Alaska Airlines has partnered with Infinteach to create Fly for All, an app for families who fly. Designed for first-time flyers, kids traveling alone as unaccompanied minors, or guests with cognitive and developmental disabilities including autism, Fly for All helps take the anxiety out of air travel by walking them through the steps needed to get ready to fly.

We know air travel can be stressful. At Alaska Airlines, we're dedicated to helping all our guests fly smart and land happy.

- Fly for All is split into five easy-to-use sections:
- Explore
Learn about the things you will do and see as you get ready to fly.
 - Schedule
Use this travel checklist to mark off steps of your trip as you finish them.
 - Communicate
Choose buttons that can speak for you, to ask the people around you for help.
 - Play
Take a break during your trip and play our matching game.
 - More
Customize your profile, find travel tips, find links to detailed information about our accessibility services, connect to our social media, share feedback, and rate our app.

Thank You Alaska!
 Alaska Airlines is truly the only airline that cares for their customers. I was able to set a schedule for my unaccompanied minor son so he knew where to go in the airport. Thanks!

Great app for people with autism!
 Love how I could watch videos and set a schedule. So helpful for individuals with autism!
