

Military and veteran benefits

Alaska Airlines salutes members of the United States military.

We are so very grateful for the service of active duty military and veterans, and we appreciate the personal sacrifices that they and their families make for us all. Here are just a few of the ways that we here at Alaska Airlines have found to say thank you.

We're here to help you fly.

If you're serving and have a trip on the horizon, we've come up with a few ways to make it simpler and more affordable.

Book military fares.

We offer special military fares to active duty military and their dependents in some markets. These fares apply to service members traveling on an official excused absence, and those discharged from active duty military service in any one of the US military agencies.

Check 5 bags for free.

For active duty US military personnel, and military dependents with travel orders, we'll check your first 5 bags for free.

Visit an Alaska Lounge.

Effective May 27, 2019, Alaska Lounge day passes are complimentary for active duty US military personnel who are traveling on orders. You must be able to verify your active status, provide orders, and be ticketed to fly on an Alaska flight departing within 3 hours.

Save on snack attacks.

Did you know that all members of the military and their families get a 15% discount on food purchased during a flight with us? Just show your military ID to our flight attendant, and then prepare to snack.

We've got your back.

No matter what direction life takes you after your service, we'll continue looking for ways to support you and your families, and to show you that we're grateful for all you've done.

Receive a Veterans Advantage discount.

We offer a 5% discount on our flights for members of Veterans Advantage. If you're already a member, sign into your VetRewards to redeem your discount. If you're not yet a member, enroll today to start saving on Alaska Airlines flights.

Flying with Fido?

Moving can be hard for military families, and it can be even more difficult for those with four-legged family members to consider. That's why we offer active military members a discount: transport your pets with our cargo team for $150 plus tax, anywhere we fly.

Get onboard early.

When it's time fly, listen closely to the announcements at the gate. Our gate agent will offer active members of the military the opportunity to board the flight early. Stow your bags and settle into your seat to relax before the most guests.

Thinking about your next career?

We'd love to help you join our team. Alaska Airlines has a long history of recruiting military talent. We work with groups like Camo2Commerce to learn how to help service members and their spouses use their military training and experience in civilian positions. Our Alaska Military Employee Resource Group supports current and future military and veteran employees with career development, promotes education and awareness, and provides networking opportunities.

Sharing miles helps.

We've made it simple for our guests to donate extra Mileage Plan miles to the Hero Miles program, to help injured service members and their families to stay connected during treatment.

That's one big thank you.

Once they helped launch the Fallen Soldier program, the same group of employees advocated for the creation of our largest tribute to the military: our Honoring Those Who Serve aircraft.

Thank you, heroes.

We are fortunate to work with the Honor Flight Network to provide complimentary travel for veterans on specially planned tours of Washington D.C., to honor them for their military service.

Pay fitting farewells.

The conversations and dedication of a thoughtful group of employees were the catalyst for the creation of the Alaska Airlines Fallen Soldier program, which allows us to pay proper tribute to soldiers on the way home to their final resting places.

It's our pleasure.

We are gratified that employee-led efforts like those above, along with tributes from individual employees, and our company's work as a whole, have been recognized with a Freedom Award from the Department of Defense. It has been our honor to help service members and veterans however we can, and we promise to keep at it.
