

Neptune in Astrology

Neptune transits 10-14 years per sign. Neptune has a 60 190 day solar orbit through the zodiac

The Basics

Neptune is the 8th and most distant planet in our solar system (Pluto being classified a Dwarf). Much intrigue and mystery surround this remote blue orb. Neptune is not visible to the naked eye, yet the ancients included it in their pantheon long before it's discovery in 1846. Which would suggest two things, that they were handed down knowledge from a previous advanced civilization or they possess a level of technology that has since been lost? The Indian myths suggest priests would astral travel, gaining the knowledge of Neptune in that fashion. One fact does remain, through-out history Neptune and its harmonic attributes have acted as guides over the abyss. The vast ocean of consciousness, both in this realm and others. Those using Neptunian energy in positive light will experience deep levels of concentration, the ability to predict events and artistically dive into worlds previously only dreamt of. Such energy should be handled with care, Neptunian resonance creates the perfect stage for high levels of magic to occur, such is its sensitivity to the subtle bodies that surround us. Neptune rules the 12th House which represents Sub-conscious, psychological and mystic realms. Neptune rules Pisces and his water elements and mutable qualities.

Characteristics and History

EA yields the trident in ancient Sumar, next, Poseidon Greek God of the Sea & Neptunus in Rome

Ancient Sumerian tablets contained in the Enuma Elish and Atra-Hasis depict a deity by the name of EA Enki -Lord of the Water - it is here we first see trident symbolism. Astonishing and perplexing to fathom how such ancient civilizations had knowledge of the celestial bodies. Mystery has always surrounded Neptune, much like the ocean being uncharted and unknown to sailors of old, our connection to the spiritual world or collective conscious remains an enigma. Neptune acts as a buffer between worlds. Imagine floating effortlessly in a limitless ocean, you're at the mercy of the tides and what lay beneath but like most Neptunian feel completely at ease surrendering to the invisible universal waves. The sign of the explorer, the captain sailing out into the great expanse in search of the unknown. Neptune is a slow-moving planet which is why it has a mass effect on generations. Without action, Neptune afflictions can leave one in a state of stasis, an unrealistic outlook or pseudo fantasy world. Most drug addictions are caused by Neptune imbalance. What's the lesson here? make sure you bring something tangible back when traveling into sub-conscious realms. Unless you take action on your deepest desires and wishes, they remain that, just wishes. Neptune is exalted in Cancer, detriment in Virgo and falls in Capricorn.

Things to Ponder

Do you keep a dream book? Keeping track of your dreams can be an enlightening experience and help you along your spiritual journey. Simply keep a notepad by your bed, when the dream is fresh in thought write it down.

Do you ever become fogged over? Perhaps a bit disillusioned and dreamlike? There's absolutely nothing wrong with that. Just remember that you have a gift and gifts are best enjoyed when shared. Leaving yourself mentally exhausted doesn't benefit anyone. Staying in the present moment simply means recognizing irrelevant thoughts that carry over day to day, these thoughts can block new exciting moments from happening. Shine a spotlight on them on watch them disappear.

How do you fit into your generation? Are you an outlier, possessing vastly different ideologies than your peers? Neptune moves slow and affects entire generations differently. For great things to happen many have to come together under a common goal. How do you plan to help humanity march into the future?
