over 1,400 employees, 33 percent of which are Veterans themselves.

Prior to becoming a VA facility, it's location was originally built on a 40 acre tract first known as the Florida Agricultural College and was renamed "The University of Florida" in 1903. In 1906, UF was relocated to Gainesville.

In 1998, the Lake City VAMC integrated with the Gainesville VAMC to make up the North Florida/South Georgia Veterans Health System comprised of 14 facilities throughout North Florida and South Georgia with a total of over 140,000 Veterans enrolled.

The Lake City VAMC currently has 47 medicine beds, 187 long term care beds, and 29 residential mental health beds. The Lake City VAMC

Utilizing volunteers on all levels, United Way fights for the health, education and financial stability of every person. The organization is a community impact and fundraising organization which advances the common good by identifying unmet community needs and seeking to alleviate those needs through United Way of Suwannee Valley initiatives and the funding of affiliated health and human service agencies.

Since 1968 the local United Way has conducted a fundraising campaign in support of community human service agencies providing an array of safety net services to maintain community support systems. Throughout the last 15 years the organization has grown to serve as the homeless coalition, as the long-term recovery organization and as an early literacy program coordinator.

Funds raised are allocated through a systematic review process conducted by a committee of community citizens who review the operations of each United Way-affiliated agency to be assured of their efficient and economical administration.

United Way also helps people receive needed services through information and referral assistance and, through its Planning Committee, plans for future community needs. The United Way of Suwannee Valley works with Columbia, Hamilton, Lafayette and Suwannee counties.

United Way affiliated agencies use all available sources of funding, including fees and grants to meet budget needs. Most agencies use United Way funding as match to receive significant grant resources. In 2015-2016, the most current period for which these statistics are available, United Way agencies provided more than $27 million in services in the Suwannee Valley and helped more than 37,500 residents in need.

To ensure the organization's ability to serve the community long term, United Way secured its own building in July 2016. Its new office is located at 871 SW State Road 47 in Lake City.

United Way works with 23 agencies throughout the Suwannee Valley region, including many in Columbia County. For more information on United Way's partner agencies or to find out how you can get involved with United Way, visit www.unitedwaysuwanneevalley.org or call (386) 752-5604.

Compassion IN ACTION

Catholic Charities puts compassion into action. The organization has provided emergency assistance to residents in Columbia County for over two decades, and has helped people with utilities, rent, landlord mediation, case management, securing employment and disaster assistance. It has also provided families with food, gas and vouchers for medical appointments.

After 16 years of providing services from a small office, Catholic Charities shifted its location and is now operating from a warehouse it owns at 553 NW Railroad St.

The new location is a 14,000 sq. ft. warehouse and executive office spaces on a 2.5-acre site, near downtown.

Suzanne M. Edwards, Catholic Charities Lake City Regional Office Regional Director, has served with the agency since January 2003.

The agency, a diocese of St. Augustine, serves those in need through their Florida Gateway Food Pantry, rent/utility assistance, homeless services, and holiday assistance programs which are split over Columbia, Suwannee, Hamilton, Union and Lafayette counties.

The agency served more than 21,623 people in 2016 in its five-county service area.

With its new additional space, the agency has added a 20 x 20 ft. cooler and 20x20 ft. freezer, which will allow Catholic Charities to take in fresh produce, fruits and vegetables and distribute them to people and families in need.

Catholic Charities operates on a $3.3 million budget and serves 66 agencies. More than 1,900,000 pounds of food were distributed through the Florida Gateway Food Bank during the past fiscal year. The addition of new freezers and coolers will allow the agency to increase its food output to nearly 5 million pounds next year.

Catholic Charities is open 7:30 a.m. - noon, Monday - Friday for case management and financial and food services. For more information call (386) 754-9180 or email help@catholiccharitieslakecity.org.

CHAMBER of COMMERCE

LAKE CITY • COLUMBIA COUNTY

Dear Friends and Neighbors,

I am very lucky to have had the opportunity to grow up in Lake City, be educated in the Columbia County School System, experience the natural resources we have in our community and understand first hand why Lake City - Columbia County is such an amazing place to live! One of the most interesting aspects of working for the Lake City – Columbia County Chamber of Commerce is the opportunity to meet newcomers to our community and ask them why Lake City? That is always my first question to people I meet because it is important to get an “outsider’s” perspective. The most common answers I hear are: “For a better quality of life,” “Living here is affordable,” “I wanted a slower pace of life” and, believe it or not, many people just stumble upon it when traveling through and recognize all we have to offer. The good news is we just keep getting better every year! It is exciting to see how the community continues to transform with the addition of restaurants, retail centers, breweries and so much more all while being able to keep the small town feel we all love.

A strong Chamber of Commerce is essential to the economic growth of our community. We are fortunate in Lake City – Columbia County to have a strong and resilient Chamber. Membership continues to be solid with over 475 business members. The Board of Directors are a group of dedicated and diverse leaders with the goal of creating a strong, vibrant community and Chamber. Our focus continues to be to connect and engage our member businesses with each other and the community. We have an active membership and invite you to get involved by attending one of our upcoming events – from signature events like the Gateway City Craft Beer and Wine Festival or the annual Chamber Ball, to smaller business education seminars and monthly networking opportunities, there is something for everyone to enjoy! If you are not a member, you are missing out! Visit our website, www.lakecitychamber.com to find more of our member benefits and to see how we can help you and your business grow and prosper in 2018.

Lake City - Columbia County continues to be the BEST place for business. We look forward to continuing partnerships in 2018 with the City of Lake City, Columbia County, Columbia County Economic Development Office, Columbia County School District, Florida Gateway College and numerous other business partners as we all work together to bring quality, high wage jobs to our area. It is important to remember, we are a team working together to ensure we continue to evolve into a top notch city. One that offers the best in economic development, public safety, entertainment and education. Your Chamber is committed to growing our city, helping attract economic activity and providing a great quality of life for our friends and neighbors.

Whether you are new to the area as a business owner or resident, or if you are a native like me, The Lake City- Columbia County Chamber of Commerce is here to be YOUR business and community resource. We encourage any local business who is not a member to join our Chamber and help us continue to be the advocate for our community.

If the Chamber may be of service to you, please call me at 752-3690 or email me at Dennille@lakecitychamber.com. Here’s to another successful year for you and the Chamber.

Sincerely,

Dennille Decker
