

Honda Continues to Turn Heads in 2020

As one of the world's premiere automobile dealers, Honda is no stranger to finding that perfect match to every budget. From its acclaimed new line of cars, trucks, and SUVs to its wide selection of Certified Pre-Owned vehicles, the dealer's hassle-free, honest bargains approach to motor sales has garnered them a well-earned reputation for affordable, reliable service. Whether you're a first-time Honda buyer or merely looking for an upgrade, we've compiled a list of our favorite head turners from Honda's 2020 line.

Honda HR-V Crossover

Nothing says "adventure" like a good crossover, and the Honda HR-V is no exception. Easy on gas and even easier on the eyes, its comfortable, stylish design leaves quite an impression, while an adjustable interior provides room for everything from camping gear to mountain bikes. Throw in adrenaline-pumping, optional four-wheel drive, a strong resale value, and a 141-horsepower engine, and you've got this year's all-around best buy.

Honda Fit

As the quintessential "big brother" to the Honda HR-V, the Honda Fit appeals to many of the same budget-minded customers. Lovingly referred to as Honda's "little clown car," it earns a lot of the same recognition for being able to fit way more than expected, with multi-way folding seats, smooth handling, and more than adequate fuel efficiency to wrap up the package. As practical as it is versatile, the Honda Fit fits comfortably on our list.

Honda Civic Si & Type R

Speedsters and suspension lovers have drooled over Honda's Civic Type R since its introduction in 1997, and things don't look to be changing in 2020. With its in-your-face bodywork and standard 306 horsepower, it gives its drivers just as much as they can take from it, adding unparalleled grip, a freshly updated brake system, and a redesigned shifter for good measure.

Likewise, Honda's new Civic Si Sedan and Coupe models offer slightly less power, but no major drops in performance or reliability. Boosted by a 205-horsepower turbocharged engine, driver-assistance technology, and spectacular handling, both versions of the Civic Si provide a fun, fast track to your next getaway.

Honda Odyssey

Those in need of a smooth, steady ride for the family need look no further than the Honda Odyssey. With customizable options ranging from Honda CabinWatch, to an available rear entertainment system linked with Honda CabinTalk, your new Honda Minivan comes fully ready to keep the kids entertained long past that second and third road trip hour. Additionally, enhanced climate control options and comfortable seating for up to seven passengers guarantees a blissful ride, making your next vacation enjoyable from start to finish.

Honda Pilot & Passport

For the SUV lovers of the bunch, Honda's Pilot and Passport vehicles offer comparable seating and reliability to the Honda Odyssey, wrapped in off-road packages that include optional all-wheel drive, a 280-horsepower V6, and compatibility with Apple CarPlay and Android Auto respectively.

Safety features like driver-assistance technology and automated emergency braking come standard, while impressive fuel economy ratings give both SUVs a competitive edge versus similar offerings from Mazda, Toyota, and BMW.

Honda CR-V

Earning its own spot on our list, the fan and family favorite Honda CR-V maintains its position as a best-in-class, 5-time Kelly Blue Book-certified Best Buy. Offered in both standard and hybrid trims, the former comes with an impressive turbocharged, 190-horsepower engine, Apple CarPlay and Android Auto compatibility, and many of the safety features found in the Honda Odyssey, Passport, and Pilot models.

Fuel efficiency remains excellent in both trims, with the CR-V Hybrid offering an extra 8-12 MPG highway, as well as a quieter ride overall. True to their reputation, both the base and hybrid CR-V models offer some of the best crash test ratings in the industry, earning them the tried and true "Momda" nickname and seal of approval.

Honda Accord, Clarity, & Insight

For the most tech-progressive customers, Honda's assortment of eco-friendly electric and hybrid vehicles continues to impress with the 2020 Accord, Clarity, and Insight. Packed with a stunning assortment of environmental upgrades, the Accord regularly wins Editor's Choice awards from auto enthusiasts worldwide, while the Clarity and Insight models offer the chance to tour your favorite city cleanly and efficiently with an estimated 47-49 Hwy/City MPG rating.

Likewise, eco-conscious interiors made up of recycled ultrasuede provide a forward-thinking atmosphere. With thousands of plug-in stations across the country and the option to utilize gas, electric, or both for longer drives, Honda's electric and hybrid options provide the perfect blend of style, comfort, and compromise.

Happy with our list or feel we missed something? Comment below and tell us your favorite Honda from 2020's lineup and why! With additional cars, trucks, and SUVs to choose from, we encourage all of our readers to check out <https://automobiles.honda.com/> for more information on new and upcoming vehicles.