A Place of Passion

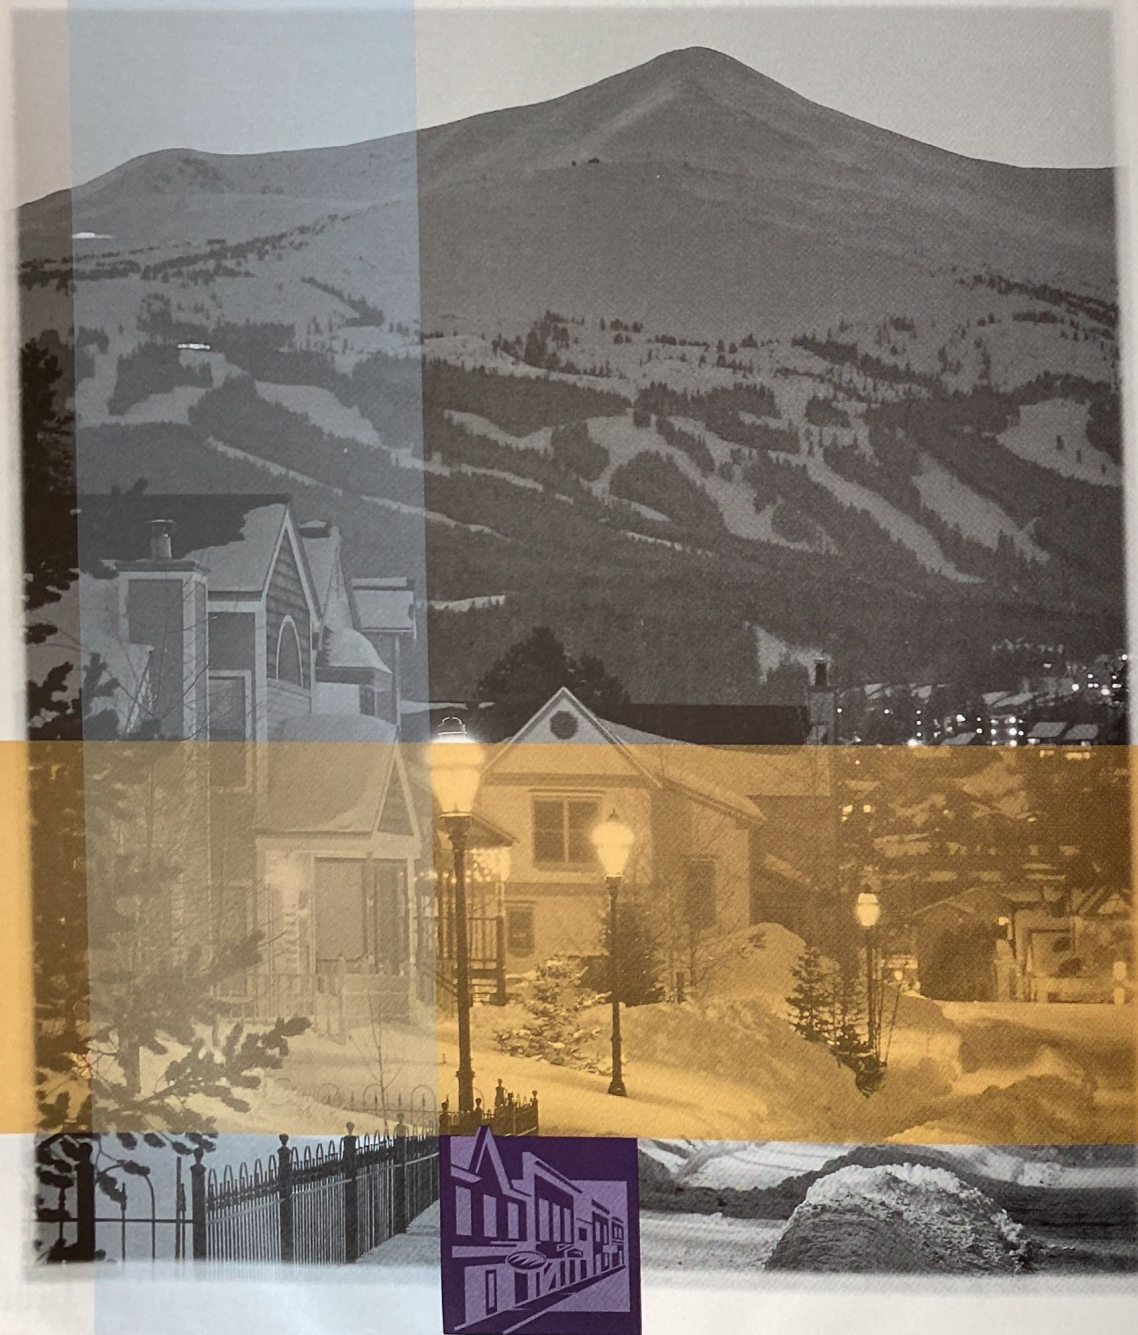

It's something inside all of us.

It's that thing that makes your heart pound with anticipation every time—every single time—you see fresh, untracked powder. It makes you giddy with anticipation as you hurry into your boots. Although it's something you've never seen, or even touched, it's there just the same. Upon the first snowfall, you find it residing within you.

Follow Your Heart

The Stuff Dreams Are Made Of

150 years of history. It's like stepping back in time and finding yourself in a Colorado gold mining town that seems to have come out of a storybook. Here you'll find a Victorian village with quaint, gingerbread neighborhoods. You'll also find everything from cozy, bed and breakfast inns, to pampering, "you don't have to lift a finger," deluxe hotels. So come and enjoy this unique town. We've been waiting more than a century for you to visit.
