

GOING GREEN

A CALMING OASIS MADE FOR RELAXATION

WE LOVE THE GREEN WALL WHICH IS A MIXTURE OF LIVING PLANTS AND WALLPAPERED IMAGES

WORDS // KATE EVANS

For many people, a hot shower or a long soak at the end of the day is a ritual that helps ease stresses and relax the mind. Bathrooms are fast becoming oases within the home, and this space is a prime example of incorporating nature into a bathroom in the most contemporary and modern way.

The benefits of utilising greenery in the home are endless, from boosting your mood to giving off a stylistic and fresh vibe for homeowners to enjoy. Created by Tradelink, the focal point of this bathroom is the green feature wall that's strategically wallpapered with images to give the impression of a living creation. But there's more than meets the eye when it comes to this feature, with real plants strategically placed across the structure, adding a three-dimensional element to the space.

The timber-look tiles that encase the bath complement the use of greenery, and are also present on the walls and floor. The earthy brown of the timber tiles contrasts against the pops of metallic found in the furnishings and accessories dotted throughout the space — a great way to introduce a new theme without overpowering the rest of the aesthetic. The use of a white vanity, bath and toilet suite bring a heightened sense of modernity along with a crisp layer to this bathroom, with the general vibe verging on Scandinavian in style.

The end result is a truly unique bathroom that features all the amenities required in such a space, with the added bonus of incorporating living elements that make all the difference. 🌿

tradelink.com.au

