

YOUR HEIGHTS HOUSTON REAL ESTATE PARTNER

SHAWN MANDERSCHIED TEAM

When I look at the Heights, I look back on how much I loved growing up there myself. In 1917, my great grandfather settled and owned a small business in the Heights, creating an opportunity for my grandfather and eventually my mother to grow up within the community and watch it flourish. Today, those same deep roots guide me on my own career path when I'm helping someone search for their new home in the Heights in Houston.

At Shawn Manderscheid Real Estate, we aspire to be the real estate partner you've always wanted. We can help guide you through the buying or selling process, so that you can focus on enjoying your success. With an office located on Heights Boulevard, we build relationships with our clients, so you'll always have a friendly face in the neighborhood!

Much like you, each home is different. Our purpose as your partner is to help you invest in yours.
